KELLY SEATED; TELLS PLANS

BUS AND TRUCK RULE MEASURE BEFORE SENATE

Bill Proposes U. S. Own Railways.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The senate today undertook to break its legislative log jam by consideration of the administration's bus and truck regulation bill simultaneously with the introduction of other measures for government ownership of the railways and subsidies to develop the merchant marine.

The merchant marine bill, providing three forms of ship subsidies and a federal maritime authority, was introduced by Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], chairman of the commerce commission, with the administration's support. Senator Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], chairman of the interstate commerce committee, introduced the railway ownership bill without expressed administration backing, but it is in line with theories advanced by Railway Coördinator Joseph B. Eastman. It is given virtually no chance of passage at this session.

Wheeler Manages Bill.

Senator Wheeler, as chairman of the interstate commerce committee, is also managing the motor transportation bill, which he described as part of a complete and coördinated program of legislation touching all forms of transportation. He said that federal regulation of motor carriers was favored by the coördinator, the interstate commerce commission, the state regulatory commissions, the bus industry, part of the truck industry and part of the shippers.

"Any fear that buses and trucks are going to be regulated in the interest of the railways is absolutely unfounded," he declared.

The bill provides for regulation by the I. C. C. of all forms of "for hire" motor transportation engaged in interstate commerce, including both common and contract carriers. No regulation is proposed for private carriers whose operators own the goods transported, but the commission is authorized to regulate the "qualifications and maximum hours of service of employés and safety of operation and equipment."

Program Is Defended.

"The present chaotic transportation conditions are not satisfactory to investors, labor, shippers, or the carriers themselves," Wheeler said. "The competitive struggle is to a large extent unequal and unfair, inasmuch as the railroads are comprehensively regulated, the water carriers are regulated in a lesser degree and the interstate motor carriers are scarcely regulated at all."

Wheeler also said the interstate commerce committee had given consideration to a water carriers' bill and hoped to report it out favorably in time for possible action by the senate at this session.

Debate on the bus and truck bill was perfunctory today, concerned merely with committee amendments, all of which were adopted, but considerable opposition is expected when the final debates begin tomorrow.

Board of Five Proposed.

The merchant marine bill contains a declaration of policy carrying out President Roosevelt's dictum that the United States should have a merchant marine sufficient to carry at least half of the country's foreign commerce and capable of serving as a naval auxiliary in time of war. To effectuate this policy the bill would create a "United States maritime authority," consisting of five members appointed by the President, with senatorial confirmation, and receiving $12,000 a year each.

This authority would have power to study all maritime problems and their relationship to trade and commerce, determine the subsidies to be paid, study the sources of revenue and possible economies and act as a liaison between other government agencies and trade associations. The postmaster general would be authorized to determine the trade routes to be used for the mails and make contracts on a basis up to 80 cents a pound, as under existing law, but nothing coming out of the postoffice department's appropriation would concern the subsidies themselves, Senator Copeland said. He said the postmaster general's whole concern would be contracts, not subsidies.

Could Cancel Contracts.

The authority would be empowered to review existing contracts, totaling some $27,000,000, and readjust them if desirable. If the contractors did not agree the President would be empowered to cancel or modify the agreements.

The three forms of subsidies are "construction," "operating" and "trade promotion." The authority would first consider applications for the outfitting

ASSASSIN SCARE STIRS LEAGUE; GUARD LEADERS

Police Patrol Geneva Building.

GENEVA, April 15.—(AP)—A terrorist scare which gave half of Europe the chills today induced Geneva police to take extraordinary precautions to protect statesmen gathered here for the league of nations council session.

The league of nations building was virtually an armed fortress. Because of the reported arrest at Marseilles of two plotters against the lives of prominent statesmen here, the ordinarily strong police protection at the league headquarters was reënforced. Police officers also patroled the hotels where the various delegates are staying.

Leaders Marked for Death.

Later reports from Marseilles said there was no foundation for the terrorist scare, but the extra vigilance was not relaxed. The terrorist rumors persisted. The reported plot was said to have included the assassination of Premier Mussolini of Italy at Stresa and attacks on Foreign Ministers Pierre Laval of France, Nicholas Titulescu of Rumania and Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia. A reliable informant tonight revealed that an attempt was made on Benes' life two years ago in the league building and that the would-be assassin was arrested and the incident hushed up.

In view of the alarming reports, the visiting statesmen are being accompanied by detectives wherever they go.

[Marseilles police said they had arrested Eda Caroni and Rudolph Gunscher, a Swiss couple, because the age on the woman's passport did not check with figures given to Swiss authorities. They were returned to the Swiss frontier. The two were detained April 10, upon their arrival from Tunis.]

FRANCE URGES BLOCKADE

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, April 15.—Encouraged by the results of the three power conference at Stresa, Italy, France today sought to pin down the little powers represented on the league of nations council to pledge a universal blockade of Germany in case Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler repudiates what is left of the treaty of Versailles.

A secret meeting of the council on the French protest against German rearmament was held this afternoon, but the day was primarily devoted to back stage conversations among the delegations with representatives of England, France, and Italy trying to convince the suspicious small fry that everything is according to Hoyle.

From early morning until far into the night Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France conferred with the delegates of the little entente [Czechoslovakia, Jugo-Slavia, and Rumania] and the Balkan entente [Greece, Turkey, Rumania, and Jugo-Slavia]. He also talked with delegates of the Baltic and Scandinavian states.

Long Talk with Litvinov.

Interest, however, chiefly centered around the French foreign minister's long interview with Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign commissar, and, even more important, the talk he had with Josef Beck, Polish foreign minister.

It was reported that the French encountered a snag in their scheme for automatic economic sanctions against any country which denounces a treaty unilaterally. The Poles, because of their friendship with Germany, are hostile to the idea. Denmark, too, is unwilling to participate in such a scheme.

If Laval is unable to swing the council to the French blockade proposal, he will try to obtain approval for France's mutual assistance pact with Russia in a council resolution. It is considered likely the council will satisfy France's complaint against Germany by some kind of a vote in principle, and then will turn the actual drafting of the resolution over to a subcommittee which will proceed to water it down.

Assurance for France.

The real issue back of all this jockying for position is not a question of voting a platonic resolution condemning Germany, but reassuring France against a possible German move to militarize the Rhineland in violation of the peace treaty.

One tangible result of the Stresa talks was manifested in the council meeting. The Ethiopian delegate pleaded with the council to take urgent steps to have Italy cease its military preparations on the Ethiopian borders. But the plea was ignored on the grounds that since the dispute is being arbitrated peace is not endangered.

Another secret meeting of the council is scheduled for tomorrow morning, with a public session to follow in the afternoon.

TRIPLETS BORN IN ABANDONED SCHOOL EXPECTED TO LIVE

Central City, Pa., April 15.—[Special.]—Boy triplets, born Friday in an abandoned schoolhouse to destitute parents, today were reported doing well, with a doctor in attendance and a supply of milk on its way to them from relief headquarters here.

Dr. Thayer Lyon, who was summoned to the 22 year old mother's aid, said he at first had thought none of the principals in the case would survive. He said he found the mother without even a bed to lie upon, her strength gone from hunger and privation.

The young parents, Walter Kiser, 23, and his wife, had sought shelter in the decayed old school building in Shade township of Somerset county because they had nowhere else to go. They have one other child, Aubrey, 22 months old.

After the arrival of the triplets Dr. Lyon solicited milk, clothing, and bedding from neighbors, and later reported the case to county relief offices here. Until cribs arrived he made beds for two of the newcomers in a packing case and placed the third in a doll's crib.

KARPIS BOBS UP IN A BOTTLE AND JAIL CLAIMS 'PAL

There was magic in the whisky that James Burke, 26 years old, 1354 West 79th street, drank Sunday evening. He went to the phone and called the detective bureau.

"If you want to catch Alvin Karpis," he said, "go to a saloon at 916 West 63rd street. He's 'lapping 'em up there.'"

Then at 11 p. m. a stranger walked into the bureau and asked to see Karpis.

"I'm the fellow who told you where to get him," he said.

It was James Burke—identifying himself as one James Radcliffe of Bishop street, and adding: "Karpis was down in Michigan City with me and Dillinger; we're old pals."

Karpis' record was looked up and failed to show he ever had been in Michigan City prison. There was no record of James Radcliffe. But Mr. Radcliffe-Burke was locked up for the night.

Yesterday he had forgotten that he was "Karpis' old pal" and couldn't figure out why he was in a cell. His mother eventually gave him and police the explanation.

"He is a good boy," she said, "but when he drinks that stuff he thinks up wild stories."

Somewhat warmer weather is in store for Chicago this afternoon, after more than 24 hours of wintry gales, subfreezing temperatures, and snow, according to Forecaster C. A. Donnel. He expects the mercury to rise by tomorrow to a normal 54 degrees. The afternoon high reading today, says the forecast, may reach 40.

Temperatures descended to the freezing point at 8 a. m. yesterday, and remained in the 20's all day, dropping at 6 p. m. to 26, a figure which equaled the low mark for April 15, set in 1928. Officially the mercury is expected to shrink to 24 or 25 early this morning, with a range of from 20 to 25 above zero in the suburbs.

Cold Wave Widespread.

Last night the cold was general throughout the Great Lakes region, and the upper Mississippi valley. Temperatures reported were from 15 to 26 degrees below normal. The cold front extended as far south as Parkersburg, W. Va. From the Mississippi river east, strong winds equaling the 30 mile an hour gale here, prevailed, with the center of the storm area moving out to the northeast Atlantic coast.

Heavy freighters on Lake Erie yesterday returned to their ports after battling high seas. Sand and mud stirred up from the bottom of Lake Michigan filtered into the city water system, clouding drinking water.

Squalls Beset Chicagoans.

Pedestrians found winter's brief return bout yesterday took many forms. Sudden snow squalls, described by the forecaster as "baby blizzards," made walking difficult, but a few minutes later, died as the sun shone through briefly. Melting as fast as it struck the ground, the snow totaled only .03 of an inch, a not unusual phenomenon for April, judging from the meteorological records.

The northwest gale had one beneficial result. It turned the course of the western dust storm southeast at Des Moines, Ia., and saved Chicago from the choking grit. Indiana, however, found the swirling dust intermingling with snow storms.

Guard Plants from Frost.

Fear was expressed last night by government agricultural officials that the widespread freeze would kill or severely damage fruit and young field crops in Illinois, Missouri, and Indiana. Smudge pots smoldered in orchards.

Truck growers and home gardeners in the Chicago metropolitan area last night spread protective coverings over young shoots to save them from the frost.

CORRECTS HISTORY'S DATE ON CHANGE 13 IN U. S. CONSTITUTION

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—An error of three years in an important date in the constitutional history of the United States has just been discovered and corrected by the state department. The change makes the eleventh amendment to the constitution three years older.

Histories designate President John Adams' proclamation on Jan. 8, 1798, as the effective date of the eleventh amendment.

Research in old and yellowed files, however, was reported tonight by the state department to have disclosed that the amendment became effective on Feb. 7, 1795, the date on which it was ratified by North Carolina, the 12th and necessary ratifying state.

The capital was then in Philadelphia, the department explained. Several of the state legislatures neglected to notify Secretary of State Pickering until nearly three years after 12 of the fifteen states then composing the Union had ratified the amendment.

RESCUE 3 FROM FLAMING HOME; WOMAN MAY DIE

Two men and a woman, overcome by smoke and burned in a fire that attacked a small dwelling at 458 North Green street early today, were carried out by three policemen of the Racine avenue station.

The victims, who were asleep at the time the fire started, are Mrs. Mary Posionbauer, 40 years old, and Theodore Kasky, 35 years old, residents of the building, and John Walsky, 38 years old, 1217 West Madison street. All were taken to the County hospital, where it was said the condition of the woman was critical. Fireman Patrick Scott of Tower No. 2 was slightly injured when a window was blown out by the flames.

Sergt. Leo Block and Policemen Frank Czek and Raymond Davidson discovered the fire and ran in to warn the residents of the story and a half structure. They aroused several men, who escaped uninjured, after carrying out those who were burned. The fire was confined to the one building.

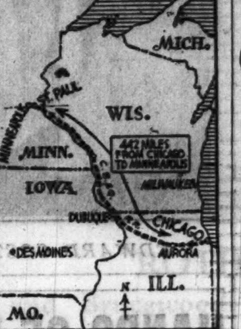
Zephyrs Zip to St. Paul and Back in a Day

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.



In two nonstop trips the new twin Zephyrs of the Burlington railroad yesterday carried some 150 Chicagoans to St. Paul for lunch, gave them two and a half hours in the Twin Cities, and had them back in the Union station here at 10:15 o'clock last night. The two trains left Chicago at 7:30 a. m., and in their day's journey traveled a total of 882 miles, averaged about 74 miles an hour on each run, and reached a maximum speed of 103 miles an hour.

After being christened by Frances and Marion Beeler, 12 year old twin sisters of Winnetka, the Zephyrs left the Union station on parallel tracks. Shortly afterward one of them moved ahead and preceded the other on the 431 mile run to St. Paul. The first train reached St. Paul at 1:15 p. m., and the second arrived about 20 minutes later. Both then traveled the ten miles to Minneapolis.

Buck Winds and Dust.

In the morning run the streamline qualities of the two trains were given a real test as the Zephyrs bucked strong head winds, which, it was estimated, reduced their speed about 10 miles an hour. The air conditioning equipment was given a workout as the trains rushed through clouds of dust blown from the prairies by the winds. In both instances the trains maintained their schedules and carried their passengers without discomfort or dirt.

The two trains took the rolling country of northern Illinois easily. They reached the Mississippi near Savanna. 146 miles from Chicago, at 9:35. At Savanna the trains turned to run almost 300 miles north along the east bank of the Mississippi.

The trains cruised at a speed of around 80 miles an hour for long stretches beside the river. On the northward trip the top speed reached by the first train was about 90 miles an hour.

Driver Works in Comfort.

Up forward in the power car the driver was seated as comfortably as a motorist behind his wheel. Beside him sat an observer wearing a fedora hat and a business suit. All the driver had to do was to look ahead and watch his controls, which were as easy to operate as those on a city street car.

The power car contains a straight eight Diesel engine which gives 660 horse power, of which 600 is used to pull the train and 60 for auxiliary purposes, such as lighting. The engine has the appearance of a huge automobile engine. Instead of the power from the Diesel going directly to the wheels, however, it is transmitted through an electrical generating plant, giving the Zephyr the operating smoothness of electric trains.

Take Curves at High Speed.

The Zephyrs took the many long, easy curves along the Mississippi without slacking speed. There was some minor side movement for the

LISTS PROJECTS FOR CHICAGO'S WORK PROGRAM

Federal officials have been given a list of improvements costing more than $700,000,000 from which to choose the projects financed in Chicago from the five billion dollar work relief fund, Mayor Kelly disclosed last evening in his inaugural address. He spoke before the city council and some 1,200 guests, all who could be admitted to the council chambers in the city hall.

Mayor Kelly made it plain that the final say on these public works ventures rests with Washington officials, not with the city administration, and also that the seven hundred million figure represents the total of projects available, not the amount which he expects to be authorized. Previously he had estimated that the city will get 150 million dollars in outright grants and 50 millions in loans for self-liquidating projects.

Seeks Job for Every Worker.

"Chicago has always been a city of workers and we will keep it that way," said Mayor Kelly. "Work and wages—not unemployment—that is our goal for every Chicagoan able to work. We hope to give every earnest and willing man and woman in Chicago the opportunity to earn a decent living. Nothing is of greater importance.

"To aid in getting more work and more wages, the city has planned projects involving the expenditure of more than seven hundred million dollars. These have been submitted to the federal government for examination, consideration, and approval of such as they deem most advantageous.

"I hope and confidently expect that a large part of this program will be approved by Washington. It provides for public improvements, construction, and betterments which are useful, beneficial, and necessary. This program does not invade the realm of prvate affairs.

Sewers, Streets, Hospital, Airport.

"It contemplates the building of sewers, the increase of water pressure, filtration plants, a maternity hospital for poor mothers, enlargement of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, resurfacing of 400 miles of macadam streets, rehabilitation of the police and fire alarm systems, elimination of dangerous grade crossings, construction of adequate airport facilities, building of new bridges, enlargement of playgrounds and beaches, building of highways, construction of garbage incinerators, improvement of street lighting, and other projects.

"To be sure, such a program involves the expenditure of an enormous sum of money, but none of it is for fads, artificial beauty, or unnecessary extravagances. There will be no improvements which will increase the taxes on real estate or personal property or impose any special assessments."

Asks New Traction Ordinance.

In only one other respect, concerning a traction settlement, did Mayor Kelly touch specifically on his program for the next four years. Of traction he said:

"A proper traction ordinance must be passed so that our people who depend on trolley cars and other forms of public transportation may ride to and from work and shopping with comfort and reasonable speed. And they should be able to do this at the lowest possible fare that will not interfere with just wages.

"Any traction ordinance passed while I am mayor will stand the full light of day. It must provide reasonable compensation to the city of Chicago. It cannot be perpetual, and the new setup must provide sufficient financial strength so that this problem can be solved permanently."

"Build for the Future."

The keynote of the mayor's speech was a plea for the coöperation of every citizen, "that we shall make Chicago the greatest city in the world."

"The spirit of Chicago is the spirit of building for the future, for the boys and girls of today and those yet unborn," Mayor Kelly concluded. "We will keep faith with them, just as our fathers kept the faith for us. I dedicate myself, with God's help, toward that purpose, and Chicago will travel on that high road."

Former Gov. Edward F. Dunne, Patrick A. Nash, chairman of the Democratic county committee, and State's Attorney Courtney made brief speeches following the mayor's address. Gov. Horner was also present, with virtually all of the leaders of the Democratic party in the city.

Thomas B. Bowler [25th] was elected president pro-tem of the council, succeeding Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th], who became chairman of the finance committee. Ald. Bowler was made an ex-officio member of all the standing committees under the rules adopted last night.

The slate of committee chairmanships, vice chairmanships, and memberships presented by the committee on committees was approved. The only major change in the slate announced Sunday when the committee returned from Miami was the substitution of Ald. Robert R. Jackson [3d] for Ald. Thomas J. Daley [7th] as vice chairman of the committee on harbors, wharves, and bridges.

The council approved the $2,000,000 bond of City Treasurer Gustav A. Brand. Mr. Brand announced last evening that George F. Hughes, at present secretary of the county board of tax appeals, will be appointed assistant treasurer.

The next regular meeting of the council will be held on the afternoon of May 1.

HOME RULE DRIVE BEGUN

A bill to restore to Chicago its control over public utilities, lost 22 years ago, and to give the city council complete power to settle the traction problem, will be introduced in the general assembly at Springfield today.

The measure is sponsored by Mayor Kelly, who announced it after a conference with Gov. Horner, shortly before the mayor's inauguration for a second term yesterday. The bill is one of Mayor Kelly's first post-election acts in behalf of the city.

The legislative measure would give the city council full power to permit or deny the right of street car, elevated and bus companies to use the city streets. It also would give the city control over grade crossings, the Chicago Tunnel company, and the gas, electricity, and telephone companies.

Three Years to Get Permit.

Under the bill no utility company could operate in Chicago without a franchise or license from the city council. Each company would have three years from the date when the measure goes into effect to get a permit or make arrangements to remove its equipment. The measure, it is said, would compel the Chicago Surface Lines, which have been operating for years on special permits, to reach some agreement with the city or go out of business or sell out.

The same would be true of the Chicago Motor Coach company, which has been operating under a permit from the Illinois commerce commission. The bus company has refused to get a city franchise on the ground that none is required under the statutes.

Mayor Kelly's home rule bill would place the city in complete command of the franchise situation with the right to determine what utilities could use its streets and underground facilities and to fix the standards of service. Under the bill, if a utility should be refused a city franchise it could not go to the Illinois commerce commission for a permit to operate. The commission, however, would retain control over rates and fares and also its power over issues of securities.

Bill Drafted by Sexton.

Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton and his first assistant, Joseph F. Grossman, drafted the bill. If passed by the legislature the measure will require the approval of Chicago voters at a referendum before it becomes law.

Chicago lost its control over public utilities in 1913. In that year a bill sponsored by Gov. Edward F. Dunne created the Illinois public utilities commission. Later the name was changed to the Illinois commerce commission.

Mr. Grossman said that the 1913 act was never intended to take away from the city the right to regulate the use of its streets by utilities. But the courts, he said, always construed the act as placing all control in the hands of the state commission.

"This proposed measure, returning to the city its just control over the use of its streets, will in all likelihood be the means of solving the transit problem," Mr. Grossman said.

Irving Weitzman Granted New Delay of Prison Trip

Judge Harry B. Miller of the Criminal court yesterday allowed Irving Weitzman, south side bakery owner sentenced to life in the penitentiary for the murder of Eli Daiches, a second stay of prison mittimus until May 6 in order to give Attorney Frank S. Sims more time to complete an appeal to the state Supreme court. Weitzman has been in the county jail since his conviction last February.

JAMES CERMAK GETS 1-14 YEARS FOR AUTO DEATH

James Cermak, 22 years old, rural route No. 2, La Grange, was sentenced yesterday to one to fourteen years in the penitentiary for manslaughter. Judge Walter P. Steffen of the Criminal court imposed the sentence on the finding of a jury six weeks ago that Cermak was guilty of criminal negligence when his automobile struck and killed a man on Feb. 7, 1934.

Judge Steffen allowed Cermak to remain at liberty on his bond of $5,000 pending an appeal to the Supreme court.

Cermak was found guilty at his second trial, the first jury having disagreed. He was the driver of an automobile that crashed into the rear of a stalled car at Winona and Ogden avenues, Berwyn, killing Leroy Susanka, 22 years old, 3720 Home avenue, Berwyn. Cermak admitted he had been drinking, but denied being intoxicated. Evidence presented by Assistant State's Attorney Robert L. Donigan and John Phillips showed Cermak was driving more than 50 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Habeas Corpus Plea Filed for Wounded Rosenbaum

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed yesterday before Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court in behalf of Sanford [Gimp] Rosenbaum, bodyguard of Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, who was wounded three times by an unidentified assailant in the loop Saturday. Rosenbaum is recovering at the Bridewell hospital, but physicians said yesterday his condition would not permit him to be moved safely.

Stopping his automobile after he injured three boys at Jackson boulevard and Laramie avenue late yesterday afternoon, a motorist placed the most seriously hurt of the boys in the car and drove away, ostensibly to take him to a hospital. A few minutes later the boy was found several blocks away where he had been dumped unconscious in a prairie.

The victim is Edward Costello, 9 years old, 5535 Quincy street. At the Oak Park hospital, where he was taken by another motorist who saw him lying in the field, his death was considered likely. The other boys, who incurred only bruises, are Charles Weeks, 10 years old, 5334 Jackson boulevard, and Donald Territo, 9 years old, 5305 Quincy street.

The Fillmore street police sent out a message for all police to be on the lookout for the driver, described as about 35 years old and wearing a brown suit. The glass in the headlight of the car was broken when it struck the boys.

Continue Harvey Inquest.

The inquest into the death of Carl Gebert, 38 years old, 12947 Elm street, Blue Island, who died yesterday morning of injuries incurred on Friday when the automobile he was driving collided with another at 147th and Wood streets, Harvey, was continued yesterday until May 21. Deputy Coroner Larry Rassmussen was told by the police that three other persons were injured in the accident and the continuance was granted to permit their recovery in order that they might testify.

The others injured in the accident, all riding in the second car, are William Russell, 54 years old, 6437 University avenue, his wife, and Mrs. L. DeYoung, 52 years old, 947 Leland avenue.

The death of Gebert and two others brought the 1935 automobile trafic toll in Cook county to 269. At 4 p. m. yesterday 217 had been killed in trafic accidents within the Chicago city limits and 4,153 injured. The other deaths:

Mrs. Louise Bullard, 63 years old, 216 North 2d avenue, Maywood, died yesterday in St. Mary's hospital of injuries incurred on March 25 when the automobile in which she rode, driven by Marion Cobden, 315 South 6th avenue, Maywood, collided at Grand and Sacramento avenues with the car of Tony Judge, 220 South Ashland avenue.

Ralph Ford, 19 years old, 500 Home avenue, Oak Park. Fatally hurt early today in a collision of two cars at Lake street and Wolf road, Melrose Park. Ford had stepped from a car driven by Herbert Reichart, 118 Circle avenue, Forest Park, and was standing beside it when Michael Moreno, 306 North 5th avenue, Maywood, crashed into it. Both cars were overturned and Ford was crushed to death.

CHILD A BRAVE VICTIM

In Ravenswood hospital, yellow haired Carolyne Oswald, 4 years old, has been bound to a bed for six weeks with her broken legs fastened up at a right angle to her body. Carolyne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oswald, 6306 North Richmond street, ran into the street before her home on Feb. 28 and was struck by the automobile of Herbert Schindewolf, 2911 Arthur avenue.

Yesterday, under a canopy of colored balloons, she held court. The royal subjects included Schnozzle, a wooly dog, and five beaming dolls. She told how she was hurt.

"But Kine-Kine," her father interposed, "What did I tell you that day just before you went out to play?"

"Stay on the sidewalk!" She imitated his gruff voice.

"Yes," he said, then turning to his visitors, "you see, I have six children and Kine-Kine is the second one to get hurt by a car. I've got a boy, 12 years old, who was maimed for life when he, too, was 4. A car ran into us. The police chased that man three miles before he'd stop."

When a cameraman asked to photograph Carolyne, Mr. Oswald at first demurred.

"I don't want her to be any 'horrible example,'" he said, "but if using the picture will keep other children out of the streets and other drivers from speeding, I'll be glad to help."

"Kine-Kine" smiled.

SUES HUSBAND

MRS. J. J. FINLAY.

Mrs. Jane Scriven Finlay, former Chicago society woman who now works in New York, has filed suit for separate maintenance in the Kane county Circuit court in Geneva against John Jerome Finlay, advertising man, it was revealed yesterday.

Her bill, filed by Attorney Lloyd A. Faxon, charges incompatibility, alleging that Finlay displayed toward her "an offensive self-righteousness attitude." Attorney Robert E. Cantwell Jr. for Finlay said he will seek dismissal of the bill on the ground that his client is a legal resident of Cook county.

The Finlays were married in the home of Mrs. Ogden T. McClurg at 209 Lake Shore drive on Oct. 24, 1928, and separated on June 30, 1934, when she went to New York with their only child, Betty, 5 years old. Mrs. Finlay is a daughter of William H. Scriven who was killed in an automobile accident in 1927. Mr. Finlay is a partner in the advertising company of Aubrey Moore & Wallace, Inc., 410 North Michigan avenue.

MAYOR LAUNCHES WORK ON OLSON RUG CO. ADDITION

Mayor Kelly yesterday morning broke ground for a $415,000 six story addition to the Olson Rug company plant at the northwest corner of Crawford and Diversey. The new unit, designed by Weiss & Niestadt, will be ready for operation by September, Walter E. Olson, president of the firm, stated. It will materially increase the number of employés, now totaling over a thousand.

"It is men like my old friend, Walter E. Olson, and others who are leading America out of the depression," said the mayor. "He has the courage to go ahead with an enterprise which will aid materially in supplying work for the building trades and furnishing steady employment for residents of this neighborhood."

Olson outlined a brief history of his company which was started by his father, O. B. Olson, in 1874 in a cottage at Ohio and Ashland. He told of the growth of the company and of its financial worries in 1934, when 78 per cent of the bondholders voluntarily expressed their confidence by offering to have their bonds extended instead of accepting payment offered them.

NEW EVANSTON CITY OFFICIALS ASSUME OFFICE

Evanston last night installed its new city council and municipal officials. Eleven sitting aldermen were seated as well as the five elected April 2. They were Alan Ashcraft Jr. [3d], County Highway Policeman Bennie Rubin [5th], Eddy S. Brandt [6th], Harold E. Bailey [7th], and Hugo Pape [8th]. Mayor Charles H. Bartlett, and City Clerk Edward Bell, who were reëlected, and City Treasurer Henry D. Penfield, also took their oaths of office. The mayor reappointed the heads of the various city departments, including Chief of Police William O. Freeman.

SALES TAX BILL DUE FOR ACTION IN SENATE TODAY

Horner Advisers Expect Kinder Reception.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—Relief, marital legislation, and bills said to make drastic changes in the state's labor laws are the important subjects the legislature will deal with at this week's session.

The sales tax increase and public utility bills, which Gov. Horner and Mayor Kelly of Chicago are supporting in order to raise part of the 36 million dollar fund saddled upon the state by the Federal Emergency Relief administration, will be considered in the senate tomorrow.

Identical measures failed to pass the house last week. At no time were they within 40 votes of the 102 required for emergency enactment, so the Democratic house strategists decided to let them die rather than save a breath of life for them by moving to postpone consideration.

Horner Advisers Optimistic.

So now it is the senate's turn to vote. The Democratic membership of that body is more overwhelming, in proportion, than that of the house, and the governor's advisers were optimistic today that something like the 34 necessary votes can be obtained during the week. Passage would send the senate bills to the house for another battle.

The governor was in Chicago tonight attending Mayor Kelly's inauguration. He was expected to confer with the mayor on the relief bills while there.

Also on the senate calendar are three bills which have attracted much support in their provisions for abolition of major evils in the marriage, divorce, and "heart balm racket" laws.

First consideration probably will be given the McSweeney house bill to outlaw suits for heart balm. If enacted into law this measure would prevent the filing of civil suits on charges of breach of promise or alienation of affections.

Passage Expected in Week.

It passed the house overwhelmingly and has been advanced to third reading in the senate without objections. Senator R. V. Graham [Dem., Cicero], the president pro tempore, is handling the bill and believes it will be passed this week.

Also on third reading are the bills to limit payment of separate maintenance to two years and to abolish "gin" marriages by requiring couples to obtain marriage licenses three days before the ceremonies are to be performed. Graham sponsored these measures at the request of Judge Rudolph Desort of Chicago and other jurists in the divorce courts.

Oppose 8 Hour Law.

Many members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association are expected in Springfield Wednesday to oppose passage of the women's eight hour law in the senate and proposed amendments to the workmen's compensation act which will be considered by the house judiciary committee. Senator Francis J. Loughran [Dem., Chicago] sponsored the eight hour law and Representative R. G. Soderstrom [Rep., Streator], president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, introduced the compensation act amendments.

Bulletins of the manufacturers' association are urging defeat of both measures. James L. Donnelly, executive vice president, declared that the compensation act amendments constitute "the most drastic and unfair measure which the organized labor group thus far has devised and would result in an average increase in the cost of accidental injuries of approximately 85 per cent."

JOSEPH P. SAVAGE.

Joseph P. Savage, a Republican holdover member of the board of education, sent his resignation to Mayor Kelly yesterday.

"I regret," said the letter, "the necessity of this action, which is due to the press of personal matters caused by the reorganization of my own business."

Prior to his appointment as a school trustee, Mr. Savage served five years as an assistant state's attorney and as chief attorney for the forest preserve district and as special assistant corporation counsel in charge of river straightening matters.

Mayor Kelly said he would accept the resignation and that he expects to appoint "an outstanding educator" to the vacant trusteeship.

MINIMUM BARBER SHOP PRICES SET BY COURT ORDER

McGoorty Issues Injunction Affecting 4,000.

Judge John P. McGoorty of the Superior court yesterday assumed the power of fixing minimum prices for hair cuts, shaves, singes, whisker trims, and applications of tonic in all of Chicago's 4,000 barber shops. As a result, any barber who cuts the prices which the court has fixed could be found guilty of contempt of court and thrown into jail to think over the penalty of not going along with the industry.

Judge McGoorty issued a permanent injunction fixing the price of hair cuts in most shops at 50 cents and shaves at 25 cents. Exceptions were made in favor of department store shops, which are allowed to reduce the hair cut fee 10 cents, and of barber colleges, whose students may practice on the public at 25 cents a hair cut and 10 cents a shave until they have diplomas.

Decision Has Social Aspect.

The assumption of the power to regulate such prices is based, apparently, on the theory that the courts can, at the behest of any group, step in and act to end practices regarded as "ruinous to the industry."

Twice previously this theory has been tested in the local courts and found not wanting. Judge Harry M. Fisher, after a preliminary hearing, issued a temporary injunction fixing a minimum price per pound for wet wash laundry. This ruling was appealed to the Appellate court on the ground that no power to regulate prices was inherent in the court.

The Appellate court held that price fixing in service industries is not a violation of the anti-trust laws and remanded the case for a hearing on its merits.

Dry Cleaning Injunction.

In the other instance a temporary injunction was issued by Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski regulating dry cleaning prices. There was no hearing on the matter and when the case was carried to the Appellate court the court held that a hearing was a necessary preliminary. Both these cases are now pending final settlement.

Judge McGoorty's injunction to the barbers was delivered after he had received the recommendations of Masters in Chancery Harry Smitz and Wirt E. Humphreys. Hearings had already been held before Finley F. Bell, United States labor commissioner.

Master Barbers Behind Action.

The injunction was requested by the Master Barbers' association of Chicago. Among the defendants were three locals of the Journeyman Barbers' union and a number of cut price shop owners. One of the latter is Joseph Baiata, who admitted participating in a $55,000 swindle of the Amalgamated Trust and Savings bank and subsequently was sentenced.

Even "inaugurating, participating in, and encouraging" price cutting is forbidden the whole body of barbers. Provisions are made to require that new barbers obey the established rules.

The price for beard trimming under the ruling (in regular shops) is 50 cents, regardless of the extent of the whisker area. Singes are 35 cents, shampoos 50 cents, and hair tonic 15 cents.

MISSING BOY'S FATHER GETS 3 MORE LETTERS

While the North Damen avenue police again dragged the north branch of the river yesterday in the revived belief that Richard Max Perrot, 4 years old, 4110 Maplewood avenue, missing since April 4, had fallen into the water and drowned, the boy's father, Max, revealed that he had received several letters volunteering information about his son. For several days the hunt had been pressed on the theory that the boy was kidnaped, and a futile trap was laid for the "abductor" after the father received a ransom letter.

Three letters received yesterday were unsigned, and Sergt. James Giblin, in charge of the investigation, expressed the belief that they had been written by cranks. One letter, postmarked Buchanan, Mich., asserted that the boy was buried in a basement in the neighborhood. Another letter declared that the boy was alive and would be returned when the case ceased to be publicized. A third was written in Polish.

Capt. Luke Garrick yesterday ordered the river near Pensacola avenue to be dragged near the place where police dogs Sunday ended a trail which led from the boy's backyard. This part of the river had not been dragged before.

JAILED FOR ROBBING A HOME.

William Willard, 32 years old, was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell by Judge Hartigan in the Felony court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to robbing the home of Philip Trobella, 1002 South State street, on April 2.

STORMS OF DUST ADD TO TOLL OF YEAR OF DROUTH

Wheat Imports Are Expected.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The department of agriculture today reported the drouth situation in the western great plains region to be worse on April 1 than it was a year ago, and pasture conditions the lowest on record for that date.

The report supported the belief that the United States may be forced to import wheat during the coming winter, since the drouth area coincides with what is known as "the nation's bread basket."

Face Critical Conditions.

A "critical situation" was said to prevail in the stricken area because of the poor condition of pastures and ranges. Farmers had depended on early grass to supplement vanishing feed supplies.

Since most of the cattle in the southern part of the drouth belt are too thin to be moved, a continuation of present conditions consequently will result in a still more serious condition, the report said.

It was pointed out that conditions in general through the area affected by the 1934 drouth were partially or wholly relieved by fall and winter precipitation. But the report said the situation has grown worse in the western parts of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, and the eastern parts of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, and New Mexico.

The extremely poor outlook for winter wheat and pasture conditions are the result of the cumulative effects of the several years of drouth, it was said.

The report explained that while the lack of early spring rains favored the blowing of dry soil, and such storms were serious in the areas affected, from a national standpoint the loss of crops from this cause is relatively unimportant, because most of the winter wheat already is dead and spring crops have not yet been planted.

In irrigation districts west of the continental divide the prospects are generally better than at this time last year, the report said.

The deficiency in subsoil moisture in the great wheat producing area "makes it appear improbable that yields this year will exceed the average over the area as a whole," the agriculture department commented.

Little Moisture in Prospect.

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—[Special.]—Little hope was held today for moisture in the dust afflicted west, though winds died down over most of the area, giving the harassed residents some respite from the blowing grit.

"Until rains comes those folks to the west of us will continue to be pestered by dust," said A. M. Hamrick, federal weather observer here. He predicted at least 24 hours of relative calm.

"The south wnd blows the dust north one day and the next day the wind reverses and blows it back. Today the pendulum is relatively at a standstill."

However, high winds raised dust clouds in Minnesota in the wake of a light rain and a drop in temperature. The dust was largely confined to the southern half of the state and agricultural authorities said it would not menace crops.

Better Weather in Texas.

The air had cleared over Oklahoma and parts of Texas. The west and southwest portions of the Lone Star state were swept by the tail end of last night's duststorm.

Some dust was reported over southeastern and southwestern Colorado and parts of New Mexico, but winds were not high and the siltstorms not severe.

Pastures were reported in fairly good condition in eastern Kansas, where a prosperous season is dawning for pasture renters as the influx of cattle from the dust region increases.

U. S. PLANS TO MOVE 25,000 FAMILIES TO LAND FURTHER WEST

Portland, Ore., April 15.—(AP)—Plans for the transfer to the green fields of western Oregon and western Washington of 25,000 families in the midwest drought area were announced here today by D. O. Hood, state budget director for Oregon. He just returned from Washington, D. C.

State owned property in Oregon and Washington first will be taken up, federal money being used for the purchase. Later property acquired by the federal land banks in the two states will be bought. Only the most desirable of the available land will be placed at the disposal of the newcomers. Hood said the money will come from the $4,800,000,000 work relief appropriation.

BATTERY MAKER PERKINS TO BE AT SENATE QUIZ

York, Pa., April 15.—(AP)—Fred Perkins, York battery manufacturer under sentence for violating the NRA code for his industry, will have a chance to appear before the senate committee investigating NRA.

Senator McCarren, a committee member, tonight advised Perkins he is listed for appearance on Wednesday and asked him to prepare a statement to be filed.

Perkins, whose appeal from his NRA violation conviction is pending before the Supreme court of the United States, sent telegrams to Chairman Pat Harrison and Senators Nye and McCarren, members, asking that his case be considered.

GAMBLING SQUAD IS ABOLISHED IN POLICE SHAKEUP

Responsibility Given to Captains.

Police Commissioner James P. Allman last night issued an order that abolished the vice and gambling squad and transferred its commander, Capt. Martin Mullen, and seventeen men who assisted him to other duties.

Abolition of the special so-called "morals division" was necessary, the commissioner explained, because as constituted it was too small to curb gaming and vice properly and there were not sufficient funds to increase it to an efficient size. In the future the control of vice in all forms will be required of district commanders.

Job Too Big for Squad.

"Capt. Mullen's men did good work," said Commissioner Allman, "and made many arrests, but the job was too big for a small unit. The captains of all stations must accept full responsibility for enforcement of vice and gambling laws. There has been no letup in the campaign on gambling."

Capt. Mullen was sent to command the Chicago avenue district, replacing Lieut. Andrew B. Barry, the present commander. Two other captains also were transferred. Lieut. Barry will take over the command at the Hudson avenue station, and the present commander, Capt. William H. Stapleton, will go far south to Burnside. Capt. Matthew Homer, now commanding at Burnside, was assigned to duty at police headquarters.

Four lieutenants, in addition to Barry, are given new assignments. Martin E. McCormick, second to Capt. Mullen in the morals division, will accompany the latter to Chicago avenue. Jeremiah Vaughan, now at Hyde Park, will exchange places with Joseph Berounsky of the Grand Crossing district, and Attorney T. McDonough, now of Chicago avenue, goes to Hudson avenue.

Nine Sergeants Get New Posts.

Nine sergeants of police and thirty patrolmen, in all, were shifted in the order, which takes effect at once.

Raids on gambling houses were continued by the police yesterday. Eight men were arrested at 140 West Van Buren street and nine at 205 North La Salle street.

POST TIRED OF SKID LANDINGS; WILL USE NEW SHIP NEXT TIME

Lafayette, Ind., April 15.—[Special.]—Keenly disappointed over his third failure to span the continent in a stratosphere flight, Wiley Post said today he will not make the attempt again with his present equipment. He indicated, however, that he will not abandon his speed experiments in the upper air spaces.

"I'm tired of trying to make landings without landing gear," the one-eyed Oklahoman commented as he waited here for the arrival of the Winnie Mae's landing gear which he dropped yesterday morning in California at the start of his eight hour air dash. The gear arrived tonight.

The internationally known flyer's forced landing at Purdue university airport yesterday afternoon because of a broken supercharger marked the third time his equipment had failed him. His first attempt ended 125 miles from his start because of motor trouble he blamed to sabotage. The second time his supply of oxygen ran out at Cleveland.

New York Legislature Votes to Banish Nudism

Albany, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)—The New York assembly tonight concurred with the senate in voting to ban nudism in New York state. The vote was 97 to 26.

RESORT BURGLAR SENTENCED.

John Grenus, 23 years old, of Long Lake, pleaded guilty yesterday to looting twenty cottages in the Lake county resort district over a period of two years, and was sentenced by Judge Ralph J. Dady at Waukegan to one year to life in the penitentiary.

BOY KING USES "ROYAL PULL" TO PASS UP EXAMS

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, April 15.—(AP)—His majesty King Ananda Mahidok of Siam, youngest monarch in the world and future ruler of 12,000,000 people, used his royal prerogatives for the first time today and got out of a tough examination in school.

Instead of being just another anxious-eyed schoolboy nibbling his pencil and pondering questions on a test paper, the 9 year old sovereign stayed away from the classroom while his schoolmates were struggling with their problems. The director of schools in the Lausanne district, at the queen mother's request, excused Ananda from the required examination and automatically promoted him to the "classical college," a course equivalent to high school in the United States.

The Siamese delegation here also joined in the request, which was headed "in view of Ananda's excellent record and his high personality." Ananda's little brother and his 11 year old sister, however, had to take the examination, the brother passing second in his class while the sister also did well. Ananda with his mother was expected to leave shortly on the last voyage overseas to Bangkok for coronation ceremonies. Ananda will return to Switzerland for two more years of schooling.

JUDGE'S FRIENDS ENDANGER BENCH ELECTION SAVING

Economy Is Threatened to Benefit Lewis.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Plans of Mayor Kelly, County Judge Jarecki, Gov. Horner and the Chicago Bar association to save Cook county taxpayers several hundred thousand dollars by changing the dates of judicial elections were declared in danger yesterday because of maneuvers set in motion by friends of Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis.

The legislation necessary to put the plans into effect will reach a crisis in the house of representatives at Springfield at a session shortly after midnight tonight or before noon tomorrow. It is necessary to pass two bills by a two-thirds majority, or 102 votes. The Democratic majority numbers only 84. Friends of Judge Lewis are said to be seeking to tie up enough Republican votes to prevent the recording of the required two-thirds.

Quick Action Called Vital.

Action at once to make the bills effective immediately upon their approval by Gov. Horner is said to be vital in order to meet statutory requirements concerning the dates for the calling of nominating conventions and the certifying of nominations for a proposed Superior court election on July 1.

That date is named in the bills because that is the date for which Gov. Horner has called a special election to fill the State Supreme court vacancy caused by the death of Justice Frederic R. DeYoung. The time had been agreed on by the proponents of economy in connection with the election of twenty Superior court judges this year.

As the statutes now stand those twenty would be elected next November It was considered extremely desirable to place the Supreme court election as early as possible and the plan is to advance the November election to July 1. A second judicial election this year would cost an additional $300,000 or, according to some estimates, even $400,000.

Judge Lewis' Seat Considered.

Judge Lewis' place on the Superior bench was brought into the discussion by Judge Jarecki, who pointed out that unless the statutes are amended there will be an election in April, 1937, at which this one seat will be the only public office to be filled.

Judge Lewis' term expires in 1937. Ever since his seat was created by the legislature the election to fill it has fallen heretofore on the date of the biennial municipal election. With the four year aldermanic term in effect there will be no municipal election in 1937. With the judicial election required, Cook county now faces the prospect of spending $300,000 or more to elect one judge.

To avoid this waste Judge Jarecki and the Chicago Bar association developed the plan of eliminating the 1937 seat and adding a new full term to the twenty for which judges are to be elected this year. This would permit Judge Lewis to choose between serving out his present term or running for a six year term which would begin next December—a chance for four additional years which was pronounced excellent until his friends proposed an arrangement of still greater advantage to him.

An Added Term Sought.

They have ready for presentation at Springfield today an amendment—complicated to the lay mind—which, if adopted as a part of the pending program, would permit Judge Lewis to serve out his present term and, if he were elected on July 1, would give him a six year term starting in 1937.

This proposal was so extraordinary that the judicial election bills became the principal topic of discussion at a conference of Democratic members of the legislature from Cook county with Mayor Kelly and Gov. Horner in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon.

Some of the legislators were indignant over the implied threat of Judge Lewis' supporters to defeat the economy program. They expressed certainty that they could defeat the pro-Lewis amendment by majority vote on the ground that its adoption would require senate concurrence by a two-thirds vote, involving a delay that would prevent the operation of the plan for an election on July 1.

Republicans Propose Caucus.

What angered them was an announcement that some Republican members will seek a caucus of their house bloc today to determine whether they would oppose the program unless the pro-Lewis amendment is adopted. A caucus decision to this effect would prevent attaining 102 votes.

Some of the Democrats said that if the July election is made impossible and Cook county is compelled to pay out $300,000 or more for an avoidable November election, the house majority will at least be able to pass a bill to save a similar amount in 1937 by eliminating the election that year. This would do away with the seat now held by Judge Lewis. If this plan were carried through, Judge Lewis would be slated to return to the practice of law two years from now.

Mayor Kelly, who plans to leave for San Francisco tonight, also discussed with the legislators other bills in which he is interested. Among them were the proposed increase in the sales tax, his refunding plan for local governments, and the bills to authorize the city's retirement of policemen and firemen when they reach 63 years of age. The indications were the Cook county Democrats will vote solidly for all this legislation.

BEGIN ARRESTING MOTORISTS WITH OLD TAGS TODAY

Summonses, Cash Bond for Delinquents.

BY HAL FOUST.

Police today will arrest motorists whose cars do not carry 1935 licenses. With political campaigns ended, the authorities will begin enforcement of the statute that requires all automobiles to have plates for the current year on and after Jan. 1. Several warnings to car owners were issued as long ago as early February and last night's developments seemed to be no idle threat.

Robert B. Upham, city controler, announced that thirty state highway policemen will move into Chicago this morning to assist city police in the license enforcement campaign. All city and park policemen are receiving instructions to watch for license violators.

No Tags at All? Cash Bond!

Drivers of cars without any state plates—and there are many in Chicago—are to be errested and required to post cash bond for their appearance in court. Those having 1934 Illinois plates are to receive summonses to appear in court four days after the tickets are issued.

Chicagoans whose cars bear 1935 state license but lack 1935 windshield stickers [city vehicle tax] likewise will receive summonses, with a four day interval before the cases will be called in court. Drivers with 1934 plates of some state other than Illinois will be required to post bail.

Mr. Upham said he believed that the courts will impose penalties for the license law violators. Chief Justice Sonsteby, however, indicated that the judges will probably follow a policy of leniency as in former years when most judges dismissed defendants appearing in court with evidence that licenses had been purchased after they had received summonses.

150,000 Unlicensed Cars.

There are more than 150,000 passenger cars and 25,000 trucks being operated in Illinois without 1935 plates. So far this year Secretary of State Hughes has sold 1,127,057 licenses for passenger cars and 153,010 licenses for trucks. Last year 1,285,434 passenger cars and 178,496 trucks were registered at the end of December.

It is estimated that probably half the state's unlicensed cars are in Chicago and its immediate vicinity. In an hour's drive in the loop, where there's a policeman or two in every block, seven automobiles with no license plates and seventeen with 1934 plates were noted. A majority of these were parked in the general disregard of the ordinances prohibiting parking in this area. Quite a number were carrying political campaign stickers on windows or windshield.

Among the 1934 licenses, with the names of the persons to whom the numbers were issued, were the following: 713-201, Mary Lopez, 1401 South California avenue; 521-900, Max Raifman, 205 West Wacker drive; 919-292, George Wells, 5408 North Campbell avenue; 739-462, Rose G. Whalen, 1400 East 70th street; 750-506, Walter M. Snead, 2612 West Railroad avenue, Evanston; 768-308, Ludwig Albright and I. L. Werner, 1107 Chicago avenue, Oak Park; 735-018, Advance Fuel corporation, 1000 South Karlow avenue, and 1-107-574, Mrs. D. Recksieck, 1146 Cherry street, Winnetka.

Other Delinquents.

Others were: 1-240-340, Frank Derris, 545 North St. Louis avenue; 720-789, John J. Heffernan, 5429 Crystal street; 754-828, Glenn R. Gans, 8700 Archer avenue, Willow Springs; 303-228, John J. Bailey, 5730 Washington boulevard; 1-254-672, Mrs. K. Zebrowska, 1234 Marion court; 965-670, D. M. Ortiz, 706 South Taylor avenue, Oak Park; 1-266-817, M. L. Woods, Morrison hotel, and 754-995, Emil J. Masek, 1640 South 58th court, Cicero.

A truck with 1934 license 4004-M and bearing the name "City of Chicago, department of public works, bureau of sewers" was working yesterday afternoon on the lower level beside the Tribune Tower. A 1934 Iowa license 22-4444 was parked in the loop. Several cars were seen with one 1935 plate carried in the windshield, a practice that will not escape the police.

Uniformity Ordered

To simplify road sign reading for motorists, new uniform traffic signs will soon be in place on all boulevards of the Chicago park district, it was announced yesterday by Otto K. Jellinek, trafic engineer for the district. The park commissioners recently authorized expenditure of $5,000 for new signs after a survey showed 35 different sizes and shapes of signs had been used in the former separate park districts.

HERO'S FUNERAL FOR POLICEMAN KILLED IN BLAZE

A hero's funeral was planned yesterday by Commissioner Allman for Policeman Edwin E. Peppard, 30 years old, of the Marquette station, who was trapped and fell to his death from the fourth floor of a burning building at the southwest corner of Roosevelt road and Damen avenue, after having aided other policemen in routing out members of fifteen families asleep when the fire broke out. The heroism of Policeman Peppard and his partners, Policemen Joseph Carroll and Frank Janousek, enabled all the tenants to escape unhurt.

Commissioner Allman said he would ask the city council to award Peppard's widow the $5,000 usually given families of policemen killed in line of duty. Peppard was 30 years old and the father of a 2½ months old son. The wife and baby were at his bedside in the County hospital when he died of his injuries two hours after the fall. The widow also will be entitled to a pension, Commissioner Allman said.

The three policemen were returning to the station shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning when they saw the fire in the four story flat building which was occupied mainly by colored families. Peppard and Carroll were on the fourth floor after arousing the last of the tenants when Pepperd was overcome by smoke and flame. He managed to crawl out a window and was clinging to the ledge, awaiting rescue by ladder, but lost his hold and fell to the alley as a ladder was being erected.

JARECKI MOVES TO MERGE COUNTY TOWN ELECTIONS

Consolidation Bill Would Provide Big Saving.

County Judge Jarecki yesterday carried forward the movement to save election expense in Cook county by directing that a bill providing for consolidation of elections in country towns be drafted for introduction in the general assembly.

Municipal, park and school elections do not fall on the same day in many of the country towns. They are scattered throughout one month, and by making it possible to hold all of them on the same day there would not only be a considerable saving, according to Judge Jarecki, but a general betterment in the morale of the electorate.

Cites April as Illustration.

In making his point the county judge cited elections during the present month as a specific illustration. Some of the suburbs, including Cicero, Berwyn. Oak Park and Evanston, held municipal elections on April 2. Last Saturday some of them held school elections. Today 82 other country towns are holding village and park elections.

The reason for this, according to Robert L. Taylor, assistant attorney for the board of elections commissioners, who is drafting the consolidation bill, is that the school elections are set by law for the second Saturday in April and the village and park elections for the third Tuesday. Suburbs incorporated as cities voted for municipal officers on the first Tuesday, April 2.

In the proposed bill all the country towns will be given the option to hold the village, park and school elections on the first Tuesday in April. The country towns, which, with the exception of the few within the jurisdiction of the election board, control their own elections, could benefit from the uniform election day merely by the adoption of an ordinance after the legislature passes the bill.

There are 364 precincts in the county outside the election board territory. Estimating conservatively that $50 a precinct would be the cost of holding an election, the total is $18,200, which would be saved by the country towns, which pay the expense. There would be a further saving in election board towns.

"It is nonsensical to have two or three elections in one month," said Judge Jarecki, "and there is no reason why the country towns should not be permitted to save money by consolidating their several elections. It also would save much confusion.

"But, besides the expense and confusion, there is the effect on the morale of the voters. When elections are held often, the voters are not likely to turn out for all of them. By consolidating them, the one election would stand out as of greater importance and the voters would be interested in the duty they have of determining whom their elected officials shall be."

"I believe that eventually we should make election days legal holidays, which would emphasize their importance."

WIFE TO RESIST CONDON DIVORCE SUIT IN ARKANSAS

Will Sue Here, Asking Settlement.

Efforts of John S. Condon, wealthy race track owner, to obtain an Arkansas divorce are to be resisted by his wife, Mrs. Emma Williams Condon, 2912 Commonwealth avenue, according to an announcement yesterday by her attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr. The jurisdiction of the Arkansas court will be attacked, Cantwell said, on the ground that Condon is a legal resident of Illinois despite the fact that he went to Arkansas to establish residence last November.

Condon's suit was filed in Hot Springs last Jan. 25, charging incompatibility, and Cantwell has filed his appearance as counsel in the case, which is expected to be called in about two weeks.

Not Opposed to Divorce.

"Mrs. Condon is not averse to a divorce," the attorney said, "but she does object to this manner of obtaining it. Last year we discussed the matter of a divorce, and Condon offered to pay his wife $100 a month allimony.

"That offer was ridiculous, and of course we declined it. Mr. Condon is reported to be worth $10,000,000. His wife is entitled to continue living in the manner to which she has been accustomed. She is in want now and faces eviction from her $285 a month apartment. We intend to sue for divorce here and ask a property settlement.

"We have learned that while Condon professed to be a legal resident of Arkansas when he filed his divorce bill he was driving an automobile with 1935 Illinois license plates on it. We hold that his action in going to Arkansas is a subterfuge to avoid sharing his property with his wife."

Wife Lists His Properties.

Condon is the son of the late Blind John Condon, owner of the old Harlem race track. When his mother, Mary, died several years ago, Attorney Cantwell said, she left one-fourth of the family fortune to each of her two children. The other half she placed in trust for them.

While living in Chicago Condon was connected with a brokerage concern at 333 South La Salle street. His wife declares he owns three farms, four parcels of real estate in Chicago, the Harlem golf course in Forest Park, and owns a controling interest in the Niagara Racing association in Fort Erie, Canada; the Oaklawn Jocky club in Hot Springs, and the Montreal Jocky club in Montreal.

Panhandler Pleads He's Poet; Wins Continuance

Elliott Cooper, 55 years old, 452 South State street, charged with disorderly conduct Saturday after asking a federal agent for a dime, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden in the South State Street court yesterday. He told the court he was a poet, and offered an unfinished ode to the late Mayor Cermak to prove it. Judge Padden continued the case until June 20 and released the poet in his own recognizance.

MONEY CREATORS
AMERICANS! DO YOU FAVOR U.S. HONEST MONEY OR CONTINUED PAYMENT OF BILLIONS YEARLY TO BE KEPT ARTIFICIALLY POOR
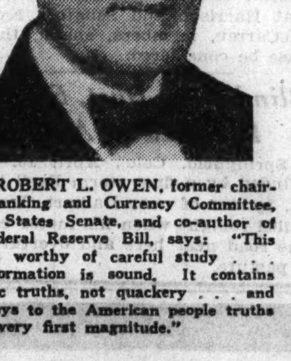
Gertrude M. Coogan

Now You Can Act...
TO PROTECT YOUR SAVINGS..PROPERTY ..JOB..BUSINESS..
AGAINST INFLATION — PRINTING PRESS MONEY — FASCISM — COMMUNISM — BILLION DOLLAR DEBTS—CONFISCATION

THINKING Americans know that the time has come to act. Every man with a job . . every business man . . every property holder . . every bank depositor . . every farmer . . every parent realizes that the endless piling up of tax burdens must eventually destroy their properties, their rights, and their children's future! But until now there has been no plan of action that the average man can use. Now, at last, the knowledge that we need for self-preservation is available in a new book, "Money Creators." A number of leading Chicago business men consider that thinking people must read this book . . and have therefore assumed the cost of making it available. These men even guarantee that if, after reading "Money Creators," you do not feel it is worth at least a hundred times its slight cost . . you may return the book and your money will be refunded!

What "Money Creators" Tells You



HON. ROBERT L. OWEN, former chairman Banking and Currency Committee, United States Senate, and co-author of the Federal Reserve Bill, says: "This book is worthy of careful study . . . the information is sound. It contains scientific truths, not quackery . . . and it conveys to the American people truths of the very first magnitude."

"Money Creators" answers the questions that have been in the minds of millions of Americans. What really caused the tremendous shrinkage in the value of securities, land, real estate? Why must millions be destitute in a land of overproduction? What became of the money which every one had in 1929? Why has there always been a "conspiracy of silence and mystery" regarding the operation of our money system? What did President Roosevelt really mean when he talked about "Driving Money-Changers Out of the Temple"? Is the country actually being driven toward destructive inflation by a minority group for their own selfish advantages? Will America fall into the hands of a tyrannical dictatorship just as every other country has done after its currency has been debased? Just what will happen to you as an individual when or if this occurs in your America?

DO YOU KNOW THE ANSWERS TO THESE QUESTIONS?
1—What Became of the Money You and Everybody Had in 1929?
2—Are Depressions "Natural" or "Artificial"?
3—Who Fixes the Price of Cotton, Wheat and Other Basic American Commodities?
4—When a Nation's Money Is Destroyed, What Happens to Government?
5—Do Banks Lend REAL Money?
7—How Did Wealth Become "Concentrated"?
8—How Can Incomes Be Restored?
9—Do You Pay Interest On ALL Money? SHOULD You?

You do not want to see the value of your savings, of your life insurance wiped out. You do not want to see the confiscation of your property through excessive taxation. You do not want to see the country overrun by the frenzied followers of politically ambitious demagogues. You may have felt helpless before—but you will not feel this way after reading "Money Creators."

SECRET FALSE PRACTICES EXPOSED

"Money Creators" was written by a woman—prominent for many years in banking circles. This keen woman analyst has had the courage to tell the full truth about banking and money. Secret false practices which caused this depression are exposed. A clear cut constitutional way to end this depression is explained. She has told this story so clearly in such an utterly simple and plain manner, that there is no longer any excuse for any one to say he does not understand money, or what is happening to us.

Gertrude M. Coogan has had many years of experience in all forms of banking and investments. She spent 8 years collecting and arranging material which was secured from all over the world for this book. She has had the courage to tell the full truth—the astounding facts that are never found in school text books. What she says about a "return to constitutional money" will amaze you.

MISS GERTRUDE M. COOGAN, author of "Money Creators," was for many years prominently connected with one of Chicago's largest banks and is an acknowledged authority on national and international money matters.

What will this book be worth to you? It is difficult to estimate . . . perhaps a $1,000, perhaps many thousands of dollars. The understanding gained may result in insuring your future welfare—the security of your children and your family. Its value may transcend anything that can be designated in dollars.

You will want to read this book immediately. Because the prominent Chicago business men mentioned above have read this book, and know how you will feel about it . . . it will be sent to you with the understanding that the purchase price of $2.00 will be refunded if you are dissatisfied with it and return book in five days. INSULL MUST GO TO TRIAL AGAIN ON U. S. CHARGE

Attorney General Orders Last Case Finished.

Samuel Insull and eight former associates must stand trial on the remaining federal indictment charging them with violation of the bankruptcy act in the collapse of the Corporation Securities company in 1932. The decision to press the charges was announced yesterday by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings in Washington.

As soon as they were informed of the attorney general's ruling, Harry S. Ditchburne and Charles E. Lounsbury, counsel for Harold L. Stuart, one of the co-defendants, said they would appear before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson on April 22 and ask for an immediate trial. It is expected they will be joined in the motion by Floyd Thompson, attorney for Insull.

Accused of Transferring Assets.

The specific charges against the nine men are that they violated the bankruptcy law by the transfer of $2,500,000 of the assets of the Corporation Securities company when it was alleged to have been insolvent before it went into receivership in April, 1932. The indictment also names as a tenth defendant, Martin Insull, brother of Samuel.

Martin Insull is now in Canada where he returned recently after being acquitted in the state court here on a charge of embezzling $344,720 from the Middle West Utilities company in 1931.

Officials of the department of justice at Washington declared that it is their intention "to prosecute as broadly as possible" and it is therefore regarded as likely that, if Martin will not return voluntarily for trial on the bankruptcy indictment, extradition proceedings will be begun against him.

Calls Extradition Possible.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, who has been at home with a cold for the last ten days, said that Martin can be returned on the bankruptcy charge under the terms of an extradition treaty with Canada. He was extradited previously only on the state charge.

It was rumored last week that Mr. Green, in a statement forwarded from Chicago to the attorney general, recommended that the bankruptcy indictment be dismissed. There were also rumors that the government was determined to try the case for "face saving" reasons. Mr. Green would make no comment on the nature of his recommendation.

All Other Cases Ended.

The bankruptcy trial will be the last attempt by state or federal authorities to convict Insull and his associates as a result of the collapse of the billion dollar Insull utility empire. Last Nov. 24 Insull and sixteen other defendants were acquitted by a jury before Judge Wilkerson of using the mails to defraud in the sale of Corporation Securities stock.

After Martin Insull was found not guilty in the state court, Samuel Insull went on trial there for the alleged embezzlement of $66,000 from Middle West.

He, too, was acquitted, and State's Attorney Courtney then nol prossed a remaining indictment against the brothers which charged them with embezzling $104,722 from the Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment company, one of their former concerns.

Defendants Are Listed.

The defendants in the federal bankruptcy case in addition to Samuel and Martin Insull and Stuart are Samuel Insull Jr., Philip J. McEnroe, John F. O'Keefe, Edward J. Doyle, Stanley Field, William R. Irwin, and C. Wilbur Daniels. All except Daniels and Irwin were defendants in the mail fraud case. Martin Insull, however, was not tried in that case because of the terms of his extradition.

Samuel Insull had no comment to make last night on the government's decision. Attorney Thompson said he was "surprised" at the action of Cummings but is prepared to go ahead with the trial.

WOMAN VIOLENT IN COURT; HELD FOR MIND TEST

A hysterical woman was held for a mental examination yesterday after she created a disturbance in the courtroom of Superior Judge Marcus Kavanagh. The woman, who is about 28 years old, gave her name as Miss Marie Thaddeus, but refused to give her address. She entered the courtroom shortly after the noon recess and demanded of court attendants to see Judge Kavanagh. When they refused she became hysterical and was restrained only by force. Judge Kavanagh sentenced her to a week in jail for contempt of court, but rescinded the order and directed that she be held for examination by Dr. David Rotman, Municipal court psychiatrist.

3 FIRMS WITH NEW DEAL LINK GET NAVY WORK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Shipbuilding companies with New Deal connections have been awarded approximately 66 million dollars in naval construction contracts since the coming of this administration, investigation disclosed today.

The three companies which hold these contracts and which have been shown to have some connections with the New Dealers are the New York Shipbuilding corporation, the Bath Iron Works, and United Dry Docks, Inc.

Other large companies engaged in building navy vessels are the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, the Electric Boat company, and the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company.

All of these companies, including the three with some New Deal connections, have been charged by the senate munitions inquiry with collusion on bids for government construction. Theoretically, navy contracts go to the lowest bidder.

Revealed by Senate Inquiry.

The three companies which have been shown by the senate inquiry to have a tie-up with the present administration have better than a third of the navy contracts now in force. Predominant among these three is the New York Shipbuilding corporation, which has the largest total of navy contracts of all the companies. This corporation is receiving approximately 50 million dollars for building two heavy cruisers and six destroyers.

Testimony before the senate munitions committee has shown at least four possible connections between the New York Shipbuilding corporation and the administration. Emil Hurja, assistant chairman of the Democratic national committee, once worked as a statistician for Ben C. Smith, stock operator, who now shares with Thomas E. Bragg a half interest in the corporation.

Other testimony indicates that L. R. Wilder, former president of the corporation, knew what the low bids on the 1933 naval contracts were ten days in advance, a charge which Wilder denied.

Evidence of Third Link.

Still a third link between the company and the government was brought to light when it was shown that Senator A. Harry Moore [Dem., N. J.], had intervened with President Roosevelt and Postmaster General Farley in an effort to stop a federal loan to a Pensacola, Fla., shipyard lest it compete with the New York company.

The fourth connection between the corporation and the administration is that shortly before the 1933 naval contracts were to be awarded the company hired the law firm of Coldwater and Flynn to represent it at $15,000 a year. Edward J. Flynn, a member of the firm, has been a close political ally of Farley.

The Bath Iron Works, which holds $6,830,000 in contracts to build two destroyers, has been linked indirectly with James Roosevelt, son of the President, and with A. P. Homer, who was charged with "fixing" the 1933 contracts and with soliciting campaign funds for President Roosevelt in 1932 from shipbuilders.

Contracts for Destroyers.

The United Dry Docks, Inc., and its subsidiary, United Shipbuilding and Dry Docks, has contracts for four destroyers estimated at approximately $8,800,000.

Homer has admitted before the senate committee that he was offered fees if he would arrange for navy contracts. He denied accepting any fees but added that he had arranged for the Bath Iron Works' contracts.

James Roosevelt entered the picture when Roger S. MacGrath, who said he was a friend of young Roosevelt, wrote to Louis McHenry Howe, the President's secretary, saying that if the Bath company got some navy contracts, the Democratic party in Maine would be helped. The president of the Bath company then ordered that MacGrath be given some of the company's insurance business.

Apartment Sharing Revealed.

United Dry Docks, Inc., and its subsidiary, United Shipbuilding and Dry Docks, has contracts for four destroyers estimated at approximately $8,800,000. The president of this company was shown to share the apartment of Anning S. Prall, whom President Roosevelt made chairman of the communications commission, and who "helped" the company when he was a congressman.

Neither the Bath nor United company ranks as one of the biggest shipbuilders. The New York Shipbuilding corporation leads the list of navy contractors. The Newport News company ranks next with approximately 49 millions in contracts and the Bethlehem corporation has contracts amounting to about 41 millions. The Electric Boat company has contracts estimated between 8 and 13½ millions. The Federal Shipbuilding company has approximately 10½ millions in contracts.

REINHARDT'S NEXT WIFE GUEST AT HIS RENO HOUSE PARTY

Reno, Nev., April 15.—(AP)—The woman Max Reinhardt says he plans to marry next is among the house guests here where the screen and stage producer is awaiting a court ruling on his Riga, Latvia, divorce from Elsa Heims. The announced "intended" is Fräulein Helene Thimig, like Elsa a German actress. She is among several persons Reinhardt had as his guests today as he prepared to ask a court to pass on the validity of his divorce.

HELENE THIMIG.

Trial of the suit, which asks for a declaratory judgment decreeing the European divorce valid, is not expected until late in April or early in May.

The producer has leased a private home and expects to remain until he is called back to Hollywood to begin work on another picture.

Reinhardt filed the suit secretly last Feb. 25. He charged his wife refused to recognize the decree he obtained in Latvia in 1931 and threatened to prosecute him for bigamy in the event he remarried.

"DUTCH" SCHULTZ GOES ON TRIAL; DEFENSE VAGUE

Syracuse, N. Y., April 15.—[Special.]—Counsel for Dutch Schultz, who says he never was a public enemy, but ought to be called public benefactor No. 1, maintained a discreet silence today on their line of defense. The Bronx racketeer went on trial here before Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant. The charge is evasion of taxes on an estimated income of $481,000 for the years 1929, 1930 and 1931.

"We can't say what our defense will be until the government discloses its case," declared James M. Noonan of Albany. He is associated with J. Richard Davis, Schultz's chief counsel, and a local attorney.

John H. McEvers, special assistant attorney-general, opened the government's case by asking permission of Judge Bryant to try Schultz on the first four counts of the indictment. If convicted on all four counts—three felonies and one a misdemeanor—Schultz would be liable to a penalty of sixteen years imprisonment, five more than Al Capone's, and a fine of $40,000.

FRENCH ACTRESS QUITS CONVENT; BACK TO STAGE

PARIS, April 15.—(AP)—Mayse Wendling, French actress who left the stage for a convent, decided today, only a few days before the end of her novitiate, to return to the footlights.

The blonde player, whose decision a year ago to take religious orders created a sensation in Paris, said her health was not able to stand the task of caring for lepers in French colonies in the Indian ocean.

"My faith," said Mlle. Wendling, "remains as strong as ever. Providence decreed that I return to the stage."

The actress spent several months at Lyons preparing for religious work, but fell ill at the end of five months, she said.

GERMAN KILLED BY RIOTING POLES; MANY INJURED

Homes of Nazis Stoned in Polish Corridor.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, April 15.—(AP)—Violent demonstrations against Nazi Germany flared over the week-end in the former German territory known as the Polish Corridor, leaving one Nazi dead today and many others seriously wounded. Uneasiness was felt, although officials said passions which flared into violence had cooled.

Anti-German feeling broke out anew in the Baltic and Pomorze Silesian coal fields, while several bloody demonstrations were reported in upper Silesia where Poles, allegedly urged by officials, are up in arms against German minority schools.

Order Flags at Half Staf.

Fritz Broen, Nazi who was wounded in week-end fighting at Kact, Pomorze, died today. The Nazi senate ordered flags at half staf tomorrow in sorrow for the man's death. Violence was reported in a half a dozen towns in the neighborhood of Danzig.

A dispatch from Krolewska, upper Silesia, said children were urged to rebel against their parents and German mothers were called "sows and dogs" in anti-German hate demonstrations throughout the region.

Krolewska children had been urged to force their parents to remove them from German minority schools, the dispatch said, while Polish Deputy Baldyk yesterday asked residents of Zorny to boycott parents who send their children to German schools. He was supported by the mayor of Zorny.

Windows are Marked.

Inflammatory speeches were being made and handbills scattered over the entire region denouncing German schools, the reports added.

Severe disorders also occurred in Wejherowo and Kact, near Gdynia. Several Germans were attacked in Gdynia itself and the windows of German houses shattered. Reports reaching Berlin said a mob threw cobblestones through the windows of many German homes and business houses in Wejherowo, a city of 13,000 in Pomorze.

The German population barricaded themselves from attack. Reports said a city official led the demonstration after addressing an anti-German demonstration where shouts of "Down with the Germans!" and "Throw the dogs out!" were heard. Police intervened.

FARLEY, CURTIS GOT CUT RATES, HOTEL MAN SAYS

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—A special house committee investigating mortgage refinancing was told today by Russ L. Holland, former receiver for the fashionable Mayflower hotel, that Postmaster General Farley—also chairman of the Democratic national committee—was given a reduced room rate because it was believed his presence there would draw other patrons.

Holland testified former Vice President Charles Curtis was another "preferred guest." Holland said of Farley: "We were willing to compliment him with a room, but he wouldn't take it for nothing. He told us he would pay what suitable living accomodations would cost him elsewhere, and we were glad to have him, although the price was lower than the regular rate.

Holland, questioned by committee members, said he believed other guests were attracted.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter M. Powell.

Miss Katherine Kelley and Porter M. Powell were married at 4 p. m. yesterday in the Thorndike Hilton chapel of the University of Chicago with the Rev. John Crippen Evans officiating.

The bride, a TRIBUNE reporter for the last seven years, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ellsworth Kelley of Garden City, Kas. Mr. Kelley is a veteran Kansas newspaper man. Miss Kelley is a graduate of Washburn college. Mr. Powell attended De Paul and George Washington universities and is a graduate of the University of Chicago school of law.

Following the ceremony the couple departed for a two weeks' motor trip through northern Michigan. After May 1 they will live in Faribault, Minn., where Mr. Powell will be district manager for an oil company.

POSTAL POSTER DELIVERY PLAN FAILS: FARLEY

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The postoffice department's experiment as a "hand bill distributor" today was declared a failure by Postmaster General James A. Farley.

He signed an order rescinding, effective July 1, 1935, the department's general order permitting direct mail advertisers to use a simplified address system for posters and other advertising. Under it the matter could be sent not to any particular person by name but merely addressed to "householder" or "patron."

The official reason given for the action was that "after continuing this test for six months the department has concluded that the revenue derived from this source is not sufficient to justify its continuance."

When the order was originally issued on Oct. 12, 1934, it created a storm of protest from newspapers, on the ground that it tended to alienate advertising from local newspaper columns.

GERMANY TO TRY KIDNAPED EXILE FOR HIGH TREASON

Refuses to Surrender Him to Switzerland.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 15.—The German government today disclaimed official connection with the kidnaping of the German refugee newspaper man, Berthold Jacob, also known as Berthold Salomon, on Swiss soil and his abduction to a German jail, but in the same breath announced it will try him for high treason.

Thus, in its official communique, the government has declared it is making use of the services of kidnapers.

Switzerland has again approached Czechoslovakia to consider filing a joint complaint to the world court at The Hague to protest against punitive expeditions of anonymous gangs of Germans into their countries. Switzerland will first invoke the German and Swiss arbitration treaty of 1925.

Swiss Study German Note.

The refusal of the Nazis to surrender Jacob to Switzerland is being studied by the Swiss federal council at Berne.

The Germans declare that Dr. Hans Wesemann, whom the Swiss arrested as Jacob's kidnaper, is a shady character. They insist Wesemann and his accomplices received no instructions from German official quarters.

The Nazis declare Wesemann and his friends might have kidnaped Jacob in an effort to improve their standing with Berlin authorities just as "refugees who disapprove of German traitors abroad continually offer their services to help German authorities."

"Since Jacob came into German jurisdiction without the help of German officials," argue the Germans, "and since he repeatedly was sentenced for treason, and is a traitor of the worst kind, the Germans can do nothing but allow the action pending against him to take its course."

"Black Reichswehr Murders."

Jacob was one of the men who in 1924 revealed the details of the 31 "black Reichswehr murders" in the newspaper Weltbuehne. The black Reichswehr, a monarchist military organization, was dissolved on the strength of his revelations, and a group of its members was sentenced to prison.

Edmund Heines, one of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's lieutenants, was among the accused. He held a high post in Nazi Germany until the Fuehrer ordered his execution as a traitor in the June 30 blood purge last year.

According to international law, the position of Switzerland and Czechoslovakia is considered strong, but the Berlin government has not announced officially whether it will submit to arbitration.

TAX RATES ON BRITISH INCOMES REMAIN HIGH BY U. S. LEVELS

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Treasury officials, informed of prospective British income tax reductions in the lower brackets, commented today that Great Britain could make a hefty slash in its rates and they still would be considerably above present American rates.

There was keen interest, however, in the announcement that British reduction was planned because Britain's national finances would show a surplus in the coming fiscal year.

A comparison of present United States and British rates based on treasury estimates of the levies paid by a "married man with no dependents" whose entire income was "earned" shows:

Net income.	U. S.	Great Britain.
$ 1,000	....	$ 5.63
1,500	....	50.63
2,000	....	95.63
2,500	....	182.81
3,000	$ 8	272.81
3,500	26	362.81
4,000	44	452.81
4,500	62	542.81
5,000	80	632.81
6,000	116	812.81
7,000	172	992.81
8,000	248	1,195.31
9,000	329	1,420.31
10,000	415	1,645.31
12,000	602	2,205.31

This table was calculated at a pound sterling valued $5. In Britain the exemption for a child is $200; in the United States, $400.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—Picked officers from heavy batteries all over the British Isles arrived in London this morning at the invitation of the war office to take part in testing a new high velocity heavy gun.

Trials will be held tomorrow on Salisbury plain when "still" targets will be used. Subsequently the quick firing monster will be tried out on moving targets at Sheerness.

The gun has a range of seventeen miles and is said to throw a projectile of 1,700 pounds. The weapon is especially designed to meet emergency raids by heavily armed pocket battleships.

Paints Picture of Prosperity in 1935-'36 British Budget

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—A picture of prosperity was drawn by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, when he opened the 1935-'36 budget in the house of commons today and estimated a surplus of about $2,425,000. It was a picture of a country steadily on the upgrade with the crisis behind and every reason to believe normal prosperity has returned and may even increase.

But in spite of the rosy outlook, it was a cautious budget. British taxpayers, except those in the smallest income group, will have to wait another year at least for any substantial reduction in taxation and are warned that even this depends on the state of international politics.

Nothing for Debt to U. S.

Chamberlain said nothing about any provision for paying the war debt owing the United States, and a blunt reminder that Britain once again had succeeded in balancing its budget at the expense of the United States came tonight from the veteran Labor leader, George Lansbury, who declared in an interview:

"The chancellor has been able to balance accounts only by refusing to pay Great Britain's debt to the United States. If the Labor government had defaulted in the same way we should have been told it was the end of all things."

Another Laborite, James Maxton, twitted Chamberlain: "I can remember that in the last two or three budgets there was always some reference to the question of the American debt. I notice in today's it has gone into that very nice category—that it no longer needs to be mentioned—the limbo of forgotten things."

Thanks South Africa.

Great Britain's arrears on defaulted payments to the United States are $379,500,000, and payments due in 1935 amount to $203,000,000. The total debt now owed the United States stands in Chamberlain's official ledger at $4,368,000,000.

The chancellor did, however, express gratitude to South Africa for having repaid $36,375,000, the balance of its war debt to the British government.

Wars and rumors of wars mean more expenditure and make the ways of the chancellor hard. The 1935-'36 budget contains increased military expenditures of about $52,300,000. This year, therefore, the Britons must be content with only slight alleviations in the income tax which still stands at four shillings and six pence [$1.09, or 22½ per cent] in the pound, which is currently worth $4.85.

On the lower incomes, however, on which the full rate is not paid, some slight reliefs are granted. The first 135 pounds [$655] of taxable income will only pay at the rate of one shilling six pence [36 cents, or 7½ per cent] in the pound instead of two shillings three pence [54 cents, or 11¼ per cent] as now, but this is taken away in the next bracket from 135 to 175 pounds, where the rate will be the full four shillings and six pence instead of two shillings three pence.

Theater Tax Removed.

The personal exemption of a married man will be raised from £150 [$727.50] to £170 [$824.50] and the exemption for each child after the first will be raised from £40 [$194] to £50 [$242.50]. The chancellor mentioned with some alarm the diminishing birth rate saying "unless something is done about this diminution of the birth rate the time may not be far distant when this nation will not be able to send any emigrants to the dominions."

Other small allowances in the liquor fees were made, and the tax on moving picture theater seats costing less than six pence [12 cents] was abolished and on all seats for stage performances. This has been a notorious nuisance tax and never paid for the trouble of collecting. Total tax concessions will cost the chancellor about $50,000,000 this year.

He announced restoration July 1 of all cuts in civil service salaries enforced by the national government on taking office. In opening his speech, Chamberlain marshaled an impressive array of figures on the comeback of Great Britain's public finances under the wise guidance of the MacDonald-Baldwin government, and he also made a rapid survey of the general return of prosperity.

Details Advances in Trade.

The year just closed, he said, had shown a substantial advance. Industrial output increased 12 per cent, manufacturing output established a new record, and exports were up by $150,000,000.

The number of motor vehicles registered was up 30 per cent, steel output was up 30 per cent, pig iron production was up 50 per cent, and the rayon industry made a new record.

As an indication of the improvement in the standard of living, he told how the British last year used 80,000 tons more sugar than the previous year, smoked 6,500,000 more pounds of tobacco, spent $12,000,000 more on entertainment, and drank 270,000,000 more pints of beer and 700,000,000 more cups of tea.

He then announced that surplus revenue over expenditure for the year, other than the sum applied to reduction of debt, was $99,525,000, and that there had been a reduction in the national debt of $108,750,000 and a reduction of annual interest charges of $8,250,000.

Incidentally he mentioned that the exchange equalization fund, which is used to protect the pound sterling on international exchanges, had earned a substantial profit for the second year running.

All Hopes Not Fulfilled.

The total of ordinary expenditures for the coming year was estimated by Chamberlain at $3,649,850,000, with the prospect that revenue is likely to increase in all departments with improving trade. The budget for the old year finished with a surplus of $97,000,000. Actual expenditures were $3,438,000,000.

The budget was received cheerfully, but without great enthusiasm. More income tax relief and a reduction of the whisky duty, which is seriously restricting consumption of spirits, were hoped for, and the workman hoped for another half penny or so off his pint of beer.

Just before Chamberlain rose for his budget speech, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, with the laurels of the Stresa conference fresh on his brow, entered the house. He was received with enthusiastic cheers, and his stock is now higher than it has been for many months.

ANTI-AIR RAID DRILLS PLANNED IN EAST PRUSSIA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 15.—East Prussia will be plunged into darkness when anti-air raid drills take place from May 5 to May 11 under supervision of military and aviation authorities in Koenigsberg.

Germany's new anti-aircraft artillery is expected to take a prominent part in the sham warfare. The police have been ordered to supervise and instruct civilians during the maneuvers. Squadrons of planes will circle over East Prussia and discharge white, red, and green magnesium lights denoting high explosive, incendiary, or gas bombs.

Germany's air fleet will be strengthened by the addition of another squadron of nine planes April 20, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's 46th birthday anniversary.

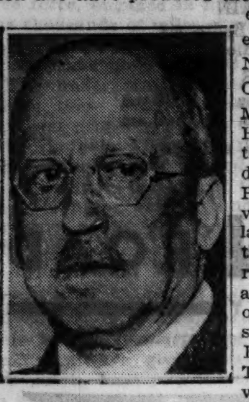
CITES NEW DEAL RED SCHEMES AS COLLEGE OUTPUT

Col. Hadley Aids Walgreen in Attack on U. of C.

The radical teachings of a generation ago have produced the "crackpot experimenters" of the New Deal, Col. Edwin Marshall Hadley, national president of the Paul Reveres, said last night in the Auditorium hotel at a meeting of the Constitutional Foundation. The colonel warned of the growth of Red influences in educational institutions and urged a patriotic reformation of schools and colleges.



COL. EDWIN MARSHALL HADLEY.

Col. Hadley declared that the record of the New Deal affords ample proof of the recent charges of Charles R. Walgreen, head of the national drug chain, that the University of Chicago is a center of radical teachings. He asserted that Mr. Walgreen's withdrawal of his niece, Miss Lucille Norton, from her classes at the Midway was proof that the conditions in the colleges are recognized.

Would Restore College Prestige.

"What more proof of the subversive teaching our schools is needed than to witness the activities in Washington?" Col. Hadley asked. "These are the work of the half-baked Marxian theorists who learned most of their nonsense in some of the Red centers like Harvard, Columbia and the University of Chicago. Once magnificent citadels of patriotism, these three colleges are probably the three worst offenders in the country today. They must be restored to their former prestige."

College radicals, he said, represent minority groups—but highly organized and articulate groups—"that have had their own way so long that they are convinced of their own immunity." He termed many of the campus radicals, "poor deluded dupes led by adept manipulators."

Urges Ouster of Red Professors.

"Let us stop thinking that education in itself is a sacrosanct thing and that educators are above criticism. We have seen in the Washington crackpots the fruits of radical teachers and radical colleges. Radicalism on the campus will disappear if the radical professors are kicked out."

Col. Hadley termed the vast Tennessee valley power experiment "rank communism," the crop destruction program of the Agricultural Adjustment administration "a socialist experiment," and the regimentation of industry and capital under the National Recovery act "the attempt of the Washington Red belt to sovietize the United States." He listed in detail the professorial pundits of the New Deal as products of an earlier generation of radical teachings.

DEFEND UNIVERSITY

From Dr. James H. Breasted, director of the Oriental institute, and eleven prominent senior class students of the University of Chicago came statements yesterday in defense of the institution. In a letter to Mr. Walgreen, the upper classmen stated that in their four years on the Midway they have never been subjected to subversive propaganda and expressed "regret that Miss Norton has been deprived of the opportunity of continuing her schooling" on the Midway.

Dr. Breasted declared that in 40 years at the university he has never met an instructor who advocated the overthrow of the present government. He cited the university's "loyal and distinguished service to the government" in war and in peace and questioned the "wisdom and sense of social responsibility" displayed in assailing a world respected institution in these times of "dangerous tendencies and dangerous men." Dr. Breasted suggested that such attacks might result in greater harm than "the communistic theories which, like all forms of government, are studied, but not advocated at the University of Chicago."

Meanwhile, at Springfield, State Senator Charles Baker [Rep., Monroe Center] was prepared to submit this afternoon when the senate reconvenes a resolution demanding a legislative investigation of radical teachings and subversive propaganda at the University of Chicago and other educational institutions in the state.

Charleston, W. Va., Votes for Republican Mayor

Charleston, W. Va., April 15.—(AP)—A 37 year old Republican judge tonight was swept into office as mayor of Charleston by a steadily mounting majority over his 31 year old Democratic opponent. Judge Daniel Boone Dawson polled 13,099 votes in 54 of the city's 61 precincts to 11,244 for J. Hornor Davis, Democrat.

Her Score Is 173

Miss Sibyl Nyborg, 1141 Noyes street, Evanston, a senior at Northwestern university, won the Capt. Guy Davis trophy in the rifle competition for women of the college held on the range in the basement of Fisk hall in Evanston yesterday. She made a score of 173 out of a possible 200. Miss Celeste Gian, 7533 Elwood avenue, a sophomore, took second place with a score of 170. Capt. Davis, head of the university's naval reserve officers' training corps, bestowed the trophy.

MICHIGAN CHIEF CITES STUDENTS' DUTY TO STATE

Pass Teachers' Oath

Lansing, Mich., April 15.—(AP)—Michigan's house of representatives, by a vote of 83 to 7, passed a bill tonight which will require all instructors in colleges or universities to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. The measure already had passed the senate and now goes to the governor.

It stipulates that public institutions of higher education will lose state aid if they fail to enforce its provisions, and that private schools will forfeit the right of tax exemption.

The house sent a resolution, commending Michigan State college students for ducking six pacifists in the Red Cedar river during a demonstration last week, to the rules and resolutions committee.

Lansing, Mich., April 15.—[Special.]—Possibility of legislative action on the issues raised by last Friday's collegiate "peace day" demonstrations loomed today. Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald said he believed state-supported institutions should bar persons unwilling to bear arms for the United States in case of war.

The governor denounced radicals of the type credited with organizing such meetings. One was broken up at the Michigan State college here when the instigators, as well as an Ann Arbor Unitarian minister, were given duckings in the Red Cedar river.

"We should slam the doors on any students who wish to take advantage of higher education offered by their government and then refuse to support the government in time of war," Gov. Fitzgerald said. "This is no time for a lot of silly theories. The whole matter is ridiculous. It has no place in the curriculum of a state aided school."

Dr. Robert S. Shaw, president of the Michigan State college, returned today. He indicated no action was contemplated against the 450 students who rushed the anti-war speakers to the river before they had begun their speeches.

CONDEMN THREE SITES FOR NEW POSTOFFICES

The government obtained yesterday condemnation orders against sites for three of the 25 new postoffice buildings to be erected in Chicago and suburbs with federal Public Works administration funds. The action was friendly since the owners and the government already were agreed upon the purchase prices.

The sites for the three branch postoffices, purchase prices of the land, and estimated cost of the buildings are: Lincoln park branch, 2643 North Clark street, $51,000 for the land and $208,000 for construction; Logan square branch, 2339 North California avenue, $21,000 for the land and $100,000 for construction; Pilsen park branch, 19th and Ashland, $27,000 for the land and $100,000 for construction.

CONGRESSMEN ASKING FOR ROOSEVELT'S TIPS ON BILLIONS' USE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The house steering committee, headed by Representative A. J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.], held a conference today with President Roosevelt on plans for administering the 4 billion 880 million dollar work relief fund.

After that group had left the White House, it became known that the plea of the congressmen was that they be given information from time to time in connection with projects in their districts. There has been much feeling in the house that the PWA administrators snubbed them. The President was represented as "sympathetic."

Speaking for the committee, Sabath predicted congress would adjourn by June 15 after enactment of the entire administration legislative program, except for measures of highly controversial nature.

Sabath said the President was anxious to launch into the task of putting the 3,500,000 heads of families, now on dole, to work as quickly as possible.

NEW NRA CASE SET FOR MAY 2 IN HIGHEST COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—The Supreme court today agreed to review the government's handpicked NRA test case. The court set arguments for May 2, with the possibility that there will be a decision before the court adjourns for the summer and before the present law expires on June 16.

The case now before the court involves the Schechter Bros. poultry concern in Brooklyn. They were convicted of violating various provisions of the so-called recovery act. A previous case before the court, involving William E. Belcher, Alabama sawmill operator, was withdrawn by the government and the Schechter case was substituted.

Donald R. Richberg, chairman of the National Industrial Recovery board, explained the government's action in ducking the Belcher NRA test on the ground that it was not a representative case. He said the New York Circuit Court of Appeals, in the Schechter case, had sustained the constitutionality of the NRA "right across the board."

The senate finance committee is still conducting hearings on the administration's bill to extend and enlarge the powers of the NRA and has not indicated when the bill will be reported to the senate.

STORE THIEF GETS YEAR IN JAIL.

Bennie Brooks, 42 years old, 536 Wrightwood avenue, with a police record going back to 1920, was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell by Municipal Judge Joseph A. Graber yesterday when he pleaded guilty to attempting to steal a suit from a store at 4700 South Ashland avenue.

TELLS T-N-T JURY OF RED BARKER'S GRIP UPON UNION

Teamster Alleges League with Coal Dealers.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Victor Rozanski, receiving stolen property, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge John C. Lewe.

Albert Weber, a veteran coal teamster who rose from the ranks to be a union business agent, testified yesterday before a jury in Judge Michael Feinberg's Criminal court that the late George [Red] Barker, gang leader, summarily dismissed him from his position without reference to the desires of the union's members. Weber was a state witness against the eleven remaining defendants in the conspiracy trial growing out of the activities of the Trucking and Transport exchange [the TNT].

Weber, who wished to tell his story to the jury despite the rules of evidence and the objections of attorneys, said that Barker was acting apparently on behalf of the coal merchants, who did not like Weber's union activities. Weber brought in the name of James B. McCahey, president of the school board and a coal merchant.

Gives Personal History.

Weber told Assistant State's Attorney Donald Thompson that he was one of the charter members of the Chicago Coal Teamsters' union, the so-called outlaw union, when it was formed in 1907. He is now a member of the International Brotherhood union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

"On Nov. 9, 1931, I was told by John Sheridan Jr. that Barker wanted to see me," Weber testified. "I went to his office at 1 North La Salle street. Mike Galvin [the head of the outlaw union] was in his office and I had to wait until he got through.

"Barker told me he wanted to cut down expenses and he would have to let me go. I knew what was coming off. I knew it was the coal merchants' association that didn't want me there."

Insists on Telling "Truth."

Prosecutor Thompson was shouting to the witness to "halt" and answer only his questions. Nevertheless, Weber was not to be halted until the judge finally stopped him with a sharp reprimand.

"Give me a chance to talk," Weber said as he was hampered by legal objections. "You ain't going to get anywhere unless I get a chance to tell the truth."

"We want you to tell the truth," replied the judge. "However, rules of evidence govern the testimony and you must only answer questions and not volunteer information. You should only relate actual conversations."

On cross-examination Defense Attorneys Joseph Harrington and Benedict J. Short developed the testimony regarding the reason for Weber's dismissal by Barker.

Quotes Barker on Reason.

"It was in 1930," the teamster asserted, "that Barker called me aside at a union meeting and said, 'McCahey is a little bit sore at you. You had better go along better with the coal merchants' association.'"

After his dismissal as business agent, Weber related, David Reese, one of the defendants, was given his place. He said that to his knowledge Reese never was a teamster, although the defense contended he joined the union in 1915. Weber said he joined the brotherhood union in 1934 after the so-called outlaw organization was broken up by State's Attorney Courtney.

Huey Convenes New Session to Complete State Czardom

BULLETIN.

Baton Rouge, La., April 15.—(AP)—The Louisiana house tonight adopted under rule suspension two resolutions to put into immediate effect proposed acts to give the senator control over local finances and federal PWA money.

New Orleans, La., April 15.—[Special.]—Senator Huey P. Long convened a special session of the Louisiana legislature at 10 o'clock tonight to enact 23 special laws. This is the fifth such session of the legislature within a year, all called to give the state administration under Senator Long larger power.

Early today Senator Long, over his own signature, circulated handbills throughout the state through highway department employés, declaring that the United States government intended to spend 170 million dollars in relief funds in Louisiana and that the money would be used to fight him. He called on all voters "to take the money and then vote as you please. I know that most of you will vote for me."

Seeks Control of Spending.

In the 23 proposed new laws are measures to prevent, according to Senator Long, the spending of funds by the the federal government in Louisiana without permission and supervision of state authorities. Another is to amend the New Orleans city charter "to provide that no parish, municipality, taxing district, or governmental agency in the state of Louisiana shall have authority, without the consent of the state, to file any petition in any court of the United States looking toward readjustment of its debts or handling of its finances."

Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah, however, checkmated Senator Long's move early this morning when he granted the city authority to adjust its finances through the New Orleans banks and dismissed the intervention suit of New Orleans firemen who claimed $650,000 back pay from the city. They had sought to make this claim a priority one over any other debts the city owes.

Wants Election Czarship.

In his call to the legislature Senator Long specified laws to give him absolute control over primary and general elections in Louisiana. He also asked greater powers over prosecuting attorneys throughout the state and wider power in fixing and collecting of licenses, taxes and revenues in the cities and parishes in Louisiana.

Senator Long announced today that State Senator Frank H. Peterman, once one of his leaders, but more recently appointed state FERA director, would not be allowed to sit in the special session and that Gov. Allen would appoint a state senator to succeed him. This session, taking its subservience to Long's demands for granted, will give him absolute dictatorship over every office, executive, legislative, and administrative, in the state.

Screen Actress Divorces Rian James, Film Writer

Los Angeles, Cal., April 15.—[Special.]—Diane Corday, screen actress and former Follies girl, won a divorce here today from Rian James, novelist movie writer. She also won judicial approval of a property settlement giving her substantial alimony. James gave his wife $1,000 cash and will give her $2,500 more by Oct. 10 and 10 per cent of his earnings.

Blast and Fire in Furniture Plant Drives 300 to Street

Fire following an explosion in a paint and varnish sprayer yesterday caused damage estimated at $1,400 in the O'Mara Furniture Manufacturing company, 2141 West Austin avenue. Three hundred employés were driven to the street. When firemen arrived the cascade of water from the automatic system had practically doused the blazing paint.

County to Ask U. S. Cash for Contagious Hospital

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, said last night that he would ask the board to approve a plan calling for a loan of $800,000 in federal funds to build a new contagious disease branch of the county hospital. The present contagious hospital was built in 1904 and contains only 100 beds, being entirely inadequate for the county's present needs, Mr. Smith said. The proposed new structure would provide 300 beds.

REPUBLICANS HIT SECURITY PLANS AS INADEQUATE

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—"All humanity does not rest on the bosom of President Roosevelt or on the Democratic majority."

Starting with this statement, Representative John M. Robsion [Rep., Ky.] told the house of representatives today that much of the social legislation in the past had been written into law by Republican congresses over the protests of Democrats. The house was debating the administration's social security program.

"This bill is most disappointing," declared Robsion. "There are 6 million persons above the age of 65 who will get old age pensions of about $16 the first year under the proposal here."

"If we keep on importing from Japan we'll be living on $16 a year," put in Representative Harold Knutson [Rep., Minn.].

Claims Only Million Eligible.

Representative Jere Cooper [Dem., Tenn.] contended that there were only 1 million persons who would need the pensions.

"Those are the ones on relief," retorted Robsion. "You're not counting the 5 million who are struggling through life eating bugs and roots. Then there are 13 millions between the ages of 45 and 65 for whom this bill does nothing."

A moment before Representative David J. Lewis [Dem., Md.] had described to the house "America's untouchables," those persons above the age of 45 years who have reached the "limit" of employability.

"Such has come to be the competition among labor for an opportunity to labor," said Lewis. "Gladiatorial qualifications now are required for the person seeking a job.

"State Action Impossible."

"We are at the crossroads of history. State action is impossible. Either the nation has power to act through the organs of the federal government, or we fail in our generation.

"If authority is now denied us, if it is declared that on crucial problems of the general welfare there is a vacuum of the legislative authority to act, then down into the chasm may fall the failing structure of our dual form of government, to arise, if arise it can, not as a federal republic but as some soviet or Fascist organization with all our honored state lines effaced forever."

Lewis' plea was greeted with prolonged applause and Democratic members arose in tribute when he had concluded.

Mitchell Asks More Aid.

Applause also followed a speech by Representative Arthur W. Mitchell, Chicago's colored Democrat in congress. Mitchell declared there could be no objection to old age pensions and unemployment insurance but he asked that federal aid also be extended to poorer states which would be unable to match Uncle Sam's funds under the restrictions of the bill.

The Townsend old age pension plan was attacked by Representative Gerald J. Boileau [Prog., Wis.], who declared that the 2 per cent transactions tax would knock every small industry out of business.

A prediction that the administration plan would go through in its original form and the Townsend plan and other schemes would be defeated was made during the day by Speaker Joe Byrns.

CLIPPER PLANE SLATED TO HOP OVER SEA TODAY

Alameda, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Trail blazer of a commercial air line to the orient, the Pan-American Clipper will begin a 2,400 mile flight to Hawaii at 6 p. m. [central standard time] tomorrow, unless an unforeseen postponement occurs.

The 19 ton flying boat went aloft today on the final test flight of a series which engineers said had thoroughly proved the accuracy of a new radio compass.

In command of the four motored amphibian will be Edwin C. Musick, veteran aviator, who has been named captain of the first flight to inaugurate an 8,500 mile transport service between the United States and the orient.

The Clipper's regular crew is composed of Musick, who has spent 22 years in aviation; R. O. D. Sullivan, veteran pilot and second in command; Victor A. Wright, engineering officer; Fred J. Noonan, navigation officer; Harry R. Canaday, junior flight officer, and W. Turner Jarboe Jr., radio officer.

The crew has put the Clipper through an exhaustive series of tests to remove all navigation and flight hazards, as far as possible, from the oversea trip.

Weather conditions were reported good, with a coastal storm moving rapidly inland.

The Clipper, which has accommodations for 52 persons, including its crew, has a cruising speed of between 150 and 160 miles an hour.

ROOSEVELT VETOES BILL FOR ANNUAL GEN. PULASKI DAY

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt put his veto into action again today, returning to congress the resolution to set aside an annual day in commemoration of Brig. Gen. Casimir Pulaski, Polish warrior in the American revolution.

GEN. PULASKI.

Although he praised the "brilliant and gallant services of Gen. Pulaski," the President said, "for our own leader of the American revolution, the greatest of Americans, and for him alone, have we as a people set apart one day each year." He declared it impracticable to fix a memorial day for all members of Gen. George Washington's staff.

"Every American should have the deepest appreciation of the brilliant and gallant services of Gen. Pulaski in the revolutionary war," the President said. "His devotion to duty ended only when he fell in action in the service of the republic; he is one of our heroes of that time and of all times.

"Gen. Pulaski was distinguished among the noble company of those who gave their all for that cause. Some were Americans; some were from countries across the sea. I do not think that Gen. Pulaski would have wished to be singled out from his fellows and comrades for more honor than we can give to them all."

and equipment of new vessels and, if it approved them, would then determine and pay a subsidy representing the difference between foreign and American construction costs. The operating subsidy would represent the difference between foreign and American voyage costs due to differences in insurance, wages of seamen, etc.

The third subsidy would be in the form of reimbursement of actual losses sustained by an operator contracting to open new trade routes. In addition to actual losses, the operator would receive 6 per cent on his invested capital.

In addition to construction subsidies construction loans would be continued as at present, but the control of such financing would be transferred from the shipping board to the new authority.

Joint Board Provided.

The bill provides for the setting up of a joint transportation board representing the authority and the I. C. C., to have jurisdiction over interrelated rail and water trafic, with the secretary of commerce acting as umpire. It also provides for a new assistant secretary of commerce for maritime affairs, with a salary of $10,000.

Wheeler's railway ownership bill provides for the creation of a federal corporation, "United States railways," which would acquire the existing lines either by consolidation with the corporation and exchange of their respective securities or the use of eminent domain. In the latter case debentures of the corporation, guaranteed by the government, would be exchanged for the properties.

Wheeler himself has no hope of getting this bill through congress during the present session, but he thinks its introduction will afford an opportunity for study and possibly create sentiment in its favor.

PACT TO PROTECT NEW WORLD ART TREASURE SIGNED

North and South America Accept Treaty.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—North and South America joined at the White House today in signing the Roerich pact, designed to preserve the culture of the new world through joint protection in times of war of artistic and scientific institutions and historic monuments.

Choosing Pan American day—anniversary of the birth of Bolivar, the liberator—for promulgating the treaty, President Roosevelt said the pact possessed a "spiritual significance" far deeper than the text of the instrument itself.

President Hails Pact.

"It is most appropriate," he said, "that on this day, designated as Pan American day by the chief executives of all the republics of the American continent, the governments, members of the Pan American union, should sign a treaty which marks a step forward in the preservation of the cultural achievements of the nations of this hemisphere. In opening this pact to the adherence of the nations of the world, we are endeavoring to make of universal application one of the principles vital to the preservation of modern civilization.

"This treaty possesses a spiritual significance far deeper than the text of the instrument itself. It is but one of the many expressions of that basic doctrin of continental responsibility and continental solidarity which means so much to the present and to the future of the American republics.

Asks Renewed Allegiance.

"On the occasion of this celebration of Pan American day let us again dedicate ourselves to the task of translation into deeds the essential unity of interest of the nations of this continent.

"Let us also bring renewed allegiance to those high principles of international coöperation and helpfulness which, I feel assured, will be a great contribution to civilization by the Americas."

To these words, Louis L. Horch, president of the Roerich Museum, New York, gave a brief reply.

"The Roerich pact upon which this treaty has been based," he said, "was created by Nicholas Roerich, world renowned artist and cultural leader, to preserve the treasures of art, science and religion, the historic monuments and sites, against destruction, in times of war and peace, and represents a symbol that the supreme achievement of human genius must be held as inviolate."

The Pan American union is to compile the lists of monuments and institutions to be protected in times of war, and these will fly a crimson and white flag.

FIND GILLESPIE IN BACKWOODS HUNTING CABIN

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—[Special.]—John Gillespie, former millionaire police commissioner of Detroit, who disappeared 11 days ago, was found by a searching party today in a backwoods hunting lodge near Clare, Mich.

Unshaven and dressed in woodsmen's clothes, Gillespie admitted he had been in hiding since he vanished April 4 after a quarrel with Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald. He added that he would shun civilization until the dispute with the governor is settled.

"I left Detroit because I wanted to go somewhere and pull myself together," he told the searching party headed by his son, John P. Gillespie, 24, who flew here from California to aid in the hunt. "I had to go to prevent myself doing something hasty. I haven't yet overcome this feeling and that's why I'm not going back."

The quarrel with the governor grew out of the executive's assertion that Gillespie was attempting to exert undue influence upon employés of the state liquor control commission.

BARUCH FEARS RED GAIN IN WAR ON PROFITS

Opposes Extra Taxes on Industry.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—Bitter opposition by Bernard M. Baruch on the senate munitions committee plan for taking the profits out of war was placed before members of that group today, but failed to move them.

The former head of the United States war industries board declared the proposed plan was intended to "abolish the present economic system in war, but probably would bring defeat or communism."

The Baruch statement was given to Chairman Nye [Rep., N. D.], but before copies of it were distributed to other committee members, the North Dakotan was taken ill with a cold that kept him from today's sessions.

Pope for Flynn Plan.

Senator Pope [Democrat, Idaho], a committee member, disagreed flatly with Baruch. He held the proposed taxation and industrial control necessary in war.

John T. Flynn, economist who drafted the plan approved by the committee, was asked to answer Baruch later.

Meantime, the committee laid the groundwork for questioning Ben Smith, Wall street operator, regarding transactions that brought control of the New York Shipbuilding corporation into new hands on the eve of the naval building program launched by the Roosevelt administration.

Several brokers were questioned during the day regarding the battle for the controling stock while Smith sat on a spectators' bench. He will talk tomorrow.

Sees Radical Triumph.

In the course of his statement, Baruch asserted, "The Flynn plan would insure an exaggerated inflation far greater than if there were no plan at all, paralyze war production and render this nation practically helpless against a major attack by an enemy possessing an economic and industrial system fairly comparable with our own."

Baruch added of the Flynn plan: "It is with insignificant exception, to abolish the present economic system in war. You certainly cannot pay the cost of war by taking war profits, because profit is but a small part of war cost."

LONG ISLANDERS CARRY MORTGAGE ROW INTO COURT

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Striking home owners of Sunnyside Gardens, Queens, who have received summonses in foreclosure proceedings because of their refusal to pay interest on mortgages held by the City Housing corporation, carried their fight to federal court today.

They received little encouragement, however, from Federal Judge John C. Knox when they attempted to intervene in reorganization proceedings in behalf of the corporation.

Meyer Parodneck, attorney for the consolidated home owners' committee, presented to the court a statistical study purporting to show that only 53 per cent of the financing actually had gone into the property.

No mention was made in court of the fact that President Roosevelt, his wife and mother are stock and bond holders in the corporation.

As the first train passed Lake Pepin—a broadening of the Mississippi about 100 miles south of St. Paul—there was enacted a drama of transportation. Across the river could be seen a steam powered passenger train traveling at high speed, its smoke flying in the air.

The Zephyr, driven by its powerful Diesel engine, speedily swept past this older type of locomotion.

At towns all along the right of way special watchmen were on hand to keep back crowds of spectators as the Zephyrs hummed past.

Met by Twin Cities Group.

At St. Paul a group of business men from the Twin Cities met the trains as they arrived and took the Chicago visitors to the Minnesota club for lunch. Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, was one of the hosts.

Meanwhile the trains had been taken to Minneapolis and the return trip started from there the first Zephyr pulled out at 4 p. m. The wind was behind the trains on the southbound trip and the speed reached was higher.

The second train hit 103 miles an hour near La Crosse and twice again reached speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour. At one point the train stirred up thousands of ducks on the Mississippi and five kept pace with the train for some distance. The Zephyr was not at top speed at this time.

Ease of Travel Noted.

One point stressed by pasengers was the ease with which the trains traveled. Diners were under somewhat of a handicap because of the speed, but at the normal pace of 70 to 80 miles an hour reading was possible.

Each Zephyr is composed of a combination power and baggage car, a coach, and a combination parlor car and lounge. They will be on view at the Union station today and on Sunday will be put in regular service on the Chicago-Twin Cities run.

Hosts on yesterday's trips were Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad, and the Chicago Association of Commerce. Among the persons who made the trip were B. F. Affleck, president of the Universal Atlas Cement company; P. D. Block, president, Inland Steel company; Laird Bell, attorney; V. V. Boatner; Edward G. Budd of Philadelphia, builder of the train; H. L. Hamilton, president of the Electro Motive company, a General Motors subsidiary, which is building a plant at La Grange, and George G. Thorp, president of the Illinois Steel company.

CO-ED GETS KISS BY GOVERNOR IN PLACE OF PARDON

Young Harris, Ga., April 15.—(AP)—A Young Harris college girl, restricted to the campus for an infraction of rules, got a kiss instead of the "clemency" she asked of Gov. Talmadge today.

Returning from a highway meeting at Murphy, N. C., Gov. Talmadge stopped here to address students of the college. Miss Alice Middleton, who has been restricted to the campus for the rest of the term, approached him with a request for clemency.

With a grin, the governor explained his powers stopped with matters that were handled in the court. Miss Middleton looked disappointed, and some one suggested a kiss to soften the refusal.

The governor bestowed it.

"I INTERVIEW A CHAMPION"

by MADAME X

SIX FEET of husky, healthy young manhood . . . former amateur middleweight champion of Pennsylvania . . . and he gives his mother the credit.

Here's what he told me when I interviewed him at the edge of the swimming pool:

"I attribute my present physical condition to my mother's advice and sane care. Whenever in need of a laxative, mother insisted on an Ex-Lax.

"During all these years, even though I keep in fine physical condition, there are times when Nature needs a helping hand. Then I take Ex-Lax."

Joseph Ransavage is just one of the millions of "children" whose mothers realized the value of Ex-Lax as the perfectly balanced, safe laxative.

Ex-Lax is as thorough as any laxative you can take. Yet it is safe. Gentle. It won't cause stomach pains, gripe or leave you feeling weak afterwards. It won't form a habit . . . you don't have to keep on taking more and more. And, it's a delight to take, since it tastes just like delicious chocolate.

And, that "Certain Something"

So many imitators have tried to produce a chocolated laxative that would equal Ex-Lax. But they couldn't. Why? Because Ex-Lax is more than just a chocolated laxative. Because the exclusive Ex-Lax process gives Ex-Lax a "certain something"—a certain ideal action that words just can't explain and that NO OTHER LAXATIVE HAS. But once you try Ex-Lax, you'll know what we mean, and nothing else will ever do for YOU.

CITY RUNS DOWN LOOTERS—LEAKS IN WATER MAINS

Engineer Sleuths Never Stop Hunt.

Not all of Chicago's detectives are in the police department. The city water department has its own detective force, engaged in finding leaks in the thousands of miles of water mains, through which taxpayers' dollars seep if the leaks go unchecked.

The underground forces of waste which these engineer-detectives fight can cost property owners as much as the criminals whom the police fight. The annual toll of a good sized leak is as great as the loot of the average gang of filling station bandits or boy burglars before the police catch up with them.

11 Per Cent Waste in Leaks.

The fight goes on continually, for the city water system, parts of which were laid three-quarters of a century ago, is always giving way at some new point. Last year the city pumped an average of 992 million gallons of water a day for its own use, aside from water sold to other municipalities. Of this an average of 109 million gallons a day, 11 per cent of the total pumped, was charged off to underground leakage.

This was the loss in the city's own mains. It did not include water lost through leaks, or wasted, after it had been piped into the premises of consumers. That is another story, and a long one.

City engineers have developed some highly ingenious methods for detecting leaks. Since the mains in which they occur are buried, indiscriminate search by digging up the mains is obviously impossible, because of the labor cost and destruction of pavement involved. The leaks are located within a few feet before the paving is disturbed.

How They Are Found.

Like the police detectives, the water detectives have their informers. Workmen for other city departments and for utility companies report many leaks to them. Citizens may report a depression in a pavement, often a sign that water leakage is slowly washing away the subsoil.

But unlike the police, who must usually wait for crime to manifest itself, the engineers also make systematic inspections to discover waste which gives no surface indications. The basis of this work is quarter section surveys, in which the water consumption of half a square mile of city area is measured. A survey of the whole city was made in this manner between 1920 and 1925.

Except in outlying sectors of the city, where mains are new and leakage, therefore, is at a minimum, mains flow into the average city district from several directions, to assure water supply in case of fire. In the quarter section surveys, the number of these sources of supply was reduced to a minimum.

Measure Flow at Night.

The flow into the area is measured at frequent intervals for a week. If the ratio of flow at night, when use of water is at a minimum, is higher than the average, that is a danger signal to the engineers that there are leaks somewhere in the area.

These leaks are located by further subdividing the area surveyed. The area, generally two blocks, between two valves in the main is taken. Householders or industrial consumers are given warning, and the service connections in the main are shut off. One main valve is closed, and if water still flows through the other, the detectives are one step closer to the leak.

Then they bring into use what is virtually a dictaphone, but which they call an aquaphone. A steel rod placed in contact with the main or with service pipes carries the sound of flowing water to an amplifier. A series of such tests, by giving the point at which the sound of flow is greatest, discloses the point at which workmen can dig and find the leak.

Water Dyed for Check.

Sometimes ground water flows outside the mains, making aquaphone tests impossible. Then the engineers employ a harmless vegetable dye as a detective. Knowing the dimension of the main and the rate of flow in it, they put some of the dye into the main and wait for it to appear at a connection known to be beyond the leak.

Since the engineers know the rate at which water should flow in the main, the difference between this theoretical rate of flow and the time which the dye actually requires to reach the observation point gives them data which by a simple calculation give them the distance back to the point of the leak.

There are numerous causes of water leaks. Electrolysis may corrode mains. Use of improper filling materials, such as cinders, may give a chemical reaction, generating acids which eat the mains away. From the test tube standpoint, the acids are extremely weak, but, given years to work, they can cause a leak.

Settling Ground Another Cause.

Settling of the ground in which the main are laid is another cause. Some six years ago the driving of caissons for a building at La Salle street and Wacker drive caused a 36 inch main to settle and give way, with a resultant fountain which flooded the street and destroyed paving. Usually such leaks are not so spectacular.

Carelessness, rather than destruction of materials, causes many other leaks. A house is wrecked and the wreckers forget to turn off the service connections. Service connections may be abandoned and forgotten. During the great fire of 1871, many miles of lead piping were melted under the streets.

The records showing the location of these pipes burned at the same time. Not until the engineer-detectives were first put to work in 1907, thirty-six years after the fire, were these abandoned pipes located and disconnected.

CIRCUS ARRIVES IN CITY

Another Due Today

One famous circus arrived in Chicago yesterday and another arrives today in preparation for the opening of the circus season Saturday.

Despite raging winds and flurries of snow, the Hagenbeck-Wallace and Forepaugh-Sells Brothers circus, which begins a 16 day engagement at the Chicago Stadium Saturday afternoon, succeeded in corraling its entire wild animal menagerie in the Stadium's lower floors. The circus train arrived at dawn, and was unloaded by nightfall.

At dawn today the Cole Brothers-Clyde Beatty circus will arrive, to open at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. It will play there through May 5. Unloading will begin at 7 a. m.

Among the treasures brought by the latter circus is the original Barnum and Bailey gold bandwagon, built in 1895, and rebuilt at a cost of $7,500 this winter.

MRS. NOTTINGHAM STILL IN HOME AS DEADLINE PASSES

Last night was the deadline set by a Municipal court order for Mrs. Susanne Nottingham, wife of Policeman Norman E. [Dear Denny] Nottingham, to get out of her home at 1008 East 80th street for nonpayment of rent. She was still in possession of her home yesterday.

Mrs. Nottingham is paying $3.50 a week board to keep Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, former collector of internal revenue, in the county jail for nonpayment of a $7,500 judgment for alienating the affections of the policeman, but is $65 behind in her rent, according to the allegations in the suit.

The suit was brought by Attorney H. W. Wilke on behalf of the Chicago City Bank and Trust company, trustees of the building in which she lives. If Mrs. Nottingham does not move out, the next indicated move by the bank would be to sue out a writ for forcible eviction. Her attorneys said yesterday that she had effected a settlement with her husband, whereby he would pay her $75 a month to support her and their child.

Ethel M. Berkson Aisnér Obtains Divorce in Reno

Mrs. Ethel May Berkson Aisner, daughter of Attorney Maurice Berkson of the law firm of Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann, Levinson & Morse, was granted a divorce at Reno yesterday from Marc D. Aisner, 1416 Pleasant avenue, Highland Park. Mrs. Aisner charged cruelty and by a private agreement was granted the custody of their one child and $25 a month for its support. They were married at the Northmoor Country club on Jan. 28, 1932.

FIRE DRIVES 50 FROM FLATS.

Fifty colored residents of a four story apartment building at 5140-50 South Park avenue were driven to the street yesterday when fire broke out on the first floor. The damage was estimated at $1,200.

Conviction of Chain Store Purchasing Agent Upheld

The conviction of Louis W. Gruber, formerly an assistant purchasing agent for the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company in Chicago, was upheld yesterday by the Appellate court. Judge James F. Fardy in the Criminal court sentenced Gruber last June 1 to serve two years in the Bridewell for obtaining money under false pretenses by manipulating purchase records.

OPTOMETRIST PUT ON PROBATION.

Randall Baron, 27 years old, Kankakee optometrist, was placed on probation for six months by Judge Cecil C. Smith in the Jury court yesterday when found guilty of obtaining money by pretending that he was able to treat a blind boy.

BISHOP ASSAILS MODERN HERODS AT LENT SERVICE

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

As evidence of increased devotions of holy week, white robed choristers from Grace Episcopal church, Oak Park, came into the loop yesterday to sing at the noon Lenten services in the Harris theater.

Similar services are being conducted in the Chicago temple, the Erlanger theater and the Grand Opera house. Holy week, which began with the special services of Palm Sunday, comes to a close Saturday afternoon, which is the Easter eve. Devotions reach their height at the noon hour Friday.

Bishop Condemns Indifference.

Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago is the holy week speaker at the Harris theater. Yesterday he assailed present day religious indifference, pointing to "modern Herods who threaten again to plunge the world into war and thus reënact the tragedy of the first Good Friday."

Bishop Stewart declared that Christians throughout the world make up 38 per cent of the world's total population. Despite this percentage, he said, together with the predominance of Christians in the leading nations of the world, "Jesus Christ is once more being mocked and scourged by modern Herods. Many propose today to put the old cross back in its place and to impale Christ to it with nails of indifference, national jealousies and insatiate greed."

Services at Grand Opera House.

Services this week at the Grand Opera house conducted by the Business Men's Evangelistic committee are being addressed by Dr. P. W. Philpott of Los Anegels, Cal., former pastor of Moody Memorial church. He declared that belief in Christ is the greatest thing a man can achieve.

The Chicago temple services under auspices of the Chicago Church federation were addressed yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Paul A. Wolfe of Evanston. Today's services at the temple will be led by Dr. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

BROTHER FIGHTS BROTHER FROM WITNESS STAND

$50,000 Defamation Suit on Trial in Waukegan.

A $50,000 suit for defamation of character, arising from a business feud between two wealthy brothers, went to trial yesterday before a jury in the Circuit court of Judge Edward D. Shurtleff at Waukegan. A verdict is expected today.

The plaintiff in the case is John H. Taft, 73 years old, 2944 Grant street, Evanston, former president of the closed Illinois State Bank of Evanston, a trustee of the Hemenway Methodist Episcopal church of Evanston, trustee and chairman of the finance committee of Ohio Northern university, and a life member of the Field museum and the Art institute.

Stockholders in Same Concerns.

Both brothers are stockholders of the Partola Products company and the Dr. Pierre Chemical company, medicine concerns at 162 North Franklin street. John Taft is president of both companies. Robert Taft was vice president, but he charged yesterday in court that John had gained control and ousted him.

On Dec. 9, 1933, John Taft filed suit, alleging that circulars had been distributed at the Hemenway church and among his friends, calling him a "super-hypocrite, a thief, and a crook." He accused his brother of having them printed.

Robert Taft's first answer to the suit said that if the circulars were distributed he was ill of angina pectoris at the time and was not responsible mentally for anything he did.

Last Jan. 16, through his attorneys, Joseph D. Irose of Chicago and A. V. Smith, former state's attorney of Lake county, Robert Taft filed an amended answer, in which he affirmed his belief that his brother was a "super-hypocrite."

"He was a super-hypocrite," the amended answer said, "in that his main business and source of income was derived from selling a preparation used, among other things, for the purpose of prevention of conception, contrary to the laws of nature and religion, and that while carrying on this business he attended church regularly."

As his own witness yesterday, John Taft declared that the circulation of the handbills caused him such embarrassment that he and his wife did not attend church regularly for several months. He referred to the trouble he had with Robert over control of the medicine companies, and said that from 1919 to 1934 Robert withdrew from the concerns a total of $273,573.

J. Herbert Walter, a handwriting expert who testified for the state in the Hauptmann trial, declared that specimens of Robert's writing were identical with the writing in corrections made on a proof of the handbills, which were supplied by a Waukegan printer.

Mrs. Esther Wilson, a former employé of the medicine companies, said Robert Taft in October, 1933, expressed his intention to have the handbills printed.

Church Members Testify.

Six members of the Hemenway church told of finding the circulars in their automobiles. They were G. Kenneth Hall, president of the Howard Avenue Trust and Savings bank; Jacob L. Zander, an Evanston grocer; Frank Milhenning, a manufacturer; John W. Kassel, connected with the Booth Fisheries; Bruce W. McLain, an official of Montgomery Ward & Co., and J. D. Kindig, clerk of the Evanston Municipal court.

In his own defense Robert Taft told of buying control of the two medicine companies in 1914 for $25,000.

"My brother never put in a cent of money," he said, "but when we formed a corporation we each got equal shares. Later he persuaded a stenographer, who held the controling share of stock, to sell out, and then he ousted me."

Robert's testimony will end today.

Followers Hail Verdict for Evangelist.

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—A charge of boarding children without a permit from the department of health, lodged against the Rev. Major J. Devine, colored Messiah, and his buxom disciple, Faithful Mary, preferred by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, was dismissed by Justices Gresser, Walling, and Caldwell in the court of Special Sessions today.

More than a thousand of Father Devine's followers, who believe the diminutive evangelist is God in the form of man, greeted the verdict with a delirious demonstration outside court.

They sang hymns and cakewalked and jigged on the sidewalk. Men and women of both colors embraced indiscriminately.

Followers Pursue Car.

Then Father Devine, Faithful Mary, and the lawyers piled into his big car, the chauffeur shifted gear, and the car rolled toward Harlem. Followers ran along beside it, some pursuing as far as Canal street.

Had the case gone against the Messiah, one colored woman predicted that Father Devine would have dissolved the courtroom into dust.

The trial itself was nothing much. The principal witness was George Delk, 10, colored, who lived at the Devine "heaven" at 124 West 126th street. He was not sworn, but said that if he lied he would be punished by Father Devine, who was god.

He told of living in the Harlem "peace mission" and said that he had been plentifully supplied with "eats." He and his sister entered the mission last January.

At the conclusion of the state's case counsel for Father Devine, Arthur A. Madison, colored lawyer, moved for dismissal on the grounds that the charges were not proved. The justices concurred.

NAME O'CONNELL FAILS TO CHARM POLICE CAPTAIN

Miss Barbara La Rue, 20 years old and blonde, who was arrested early yesterday morning with two young men charged with the attempted robbery of a gasoline station at 4601 Clarendon avenue, failed to make the impression she expected when she gave her name as O'Connell to Acting Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Town Hall station.

"If you were related to me I'd take you across my knee and spank you right now," Acting Capt. O'Connell told the girl, who said she was a model. She explained that she took the name of La Rue when her ambitions turned to a stage career.

She was seated in an automobile outside the gasoline station when noticed by Sergt. Charles Cole and his squad. The policemen also noticed the two young men go into the station and they followed, arriving just as one of the young men said, "This is a stickup." The two are Charles Shannon, 28 years old, 844 Wilson avenue, and Anthony Emilio, 25 years old, 838 Wilson avenue. They were unarmed. Sergt. Cole said they were identified as the robbers who earlier in the evening obtained $18 from Jerry Slovaka, attendant in a garage at 233 South Ashland avenue.

IT SAVED THEM THEN from GAS POISONING

It will save you hours of stomach misery now!

Here is vitally important NEWS for all who suffer from stomach distress—such as indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, dyspepsia, nausea, excessive acidity, caused by unwise overindulgence in food or drink.

During the World War a great scientific laboratory had been engaged to discover some substance, that in a gas mask, would immediately adsorb the poisonous gases. They found it in a revolutionary form of activated vegetable char. Countless thousands of lives were saved from the treacherous attacks of poison gas warfare through this amazing discovery.

Since then another astonishing discovery has been made about this unique substance.

TODAY . . . after years of exhaustive laboratory tests...it has been found that this unique activated vegetable char has the same amazing powers of adsorbing and harmlessly eliminating the impurities and poisons in the human stomach and intestines!

Results Startle Medical Science

This revolutionary substance, known as NUCHAR, is today used by over 700 cities to purify their water supply both in taste and odor! And now . . . NUCHAR can FREE YOU from that excessive acidity, gas and putrefaction which creates a well of poisons in the human body and which can prove as dangerous to your health as were the poison gases of warfare.

How It Works

Medical science has long known that even ordinary char was to some degree helpful in combating stomach ailments. But NUCHAR, which you can now obtain in tablet form, is 54 times as effective as ordinary char! Each tiny tablet has an extraordinary magnet-like power of adsorbing impurities, toxins and impure substances. Each tablet contains 27,216,000,000 particles (by microscopic count) which adsorb the gas and poisons...without drugs or chemicals. Take 2 or 3 tablets before each meal . . . then eat or drink anything you like without fear of stomach distress...nature expels the poisons before they can spread throughout the system.

When NUCHAR TABLETS are taken into the stomach they render the food more soluble, quickly adsorb impurities and toxins—relieve flatulency—and actively stimulate the digestive processes.

Utterly Harmless

When taken even in large doses over an indefinite period of time NUCHAR TABLETS are absolutely harmless. They contain no drug or chemicals. 2 or 3 tablets before, during or after meals may be swallowed whole with a little water. To meet acute conditions the dosage may be increased 4 or 5 times if desired.

Test Nuchar Today Without Risking One Cent!

If stabbing pains from gas and bloat distress you before and after meals—if food lumps and lays in your stomach for hours—if you ever take soda or any other food crutch or suffer headaches, dizziness, nerve spells, or sleeplessness due to digestive distress make this guaranteed test and be thankful ever after. Take NUCHAR as directed for 5 days. See how soon that feeling of soreness and rawness leaves your stomach, how bloat and gas disappear as if by magic, how heartily you enjoy your food and sound sleep. NUCHAR positively costs you nothing unless it does the work. The small purchase price will be returned upon request.

Today, before your next meal—go to any Walgreen Drug Store. Ask for a 35c package today at any Walgreen Drug Store . . or present coupon below—while limited quantities last—and try at our expense.

Victim Remains Polite in Trying Situation.

To Mrs. Grace G. Villers, junior assistant librarian in the Municipal Reference library in the city hall, who remained not only patient but also smiling under 40 minutes of affliction, yesterday went THE TRIBUNE's politeness award of $25.

The library, operated as a bureau of statistics for city employés, was studiously quiet when a reporter, striding noisily in, approached a blonde little librarian whose desk was piled high with new books she was marking.

"I want Stark Young's 'So Red the Rose,'" the reporter demanded imperiously.

Mrs. Villers raised candid blue eyes from her work.

Librarian Is Unruffled.

"What was that?" she asked pleasantly.

"'So Red the Rose'—a book. I've gotta pass two hours somehow, so I thought I might as well read."

"O, I'm sorry," Mrs. Villers replied, "but we have only material about Chicago here."

"Well," belligerently, "I'm not so sure this isn't about Chicago. I don't know what it's about. I want to read it to find out."

"But it's fiction, isn't it?"

"Sure—stories. It's a book," laboriously.

What a Library!

"Hummph! Who reads them?"

"O, people writing theses—and occasionally an alderman." She paused, and looked at her work-piled desk. "But if you really have two hours to while away, I have a book or two of my own here. Do you like poetry?"—hopefully.

"O, I suppose it would do," the reporter said resignedly. "I don't like it much, though."

Mrs. Villers opened her desk drawer and produced a well-thumbed copy of "Lyra Celtica." The reporter eyed it askance, and sat down some distance away to read—but only for a minute. Then she raised her voice to a nicely strident pitch.

So You Mark Your Books!

"O," Mrs. Villers hesitated. "Those are just my personal marks to show poems I liked best."

The reporter laughed aloud. "Good heavens!" she exclaimed. "Are you one of those persons who mark up their books? You must be maladjusted."

Mrs. Villers glanced quickly around to see if the other readers were disturbed. They were. She nervously smoothed her yellow hair. "Perhaps I am," she returned weakly.

For another 30 minutes the reporter stayed on. She demanded maps, only to cast them aside.

A Pleasant Visitor.

She drummed her fingers on the table. She demanded to be allowed to take a certain book home, expressed loud indignation when informed that an identification card first must be shown and took the matter to the head librarian. Finally she arose.

"I can't read peacefully in here," she announced in a querulous voice. "And, anyway, I want 'So Red the Rose.' Where can I get it?"

Mrs. Villers gave her detailed information concerning a nearby library—prices, location, and stock of books. But her customer's interest in literature was waning.

"Thanks," she said languidly, "but I guess I'll go eat."

Inspections of Private Planes Urged at Inquest

A recommendation that department of commerce officials inspect privately owned airplanes, with particular attention to the wing supports, was made yesterday by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of Willie Fong Kee, 20 years old, 2220 Wentworth avenue, son of Fong Kee of Hillside, N. J., a wealthy importer. Kee was killed Saturday when the wings dropped from the plane in which he was practicing take-offs and he crashed in a field north of Curtiss airfield, near the village of Northbrook. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

WINSHIP IGNORES 'STRIKE' OF PORTO RICO ASSEMBLY

'Business as Usual,' His Decree.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 15.—(AP)—With the Porto Rican legislature "on strike" against the "dictatorial colonial policy" of Washington, Gov. Blanton D. Winship made plans tonight to fly to the capital for conferences with government officials.

In the face of sine die adjournment of the legislature 36 hours in advance of schedule, leaving important legislation hanging in the air, the governor decreed "business as usual" in government affairs.

Ousted Officials to Stay.

"There will be no interruption of the ordinary course of government business," he said. He announced that recess appointments of all officials automatically ousted by the legislative "strike" would be forthcoming immediately.

A special legislative session before the end of the fiscal year on June 30 on the budget and other important matters was considered necessary.

The governor remained calm, saying a good word for the legislators who abruptly ended their session last night. He said considerable good work was done.

The adjournment resolution was forced through the house and senate by a majority coalition in protest against what leaders of the group said was an attempt by Washington authorities to interfere in the island's relief activity.

Angered by Veto.

Coalition spokesmen said Oscar Chapman, assistant secretary of the interior, had advised Gov. Winship to veto a bill creating a public corporation to supplant the recently organized rural rehabilitation corporation because it conflicted with federal plans in Porto Rico.

Coalition members have repeatedly attacked the American government's relief procedure, accusing James Bourne, federal relief administrator, of political favoritism toward the minority liberal party. Bourne repeatedly has denied the charges. He was recently arrested and released under bail on a charge of libeling the legislature.

CHILDREN SAVED AS FIRE WRECKS ORPHANS' HOME

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—[Special.]—The lives of 116 children were endangered today and damage of $150,000 caused by a fire that destroyed the Lutheran orphans' home in St. Louis county.

Some of the children's clothing, including the confirmation dresses worn yesterday by a group of girls at St. Paul's church, were burned.

The fire was discovered as the children finished prayers in the dining room. Most of the youngsters were marshaled under the direction of the matron, Mrs. Rose Pieska, two teachers and four deaconesses, and marched outside. A few of the younger children, the two and three year olds, were carried out.

Firemen from seven St. Louis county towns responded to the alarm. They tried to check the blaze with water from a pond on the orphanage grounds, but a 22 mile an hour wind spread the flames rapidly. The upper floor and attic were in flames before the firemen arrived. It is believed the fire started in a flue near the roof.

KING INCREASES STAF—JUST TO RETURN GIFTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 15.—In a large room in Buckingham palace, where typewriters clatter and messengers scurry to and fro, a complete staf of clerks are busy on a most amazing task—that of returning thousands of jubilee gifts which are pouring in for the king and queen from all parts of the world.

In ordinary circumstances this staf is composed of about a dozen, whose duty it is to return the many curious gifts sent to members of the royal family from perfect strangers. In many cases foreigners think it is the correct thing to send the king and queen a gift when they visit England, in other cases gifts come from people who wish to express their loyalty to the king.

Surprised by Deluge.

In the event of a royal wedding hundreds of gifts arrive for the happy couple, and all have to be returned. It is not etiquet for the royal family to accept presents from private individuals.

Officials at the palace expected a large number of gifts to be sent for the 25th anniversary of King George's coronation, but they hardly expected the overwhelming flood of presents which continue to arrive at the palace every day. Hundreds of gifts, many of them extremely valuable, arrive every hour. Hundreds have come from America—Washington, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Texas—but the largest number, for some unknown reason, from Boston. Canada, Australia, India, and China have with America sent most of the unwanted gifts, with South Africa and New Zealand next on the list followed by Japan, Germany and Italy.

The gifts range from cases of tinned fruit and fish to silk underwear for the king. Many people have sent diamond jewelry, valuable old pictures and rugs. One woman sent a splendid pedigree setter worth about $500. This animal had to be returned by a special messenger to kennels nearly a hundred miles from London.

Gloves Lead List.

Of the many and varied gifts which have arrived gloves top the list. There has been literally thousands of pairs of gloves of all kinds, sizes and shapes, jewelry comes next and foodstuffs third.

Officials wish it to be made public that the king and queen cannot accept gifts from private individuals. The only opportunity open to show an expression of affection is available through a gift to the national jubilee fund which is open to all. This takes the form of a national gift to the king. The goal of the national jubilee fund is $20,000,000 which will be applied to the provision of all forms of aid for the youth of the country.

Only public bodies are permitted to send personal gifts to members of the royal family, and at the king's request many of these have sent checks to the jubilee fund instead of some personal token.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Effect of Rains

April 15, 1935.

DURING the last 10 days men at the Tribune's experimental farm near Plano and Yorkville have worked three and a half full days in the field, seeding spring crops. Before they were driven out of the fields by the rain the middle of the week they prepared 100 acres of ground and completed sowing 60 acres of oats. Forty acres more are disked, ready for the seeder to start as soon as the ground is dry enough for teams to be put in the field.

In addition to sowing the oats, the men seeded 40 acres of this land to clover and timothy, and another 20 acres to Grundy County sweet clover. All of the seeds were covered and put in the ground in good shape, according to Clarence Thurow, farm manager.

The rain gauge at the farm showed that 2 inches of rain fell between 4:30 p. m. Wednesday and the same hour on Thursday. Mr. Thurow deemed the rain beneficial to the old alfalfa fields and the newly sown grass seeds and oats. He said the oats would soon sprout with a few days of sunshine. The men at the farm have followed the practice of working the soil to cover all the newly sown grain before leaving the field each night.

Within the last few days, while the workers were unable to get into the wet fields, they have built fences and shelled seed corn. Thursday they tipped, shelled, graded and treated twenty-one bushels of high grade Will County Favorite seed corn bought from George Harkness, a Kendall county neighbor. Recently the corn was tested for germination and disease by three expert testers—Ray Greenwalt, Marvin Matlock and Delbert Marklein—working under the direction of W. P. Miller, farm adviser, in the Kendall county seed testing house at Yorkville. Only the disease free corn will be planted.

Next week the 46 ewes and 2 rams at the Yorkville farm will be clipped. This flock includes the 15 Southdown ewes in the test north of the Fox river, where sulphur water is given to determine the effect on the growth of wool.

On the Tribune's other experimental farm on Roosevelt road two miles west of Wheaton, about 30 miles north and east of the Yorkville place, the ground has been too wet for oat sowing. Normally there are several days' difference in the season at the two farms, according to Carl Henderson, manager.

Today at the Wheaton farm John Wallner was sowing in the open garden his early annual flowers, including poppies, gypsophalea, nicotiana, candytuft. The other day he gave the peony beds a liberal coating of commercial fertilizer. Mr. Wallner says peonies are gross feeders.

CITIZEN GROUP URGES UTILITY STRIKE PARLEY

Centralia, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—Declaring the union order issued today permitting striking utility workers to return to their jobs does not necessarily mean workers will return, Centralia and Mount Vernon citizens tonight took formal steps to pave the way for a permanent strike settlement.

A citizens' committee drafted a resolution urging Maj. A. V. Becker, state industrial commission arbiter, to go to Champaign immediately and appeal to J. E. Johnson, vice president of the Illinois Power and Light corporation, to confer with Vice President Michael Boyle of the Electrical Workers' union.

Peter J. Angsten, chairman of the industrial commission, asserted at the citizens' meeting that should Johnson refuse to arbitrate the strike, "drastic action will be taken."

Asked what action was proposed in event Johnson failed to meet the union official in conference, Angsten said he would ask Gov. Horner to place the entire matter in the hands of the attorney general of Illinois "for suitable action." He said legislative action may be asked if the strike is not settled soon.

Strike Hits Minnesota Capitol.

St. Paul, Minn., April 15.—[Special.]—The Minnesota state capitol was without light, elevator service, or heat for three hours today during a brief strike of eight employés of the capitol power plant.

AMAZING INVENTION
AIR-CONDITIONING* PRINCIPLE

QUICK FACTS
About Holland Air Conditioning

SUMMER BENEFITS
4 Ventilates each room . . . air in constant motion.
5 Air is filtered.

WINTER BENEFITS
6 Heats your "hardest-to-heat" room, even in zero weather.
9 Pays for itself in fuel savings alone.
10 Gives warm floors all through the house.
12 Complete automatic control.

Does 2 Remarkable Things:

(1) Quietly circulates clean, filtered air throughout the home... changing air completely every 10 minutes

(2) Heats "hardest-to-heat" rooms in winter . . . gives proper humidity . . . banishes stale, stagnant air

Costs surprisingly little

Over 100,000 Already Installed
Thousands Acting Now

AMAZING, but true! Now a simple device—installed in your present warm-air furnace at remarkably low cost—brings a totally new "air-conditioned" comfort to your home! A new and unique invention by the makers of the famous Holland furnaces—so simple, yet so wonderfully effective, you'll wonder it was never thought of before!

"Powered-Air" Principle . . . What It Does

Through this new development, your present warm-air furnace is transformed quickly and easily into a "Powered-Air" unit which produces a comforting relief in summer! Clean, filtered air is kept in constant circulation throughout every room in your house . . . changing completely every ten minutes! The circulation produced is equal in many instances to a good-sized electric fan in each room!

Works Wonders In Winter, Too

In winter, your "Powered-Air" unit forces warm, clean, humidified air to every nook and corner of the house. Even "hardest-to-heat" rooms become comfortable and cozy! Floors stay wonderfully warm. Stale, stagnant air is banished from your rooms, and replaced by clean, healthy, correctly humidified air! With this new Type A Air Conditioner, your furnace operates in winter on safe temperatures of 150 to 200 degrees instead of 400 to 600 degrees, as in the old gravity heating systems. This alone drastically cuts fuel costs and adds years to the life of your furnace . . . such savings quickly pay for this air conditioning equipment.

In Summer... Circulated Clean Air

Make your furnace work for you this summer by installing the new low-cost Holland Type A Air Conditioner now! Brings comfort . . . by ventilating and circulating the air. Operates for as little as 6c a day!

Thousands are acting now to obtain the amazing benefits of the new low-cost Holland Air Conditioner this summer. Why deny yourself and your family all the year-round advantages in health and comfort this remarkable new invention brings? You'll be astonished when you find how little it costs!

*HOLLAND
What It Is . . . What It Does

RELIEF IN THE CULTURE BELT.

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, hopes to get 50 million dollars of the new federal fund for various developments and activities, including the outer drive bridge and some viaducts, subways and passerelles. He also lists swimming pools, fieldhouses, bathhouses, conservatories and park extensions. In addition, Mr. Dunham is prepared to ask for about 7 million dollars for "community projects in leisure activities."

The 5 billion dollar come-and-get-it fund proposes to very active imaginations the question, how can we spend it? It may be difficult to find expenditures which will make capital assets. The human mind is prone to edificial mania and naturally builds triumphal arches and goes in for the heavy ornamentation of eternity. Apparently an essential of the come-and-get-it fund is dissipation. Well considered projects which would substantially add to community welfare require time in planning and even more time in execution. Necessarily they would be spread over a number of years, and in their nature they cannot mobilize a great army of workers and put them immediately on the spot. Therefore the character of the federal project is favorable for waste and not for benefit.

Mr. Dunham isn't the only one who has turned to leisure activity and cultural improvements as a means of getting rid of money as rapidly as possible. Adagio dancing and strange cultural activities such as boondoggling have received the sanction of distinguished influences and weighty minds. Something, it seems, must be done for the white collar employables, and in this direction we turn to crêpe suzettes, pottery, jai alai, bait casting, tap dancing, back stroke, kite flying, purling and curling, bagpipe playing, and instruction in such arts as replying to an invitation to dinner, entering a room without stumbling over a hassock, and mixing cocktails.

A five billion dollar fund for immediate public expenditures, being heretofore confined to the innocent illusions of an insane asylum, has produced a general state of nuttiness. Nobody ever had to do cakes and circuses on such a scale before, and even the best cake eaters are turning bedlamite.

RED TAPE AND FREE ENTERPRISE.

Two stories in a recent issue of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, placed in juxtaposition entirely by chance, produced a striking contrast. The first article recorded an incident of the Escanaba's recent exploit in the ice barrier at the Straits of Mackinac. The lighthouse service of the department of commerce had flatly refused to coöperate, and the sailors of the cutter, which is operated by the treasury department's coast guard service, were obliged to land and hang their own lanterns to guide the vessel in its work. The second article announced the inauguration of air service from Juneau to Nome, Alaska, by the Pacific Alaska Airways. In conjunction with the railways and other air lines, the wonders of Alaska will be made as accessible to Chicagoans as the national parks of the Rocky mountains.

Departmental red tape versus private initiative, and a fine disregard for public welfare versus true coördination of transport agencies. Yet there are those who would advocate government ownership and operation of public utilities, railways, and basic industries—and have the presumption to call themselves economists.

MR. WALGREEN'S CHARGES.

Mr. Charles R. Walgreen, a highly successful and responsible business man, has charged in a letter to President Hutchins and the trustees of the University of Chicago that his niece, while a student at the university, was subjected to communist influences and seditious propaganda. President Hutchins replied with a denial that the university was engaged in propaganda of any sort. Quite properly he added a request for specifications.

The sincerity of both men is evident in their writing. Mr. Walgreen's indignation is apparent, but he writes as a friend of the university who believes that some of the members of its faculty have violated the trust which the institution placed in them. President Hutchins may be annoyed, but his letter does not disclose it. His supplementary statement of what the university regards as its true function, "the critical examination of important problems and of different points of view," is unexceptionable.

The issue is primarily one of fact. What influences was Mr. Walgreen's niece exposed to? Did the things she learned in the classroom come under the head of propaganda or of critical examination of important problems? The distinction ought not to be difficult to draw once the facts are known.

Mr. Walgreen has acted courageously in protesting what he feels to be an abuse. There is no doubt that many citizens share his distrust of the teaching in many of the universities, but few citizens have cared enough about the preservation of American institutions to undertake the unpleasant task of expressing their opinions publicly. Friends of the university, and particularly Chicagoans who have taken a justified pride in its standing and achievements, have reason to be grateful to Mr. Walgreen for raising the issue. If his charges are well founded the institution will be the better for the disclosure, for Mr. Hutchins' letter leaves no doubt that if the case is proved correction will follow. If proof is lacking the university will have been cleared of a charge which, rightly or wrongly, has been leveled at most of the institutions of higher learning in this country and notably against the universities situated in metropolitan cities.

EQUALITY IN WAR.

The moral protest against the enrichment of individuals through the special needs of war and while thousands are making the final sacrifice on the battle field has all the support required for the enactment of appropriate restraints, but it should not be perverted and abused. The restraints adopted should deal with the evil to be corrected and ulterior or subversive purposes should be defeated. It is easy to talk about taking the profit out of war, but how about the profits of agriculture in wartime? The farmer has always been one of the greatest beneficiaries of war conditions. We need not revert to the profits of English farmers during the Napoleonic wars. Our own farmers enjoyed tremendous prices during the late war for wool and cotton, and indeed for all principal farm products. Our radical politicians say nothing about that.

The demand for drastic and sweeping legislation to turn over the control of production to government, that is to politics, is led by men who want politics and burocracy to control the country at all times.

The fallacy underlying these proposals is that they would equalize sacrifice. Sacrifice cannot be equalized by any law. There is no way of equalizing the sacrifice of soldiers who die or are permanently disabled in war unless we take an equal number of civilians to kill or disable them. That would not help the dead or comfort the living, nor would the pretended equality laws help any citizen or the nation. On the contrary, they would increase the burden and difficulties of all, but especially of the men at the front. The veterans who are supporting them ought to know better. If there is anything the soldier must have for his comfort and safety it is the most efficient service of supply obtainable, and that begins not at the depots behind the front but far away on the farms and in the factories. Depress and tangle up the vast machinery of production, and every fighting man will suffer. He will then get no consolation from the laws heedlessly enacted in the name of an equality they cannot establish.

It would be well for the nation and for its soldiers of future wars if all legislation for war organization were postponed until the experience of our nation and of other nations of similar institutions and character has been honestly studied and measures can be framed, without prejudice or ulterior purposes, but in the real interest of the soldier and the nation's strength.

ANOTHER PULLMAN SERVICE.

The Pullman company has proved a good citizen throughout the depression. Its engineers have made an outstanding addition to the comfort of, and consequently the urge for, travel through air conditioning devices. The experimental rail plane and the various streamlined train units that it has constructed are further contributions toward the return of confidence and normal conditions.

The increased speed at which Pullman cars are now being handled by the various railroads offers a further field for research. On the Pennsylvania, as an instance, one is quite conscious of a new vibration as the Broadway passes from the standard to the electrified section at Philadelphia. The same condition is apparent on high speed sections of other railways. Apparently an added stress has been set up which calls for some change in the springs or other mechanisms for absorbing motions induced by increased velocities.

Editorial of the Day

[Fremont, Neb., Tribune.]

For all the power that has been his, in what manner has President Roosevelt made progress toward ending the depression more efficiently than did President Hoover? It is a fair question, after more than two years. Herbert Hoover dealt with the problems of the depression scarcely longer than that. And Hoover had few of the weapons that have graced the arms of his successor. Hoover never had the coöperation of congress. He did not have the confidence of the people. He did not have unlimited billions to spend. He would have been impeached by a hostile congress if he had proposed increasing the national debt to 34 billions of dollars as Roosevelt has done. He was compelled to further his program for recovery in the face of the most stubborn resistance.

Mr. Roosevelt has inherited the same problem, but with none of those obstacles. His chances of success were infinitely greater than those of his predecessor. It is within the limits of logic to say that if he had a program capable of success it should have succeeded. He had no opposition worthy of the name, he had a congress willing to pass any law he might suggest, he had a nation back of him ready to support any plan he proposed, and he had the national wealth at his disposal to finance any experiment he might wish to try.

It is eminently fair, then, to ask now what Roosevelt has succeeded in doing to restore prosperity, with all his unlimited power and his dictatorial command of the government and the people, that Hoover was unable to do with an antagonistic congress and an unfriendly people.

However we color the answer with partisanship, it cannot appear in a light favorable to the present administration. In this we find the reason for the increasing impatience of the American people. They are not willing to wait much longer for tangible results. They are approaching the day when they will ask themselves what it has profited them to repudiate Herbert Hoover and to put Franklin Roosevelt in his place.

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY in New York harbor will be fifty years old next October and the U. S. National Parks service is out for suggestions as to how properly to celebrate the event. Let the bands play and the boats in the harbor fly their flags and have all the poems written about the statue read and sung and a lot of whoopee generally. But fevven's sake! don't turn Liberty around so that she gets a look at the country. If she sees what they're doing to her down in Washington, Liberty is going to give one sad, despairing shriek and jump right off her pedestal kersplash into the cold, dank waters of the harbor.

THE POET.

Once I knew a poet,
And he was always gay,
And men were always merry
When he would come their way;
And O! he loved a lady
More fair than I can tell,
Nor did he love her vainly,
For she loved him as well.

Yet all his songs were sad songs,
And all his dreams were dim
In the wan light of sorrows
That burned no time in him;
His unsung love and laughter
Long with his dust have lain,
And he must weep forever
Who never knew of pain.

COMMUNISM AND ANTI-COMMUNISM may attract more or less attention in the colleges in the springtime when it's a rather dull season anyhow, but for real sport it's never going to take the place of basketball and can't be mentioned in the same breath with football.

COMMUNISM hadn't been heard of in the college when I was a freshman. The only way the students could attract attention then was to stay away from chapel and say we couldn't go because we were agnostics. There would be a little excitement at first and people would point us out in horror and speak of us in hushed tones as we walked proudly around the campus. And then they treated agnosticism as a sort of recurring epidemic the same as mumps or measles. Which, of course, took all the fun out of being an agnostic and we promptly went back to chapel, sang in the choir and took up the collection at church on Sunday.

AND NOW THE IDEA seems to be that if the state pays ten dollars on an old age pension the government will come across with another ten, making twenty. Shucks! it isn't worth growing old if a feller only gets twenty dollars a month for it. Whoops! light the candle at both ends! let's go places and see things and we won't come home until morning! Twenty dollars a month for getting old! Bah! that won't pay for false teeth and hair dye.

So long ago I walked pale emerald ways
To drum-taps of arbutus-scented rain!
In tardy shadows saw the loosening strain
Of nature's leash upon the lengthening days;
Now plodding through the wet right-angled miles
That check the stony streets, I hear again
Calling the sleepers on each hill and plain
Reveille, blown down wooded leafing aisles.

There by your side, a hand within your own
I cupped the other to that silver fall
Half frightened by a deepening undertone
Presaging to my heart your wakening call.
Sound-prisoned is one brief uncertain hour

WOOD TICK FEVER.

IN 1906-'07 Howard Taylor Ricketts, experimenting with animals near Missoula, Mont., demonstrated that Rocky mountain spotted fever was spread through the bite of infected wood ticks—Dermacentor andersoni. He showed that the disease was transmitted from an infected female to the eggs and hence to the young ticks.

Rocky mountain fever has been recognized for but little more than fifty years, although it seems to be constantly present in the wood ticks of the Bitter Root valley of Montana. It is difficult to verify Indian tradition, but it appears that the disease was known to the Blackfoot, the Nez Percé, and the Shoshoni Indians in the early '70s, and that they were particularly careful to avoid certain localities, especially in the spring months.

The disease is no longer confined to a small area. Its spread has been slow but sure, and it is to be found throughout many parts of the Rocky mountain region and to the eastward. In 1933 five cases were reported from the state of Iowa. A recent report in the Colorado Medical Journal relates that in thirty years one physician had seen nearly 200 cases.

In sections where the disease is common recognition is not difficult. Since 1931, however, many cases of true Rocky mountain spotted fever have been observed along the Atlantic seaboard. These were at first thought to be typhus fever. An accurate diagnosis may be made by inoculating a guinea pig with the blood of a suspected patient and observing the behavior of the animal.

The onset of the disease is characterized by chills and fever, headache, backache, and general muscle and joint pains. The patient is prostrated and the temperature range is from 102 to 105 degrees, with a correspondingly rapid pulse. As the temperature subsides there is a period of remission, followed by a return of the symptoms—as a rule not quite so severe. Skin eruptions appear as early as the second or third day, first on the wrists and ankles, later on the extremities, then on the body and the face. These lesions may be very tiny, but are often a quarter of an inch in diameter. At first they are rose color, later becoming dark red or purplish. In severe cases the eruptions run together, causing a patchy or marbled appearance of the skin.

Through the work of R. R. Spencer and R. R. Parker of the United States public health service a vaccine has been prepared and its use is rapidly increasing. Two doses are usually given, and in one community—Sheridan, Wyo.—more than 4,000 persons have been vaccinated since 1927. The vaccine helps protect against the infection, but has no power once the disease has become established. Even this vaccine is not always protective.

There is no specific treatment and symptoms will need to be managed as they arise.

Because of the relatively fatal character of the disease every one must be on the alert against the spread of the infection. Individuals who live in wood tick infested areas should be protected by proper clothing. Fortunately the ticks do not thrive on cleared or cultivated land, but there is much evidence to believe that they are being spread—possibly through wild animals, chiefly rodents—to wooded sections throughout the country.

In infested regions the disease appears as early as March and continues until October. Campers particularly should use special precautions. If bitten by a wood tick the insect should be removed promptly and the area of the bite thoroughly cauterized. The ticks may be readily recognized. They are reddish brown in color, the male having the back marked with black and silvery white lines, the female having a small shield on the back marked with silver and an abdomen of reddish brown.

SHOCK.

D. S. D. writes: In a recent article you say, concerning shock: "If the patient is pale and cold use heat if available, or give hot coffee if it can be swallowed." But coffee is not always available, even when water and milk may be. Is a hot liquid preferable to alcohol? The latter was frequently recommended for snake bite, automobile or train accident, fainting, or even fatigue. Since repeal such recommendations are even more frequent. It seems rather useless for schoolmasters to teach in their physiology classes that narcotics such as tobacco and alcohol are injurious, for in the movies and in most novels everybody smokes tobacco incessantly and drinks a dozen times each day some form of alcohol.

REPLY.

Alcohol is of no particular value in cases of shock. Caffein, found in tea and coffee, is of great value and should be given if the patient can swallow. Care should be taken not to have the liquid too hot. Two-thirds of a cup of moderately strong coffee contains approximately 1 to 1½ grains of caffein.

Schools are supposed to teach the truth. Movie scenarios and novels are fiction portrayed by "actors."

STERILIZING BOOK.

M. B. F. writes: How should one sterilize a book that has been used by a person who died of tuberculosis?

REPLY.

Tubercle bacilli can live but a short time under drouth conditions. Books are dry, and if a book is opened and exposed to the sun for a day or two there will be little or no danger.

1. If the assets are sufficient to pay the debts then we see no objection to your paying the rent to the representative of the heirs.
2. If all parties are satisfied we see no reason why the probate could not be dispensed with, excepting that probate will be necessary in order to produce a title that a future purchaser of the real estate could be compelled to accept. If the will is probated the propriety of paying the rent to the executor would depend on the wording of the will.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Paris Today

BY MAY BIRKHEAD.

PARIS.—Everybody here and a good many in other countries have an idea that dueling in France is unlawful. But no one can prove that it is. You always hear about officers of the law being at or near the scene of a duel, but they never arrest any one for taking part, either as principal or second, in what is called "an affair of honor." In recent years dueling here has been rather rare. Heaven knows Frenchmen used to fight duels often enough, and sometimes on very slight provocation. The latest encounter to cause much excitement in Paris was fought only last week between two Corsicans. Now Corsica is as much a place for feuds as Kentucky ever was. And then Corsicans, coming to Paris to seek their fortune, take sides in the bitter factions of French politics.

Those who have followed the famous Stavisky affair will remember that there was a tremendous outcry in February, 1934, just before the great riots in Paris over the dismissal of the police head, Jean Chiappe. The weekly paper, Gringoire, has been particularly militant against all who in any way tried to defend the régime which forced Chiappe to resign. M. de Carbuccia's paper remarked recently that Maitre Campinchi, an outstanding pleader at the Paris bar, and a fellow Corsican, had the highest record in France for losing cases. When seconds were called in it was decided that such a statement was not offensive enough to warant a duel. So Maitre Campinchi wrote a letter whose insolence was unmistakable, and got shot in the arm—with a bullet—for his trouble.

For centuries kings and legislators have tried to suppress dueling in France, but without avail. In the last decade of Henry IV.'s reign 8,000 duels were fought in France. No decrees or threats could stop them. Under Louis XIV. there was a famous duel between two women of high degree. One of them shouted to her adversary to fire first and when she missed her Mme. de Polignac fired and nipped off the other one's ear—all this because they were rivals for the affections of a notorious nobleman.

RADICAL TEACHING AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Chicago, April 13.—So many people have asked me [probably because I have been at the University of Chicago for forty years], "What's all this talk about radical teachings at the university?" that I venture to ask an opportunity to answer the question publicly.

No teacher at the university, outside the departments of economics, sociology, history, and political science, ever discusses political problems in the classroom. On the quadrangles or in his home he will talk as he thinks, with any student as with any other acquaintance. Teachers in the four departments which are directly related to the study of "civics" present to their students whatever political and social ideas have been of influence, whether these ideas originated with Herbert Hoover or Karl Marx, Thomas Jefferson or Huey Long, THE TRIBUNE or the New Republic. He will analyze these ideas and put them in their historical perspective.

No member of the faculty of the university is a member of the communist party. Six or seven are members of the Socialist party. Of the other eight hundred or so, probably five hundred voted for Roosevelt in 1932, two hundred and fifty for Hoover, the rest for Norman Thomas. Of the undergraduates, fewer than one-half of 1 per cent are "young communists," as they call themselves, and fewer than 2 per cent are, or mean to become, Socialists—worse luck! I am a Roosevelt Democrat now, as I was formerly a Roosevelt Republican; but I was a Socialist at 20, and it made me a better Progressive and Democrat later.

Among the undergraduates of my acquaintance—and it is perhaps the largest at the university—the proportion of those who do not believe in war is the same as among the employés of THE TRIBUNE—100 per cent.

President Hutchins is a gentleman, a scholar, an executive, and a humorist. He is not a communist, a Fascist, a Socialist, or a Republican.

This letter is not an argument, nor an "opinion," but a statement of facts.

JAMES WEBER LINN.

COMMENDATION AND REGRET.

Chicago, April 14.—I am sure all the patriotic societies in Chicago join me in commending Charles R. Walgreen for the stand he has taken regarding the teaching of communism at the University of Chicago.

I sincerely regret that the university in my beloved Chicago had to take the brunt of criticism as schools, colleges and universities all over this broad land of ours have taken all sorts of "isms" into their curriculum, which is a dire menace to the United States of Washington and Lincoln. Patriotic societies organized by the descendants of the fathers and defenders of our country are trying in their feeble way to counteract this baleful influence, but need the coöperation of influential people like Mr. Walgreen to make the people wake up.

It is our earnest desire to insist that all teachers of our young people be requested to take the oath of allegiance which is given to newly naturalized citizens, and then see that they live up to it.

EMMA R. CADIEUX,
Chairman, Legislative Committee, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

FROM A POMMELED HOST.

Chicago, April 14.—Every once in a great while a person who is normally a trifle lethargic and easy going becomes a wee bit angry—especially when several hundred American Legion buddies have a gay time mobbing and beating six American college students.

Yes; I am one of the "terrible six," one of those who the other night served as two legged punching bags for mob psychologized veterans and their fists, feet, trumpets and drumsticks, one of those who started out the evening in full accord with many things which later seemed empty and sardonical. Our guests did a right good job of pommeling their hosts.

I may not be speaking for university authorities, but I believe I am voicing majority student opinion here when I say we are sick, tired, fed up and ready to fight this ballyhoo, this bunk, about various "menaces" at this university, one of the greatest and best in the world. We are not only fed up; we are gorged.

And when Legionnaires can in one night maul our yearbook's managing editor, our ex-editor of the Maroon and present correspondent for your paper, an R. O. T. C. officer, a coming football player and another "dangerous" person like myself, whose radicalism extends to playing in the university band and singing "Wave the Flag!" we do not term the "menace"—if any—Red. When five or six fraternity men, whose real American ideals lie far deeper and upon more sincere beliefs than some of their elder "patriots," are treated like stray dogs, and when campus leaders are thrown out of their fieldhouse by strangers, investigations certainly are in order—but of a far different type from those proposed.

ROBERT T. KESNER.

FREE INQUIRY.

Chicago, April 14.—Universities are the centers for study of every new idea. The best defense against all doctrins, whether old or new, is acquaintance with facts and an attitude of scientific inquiry. One of the greatest criticisms of communism is that, as practiced in Russia, it prohibits free speech and free study. Those who would interfere with the freest and fullest inquiry into all subjects at universities are aligning themselves with Stalin, Mussolini, Hitler, and the repressives of past centuries.

I am not a trustee or graduate of the University of Chicago. My Alma Mater was Yale. But it is my opinion that the University of Chicago is at least the second most distinguished center of scholarship and science on the American continent. The people of Chicago possibly do not fully realize the world distinction of the university in their midst. A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country. Thoughtless citizens, however rich and influential, bring no credit on themselves or their city when they try to establish a censorship on the intellectual freedom of an institution which is of service to the whole world of science and the humanities.

EDWIN R. EMBREE,

AD HOMINEM.

Oak Park, Ill., April 13.—In my opinion Charles Walgreen has pulled one of the cleverest pieces of free advertising at the expense of his niece ever seen in these parts.

SUPREME COURT HITS ATTORNEYS FOR UNFAIRNESS

Berger Gets New Trial in Counterfeiting Case.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—After roundly criticizing on assistant district attorney for having "overstepped the bounds of fairness" the Supreme court today warned all federal prosecuting officers they should be less interested in winning criminal cases than in seeing "that justice shall be done."

Employing unusually strong lanuage for the high court, Justice Sutherland flayed the methods used by the proecuting officer in the case of Harry Berger, Brooklyn, sentenced to a year and a day for counterfeiting.

While the court did not name the attorney, quotations it made in the decision from the stenographic report of the Berger case disclosed it was referring to Henry Singer, assistant United States attorney for eastern New York.

New Trial is Ordered.

In ordering a new trial for Berger the court said Singer was "guilty of misconduct."

"The United States attorney is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy," the decision stated, "but of a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as compeling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest, therefore, in a criminal prosecution, is not that it shall win a case, but that justice shall be done."

It said the federal prosecuting officer "is in a peculiar and very definite sense the servant of the law, the two fold aim of which is that guilty shall not escape or innocence suffer. He may prosecute with earnestness and vigor—indeed, he should do so.

"Foul" Blows Barred.

"But while he may strike hard blows, he is not at liberty to strike foul ones. It is as much his duty to refrain from improper methods calculated to produce a wrongful conviction as it is to use every legitimate means to bring about a just one."

The court said the prosecutor in the Berger case "was guilty of misstating the facts in his cross-examination of witness; of putting into the mouths of such witnesses things which they had not said; of suggesting by his questions that statements had been made to him personally out of court, in respect of which no proof was offered; of pretending to understand that a witness had said something which he had not said and persistently cross-examining the witness upon that basis; of assuming prejudicial facts not in evidence; of bullying and arguing with witnesses, and in general, of conducting himself in a thoroughly indecorous and improper manner."

More than $80,000, collected from the victims of the Sir Francis Drake estate fraud, has been recovered, it was announced yesterday by Walter Johnson, chief postoffice inspector here. When five men were seized at 844 Rush street on April 8 the police and postoffice inspectors recovered $26,000. An additional $25,000 was found in a loop safety deposit box last Thursday and another amount found Saturday brought the total to more than $80,000. Assistant United States District Attorney Austin Hall is preparing to take the evidence before the grand jury.

6 Lawyers, One State Senator, Disbarred in Philadelphia Quiz

Philadelphia, Pa., April 15.—(AP)—In an unprecedented purge prosecuted by the local bar association, a state senator, a civil service commissioner and four other lawyers today were disbarred from the practice of law by the Common Pleas courts.

Collusion with racketeers and other unethical practices were charged. Two others were exonerated but admonished.

The senator disbarred is Samuel W. Salus, 63, a state legislator for 32 years and a lawyer for forty years, whose conduct the court branded "reprehensible."

Herbert W. Salus, Philadelphia civil service commissioner, is the senator's younger brother. The "extraordinary feature" is that he "evidently regards his conduct as meritorious," the court said in disbarring him.

Comments of the Court.

The others disbarred and the court's comment:

Albert P. Goldberg, employed by the Salus law office—"guilty of the grossest kind of professional misconduct."

Arthur S. Werblun—"Sought to conceal his misdeeds by false and evasive testimony and by the destruction of account books of his firm."

Discharged:

I. J. Brad Brodsky, former associate of Lemisch—"Deserves censure."

30 Days for Appeals.

The disbarred attorneys have 30 days in which to file appeals with the Pennsylvania Supreme court. The lawyers or their counsel indicated in all cases that the appeals will be taken and possibly supersedeases will be sought to stay the disbarment pending final decree.

The Salus law office's part in the alleged unethical practices has not been disposed of entirely. Arthur S. Salus, the senator's son, has been referred to the bar association "for appropriate action" as the result of a morals case in which his father was involved as counsel.

Investigation of the lawyers was prompted by Judge Horace Stern nearly a year ago when he wrote to Roland S. Morris, chancellor of the bar association, while sitting in a court dealing especially with arrests in the "number game" lottery.

Senator Salus' activities in the so-called Kroekel case drew sharp language from the court. Salus was on one side and his employé on the other.

THREE OF 6 GIVE UP IN TRUSTEES MAIL FRAUD CASE

Three of the six former officials of the Trustees System Service corporation who were named last week in mail fraud indictments by the federal grand jury surrendered yesterday at the office of the United States District court clerk and were released in $2,500 bail. The bond was reduced from $5,000 on the plea of Attorney Gerald Wiley, who represents all the defendants. Those who surrendered are John C. Corcoran, 1146 Farwell avenue, the founder; Dennis J. Corcoran, 720 Bittersweet place, vice president and brother of the founder, and Frank J. Gibbons, 9441 Vanderpoel avenue, president. Attorney Wiley said the others, L. J. Medina, Frank J. Nicholson, and Jacob Born, will surrender in a few days.

Boy, 14, Seriously Burned in Kitchen Stove Blast

Frank McIntire, 14 years old, was seriously burned yesterday when a kitchen stove exploded in the home at 336 South Francisco avenue where he is living with friends. The boy apparently mistook a can of gasoline for kerosene in lighting a fire. He was taken to the West Side hospital.

MINISTER TELLS OF $4,000 LOSS AT PARISH TRIAL

The Rev. David H. Cramer, a Presbyterian minister of Kinsman, O., testified yesterday before a jury in the court of Federal Judge John P. Barnes that he lost $4,000 in the crash of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company in 1932.

The minister appeared as a government witness against Frank P. Parish and three other former officials of the pipe line company who are on trial charged with using the mails to defraud.

Dr. Cramer said he bought the stock in 1930 from Stephen Gascione, a salesman for one of Missouri-Kansas' dealers in Columbus, O., after reading the pipe line company's alluring literature. He had a small profit when the shares rose to $35 each, the minister testified, and wanted to sell, but was dissuaded by Gascione, who told him it would go to $40. He then held the shares and lost his entire investment in the collapse.

Several other "victims" of the failure of Missouri-Kansas were witnesses yesterday as the prosecution moved into the third and what is expected to be the final week of its case. Earlier in the day other government witnesses told of Missouri-Kansas' elaborate advertising campaign and the mailing of circulars to prospective purchasers of the stock. The defendants, in addition to Parish, are James McManmon, Ralph G. Crandall, and Samuel J. Maddin.

Parish Lawyer Tells of Threat.

After court yesterday afternoon Attorney Dupuy Warrick of Kansas City, Mo., counsel for Parish, told Judge Barnes that Mrs. Parish had informed him she received an anonymous telephone call warning her that it would "go hard" with her husband's lawyer and the defendants "if the lawyer doesn't lay off a certain company in his cross-examination and defense."

Within these walls

In Philadelphia, the humblest worker shares a privilege in common with the wealthiest man. At his threshold each may pause and reflect: "Within these walls are my possessions. Here all is mine!"

Few apartment houses, no tenements . . . but thousands upon thousands of one-family dwellings, mile after mile of individual homes.

More single-family homes than there are in any other city in America; more than in all of New York City and Buffalo combined; more than in Chicago and St. Louis added together.

The desire for a private home is born and bred into Philadelphians through generations of home-loving people. It is a dominating force in their lives, an actuating motive in their working, saving, sacrificing.

You have an interested audience. Home dwellers are seeking always to add to the comfort and convenience of living. Home purchases come first in the budget of Philadelphia families.

These home people have built up a great home newspaper in Philadelphia through which you may reach nearly every family at one of the lowest costs in America.

The circulation of The Philadelphia Bulletin during 1934 was 511,647 daily. (1933 average — 504,822.) It is all net paid, all the result of reading interest, all obtained without premium or contest. It is two and one-half times the circulation of any other Philadelphia evening newspaper and more than the morning newspapers combined.

During the last three years, more national advertising has appeared in The Bulletin than in any other six-day newspaper in America.

See your Advertising Agent for further information about this greatest Market of Homes, and about the newspaper nearly everybody in Philadelphia reads.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—The liberal-conservative tussle for leadership of the Daughters of the American Revolution expanded today in a barrage of meetings and statements.

Mrs. William A. Becker, generally regarded as the conservative candidate, made her bid at the annual session of the national defense committee of the organization, which she heads.

After that was over, her opponent, Dr. Flora Myers Gillentine of Chattanooga, Tenn., issued a statement in which she pledged support to "whatever provision for defenses on land and sea and in the air our constituted authorities and their technical advisers deem necessary."

"But I may say," she continued, "I am unalterably opposed to making the national society the vehicle for the dissemination of the propaganda of munitions manufacturers, whose activities are revealed by the investigation going on in the senate."

Mrs. Becker of Summit, N. J., presented six defense speakers, three of them college youths.

The daughters were told by J. Kenneth Bennett, Columbia student, that conditions were so bad on that campus that "we have to adopt semi-secret methods to have any sort of patriotic organization."

The Columbia college newspaper, he said, was "controled by the National Student league, and subtly used to destroy home, church, and family."

Nudist Theater Guild of N. Y. Really Nude in Third Act of Play

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The traditional costuming of the theater was thrown to the winds tonight, quite literally, when the Nudist Theater Guild offered its initial performance before a New York audience with "The Girl from Childs."

Without regard to any technical aspects of the performance, the Guild admittedly makes clear it has an eye to the novelty of a nude theater as its drawing card in attracting New York audiences.

This theme is stressed not alone on the stage, but by the serving of "nudist champagne cocktails" between acts, a "nudist" orchestra, and an after-the-show midnight bathing party at the Hotel Sutton pool—all for the price of a two-twenty admission.

The first two acts are laid in the library of the Stuyvesant Wood home in Washington, and the actors go through their rôles with a minimum of clothing—but still clothing.

The last act switches to a nudist camp, and under the diffusing glow of blue lights, the cast goes au naturel in true nudist colony fashion. The performance, however, gives the impression of complete decorum and to a sophisticated audience undoubtedly would differ little from some of the stage displays of the more daring musical comedy spectacles common to Broadway.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

We heard about real sports costume jewelry to be found in an honest-to-goodness sports shop and before the morning was over we wandered in and gloated over the stuff. There are swanky new ideas, far removed from the old tricks that looked as if they had been reclaimed in some hardware store. Gone are the bulky, clumsy bracelets, the ropey and wooden looking pins, and other gew-gaws that made sensitive souls shudder. Enter the grand new stuff.

You should see the lether bracelets, narrow tan thong affairs, with a gold Scottie or Airedale dangling from the businesslike clasp, the gold bracelets hung with a jingling roundup of horse's heads, the painted discs of dogs or horses, and the bar pins with the similar hand painted medallions.

There are knockout wooden chest or ascot pins of all the most popular kinds of hounds that steal your heart, and a zipper alligator case that is flat, small, and compact, just the find for a golfer who will not be burdened with anything large as extras. In this same shop we found the famous key pin, a replica of the good old fashioned front door key or a tiny copy of what they pass out to visiting firemen as the famous key to the city. The fashion significance of this golden metal key isn't apparent, but we suspect some wag had the idea that one might wear it as the key to the overworked heart. Whatever the meaning, it makes a very unusual and tricky little chest pin to anchor where you will.

Before you can tear yourself away from all these out-of-doors clothes and the appropriate extras you'll undoubtedly spend your extra cash for one of the so called straight Scotch Tomboy Twin sweaters. They are the nearest things to hand knits you ever blinked an eye over. The buttons alone make them extremely buyable, especially to a dog fancier, for each one has a tail wagging Scottie thereon. They're shown in pull-overs and matching cardigans, in white, turquoise, pink, and navy.

THE STAGE

The playhouse of the North Shore Country Day school, in Winnetka, which seats 500 and has excellent stage facilities, will be the scene of the summer drama festival that Ben Guy Phillips is organizing. Performances will begin about June 20.

Mr. Phillips is now in New York engaging his company. He announces a tentative schedule of plays as follows: "Accent on Youth," by Samson Raphaelson; "Post Road," by Wilbur Daniel Steele; "The Petrified Forest," by Robert E. Sherwood; "The Man with a Load of Mischief," by Ashley Dukes, and either Barrie's "Mary Rose" or Shaw's "St. Joan."

"Laburnum Grove," a comedy by J. B. Priestley which is current in New York, will probably appear in Chicago this spring. The original company will act the play in Milwaukee during the week of May 6, as the second item in the program of a drama festival. A Chicago engagment will follow, according to present plans.

A third company of "Three Men On A Horse," now running in Chicago and New York, will be placed in rehersal this week for a tour of the smaller cities. Percy Kilbride will have the rôle acted here by Jack Sheehan and in New York by William Lynn.

The "Life Begins at 8:40" company will arrive in Chicago this afternoon to prepare for its première in the Grand Opera house next Saturday night.

Miss Ranney to Be Bride at Large Wedding

Ceremony to Take Place at St. Chrysostom's.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Kentucky Derby will draw a lot of older Chicago fashionables to Louisville the first Saturday in May, but certainly few of our young, unmarried girls will be going to this year's Derby, for there will be far too many young men here from other cities on that day.

And to a young lady there just isn't any comparison between new, eligible bachelors and race horses, even when the horses are the pick of the country as those at the Derby are sure to be. The young men will be here to usher at the Ranney-Donnelley wedding, which will be one of the smartest and the largest of the many fashionable spring ceremonies.

The Rev. Dudley Stark will read the service that will unite in marriage Miss Dorothy Ranney and Gaylord Donnelley at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in St. Chrysostom's church, after which there will be a reception at the Casino.

Miss Ranney, the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ranney, will be attended as maid of honor by her subdeb sister, Cornelia, and by four young matrons and two unmarried friends as bridesmaids. They will be Mrs. Conway Olmsted [Mary Elizabeth Johnston], Mrs. Robert S. Pirie [Betty Borden], Mrs. Oakleigh L. Thorne [Bertha Palmer], Mrs. John Crago of St. Louis [Lulie Simmons of St. Louis], Miss Jean Stevens, and Miss Gertrude Chase of Santa Barbara.

Elliott Donnelley will serve his brother as best man and ushering will be Charles C. Haffner Jr., James O. Heyworth Jr., Frederick F. Robinson, Hoyt Smith, Donald R. McLennan Jr., John Drum and George A. Ranney Jr., all of Chicago; Walter Moore Swoope of Madera, Pa.; J. Cornelius Rathborne of Westbury, Long Island, N. Y.; John Walker of New York; Guthrie C. Smith of Binghamton, N. Y., and George Brooks Jr. of Scranton, Pa.

Mr. Donnelley, a son of Thomas Elliott Donnelley of Lake Forest, and his bride-to-be have not decided where they will live when they return from a wedding journey, the destination of which is not certain yet, either, but they think they will have an apartment in Chicago.

Announce Engagement of Miss Ellen Wacker.

Announcement was made yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Wacker of Lake Forest of the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Jenning, to Thomas Chaney Sheffield, son of L. T. Sheffield of New London, Conn., and Mrs. Herbert Dittler of New York.

Miss Wacker, a debutante of the last season and granddaughter of the late Charles H. Wacker, who organized the Chicago plan commission and for whom Wacker drive was named, went to school at Dobbs Ferry. She now is studying at the Art institute and she plans to carry on her art work after her marriage, which is to take place late in June.

Mr. Sheffield, a graduate of St. Paul's and of Yale, class of 1932, has been living in Chicago since soon after he finished college.

The Parish guild of the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest is going to have its annual Easter sale all day next Saturday in a showroom at 602 North Western avenue. There will be a complete offering of Easter eggs, candies and cakes, potted plants, and even books.

The sale will begin early in the morning and continue until every article has been sold, Mrs. Randolph G. Owsley, president of the Parish guild, explains.

Mrs. Kenneth Brown Will Lecture Today.

Mrs. Everts Wrenn is having quite a large luncheon today at her residence in Ritchie court for Mrs. Kenneth Brown [Demetra Vaka], who is lecturing this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Chicago Latin School for Girls on "Famous Men I Have Interviewed." Mrs. Brown, born a Greek, is a charming woman and well known as an author and lecturer. Her lecture this afternoon will be for the benefit of the Mabel Slade Vickery scholarship fund of the school.

The fashion show that the Evanston board of the Northwestern settlement is to have next Monday as a part of its annual spring benefit at the Evanston Country club will include a bridal procession. Mrs. Lucien Wilkinson is to take the part of the bride.

Final plans for the benefit are to be made this morning at a board meeting at the home of Mrs. George B. Dryden, 1314 Ridge avenue, Evanston.

Having sponsored almost every variety of benefit during its history, the Kenwood Social Service club has decided upon a supper-dance as its charity party for this spring. The party will be held May 18 at the Palmer house. The club juniors will stage a fashion show during the evening.

Mrs. John Crerar, Mrs. Welch Dickinson, Mrs. R. Townsend McKeever, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Mrs. Francis Neilson, Howard F. Gillette, Mrs. Edward Morris, and Mrs. Isaac C. Elston Jr. are a few of those who have made reservations for the 25th anniversary celebration of the opening of the Blackstone hotel tonight at the hotel. The silver jubilee will take the form of a dinner-dance.

Diver-Goodwine Nuptials April 27.

Mr. and Mrs. George Diver have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Alice Helen, to Earl Goodwine Jr. The service will be read at 4:30 on April 27 at the Diver residence, 903 Forest avenue, Evanston, by the Rev. Father Duffin of St. Mary's church, Evanston, in the presence of only the immediate families. A reception for the many friends of Saris— Philosopher— Button Bag— Excuse.

A WAX MANNEQUIN, sitting stiffly in a State street store window wearing an evening gown of eastern influence, with a sari over her flaxen head, was something of a shock, despite the photographs in the magazines and newspapers that, for some weeks, have been heralding the fashion. Why don't the men's tailors give their patrons a chance to look like Bengal lancers, I wonder. They will have a chance to for once at least at the Puggly Nautch ball, to be held May 22 at the Drake under the auspices of the Association of Arts and Industries. Puggly nautch—by the way—is the corruption of two words in Hindustani, pagal, meaning the man one, and nach, meaning dance. As you probably know, it is one of a trio of favorite parties in India; the gymkhana, with which we are familiar; the puggly khana, the Indian version of the picnic, and the puggly nautch, the formal, though very gay masked ball. The Chicago version will have a moonlit garden for its setting, and the dancers will dine at small tables under silver leaves.

SOME weeks ago a query was expressed in this space as to what had become of mother's button bag. Mildred Young writes that she knows. It was last seen two years ago lying on the sidewalk at State street and Grand avenue; and the lanky lad who had dropped it, scattering the buttons over the sidewalk, had been ordered by the corner news stand proprietor to pick them up, as people were slipping on them. He picked them up, one by one, and put them back into the bag, thoughtfully, as if he were remembering "this pink button was on Sister Essie's dress; those black jet ones mother cherished, and the tiny buttons, on his christening frock. . . ."

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The People's Symphony orchestra, which has had its regrettable period of silence during the recent economic unpleasantness, became audible again last night at Orchestra hall under the direction of the man who has been its conductor since its start, P. Marinus Paulsen. On this occasion Mr. Paulsen decided, be it said with considerable justification, to demonstrate that he has gifts as a composer as well as a conductor. Wherefore the first half of the program consisted of his own works.

Some of them, the symphonic poem "Savonarola" and "Four Oriental Sketches," had been previously performed. But preceding them were the overture and two arias from his opera "The Cimbrians," in their first American performance. Mr. Paulsen, said the advance notices, has already received an invitation from the Danish government to go to Copenhagen next summer and conduct his work, his opera, at the Royal Opera there. It is a work of nationalistic interest, since it tells the story of how the Cimbrians emigrated from Denmark to northern Italy about nineteen years before the beginning of the Christian era.

He would seem to have distinct gifts for writing for the stage. He knows the value of melody and color. One might complain that he is a bit overly fond of moderate tempos, but at that he knows how to pile up an impressive climax. In the overture he made use of two early Danish instruments, lurs as they were named in advance notices, primitive long-necked trumpets whose crude blare gave an astonishingly vivid note of early warfare.

The two arias following were sung by Marjorie Livingston, Chicago soprano. They proved above all that Mr. Paulsen knows how to write good dramatic melody and that Miss Livingston knows how to sing it in highly effective fashion. In the opera excerpts and in the works following the orchestra, a much more efficient body than it has ever been before, made an excellent showing. The second half of the program consisted of selections from Wagnerian operas, in which Miss Livingston again appeared as soloist.

Vitaly Schnee, pianist; Linda Sool, violinist; Ethel Heide Wishover, contralto; William Benson, tenor, and Florence Galajikian, composer, will appear in the April program of the Chicago Artists' association in Curtiss hall tonight.

Herbert E. Hyde, excellent organist and excellent all around musician, gave the Monday afternoon organ recital at Orchestra hall yesterday. Making few pretenses at being a virtuoso of the instrument, he is a highly satisfactory Bach player in matters of clarity, suavity, and sound musical sense. He, however, by no means confines himself to works of the ancients. He is a composer of imagination himself, and he likewise introduced other contemporary compositions, a highly attractive work by Felix Borowski among them.

Good Morning!

"Car 99" is a thrilling and amusing chronicle of a man hunt in Michigan. It throws a lot of light on the activities of the radio patrolmen and will make you burn with admiration for Michigan's electrically controled system of netting fugitives.

Scenes showing you just how the gallant automobile policemen are made the efficient hounds of the law that they are start the piece. Then the story gallops into description of the [fictional] pursuit of young Trooper Martin and his Buddy of a gang of desperadoes who have committed a bank robbery in a small Michigan town. . . .

Martin, enthusiastic but new to the work, lets the prey get away from him and is put off the force. He's a very miserable young man, for he, and the pretty telephone girl to whom he's engaged, have been mighty proud of his job. Fortune, however, is with him, and it becomes his lot to make a spectacular capture after the gang, who have escaped him once, have committed another outrage and foiled all but—young Martin! WHO, of course, becomes young TROOPER Martin again in due course of time.

The story unreels with speed, punch and humor. Fred MacMurray, that newcomer you liked so much in "The Gilded Lily," is a smart and likable Martin. William Frawley plays a hard-boiled, ivory-domed police sergeant in great style. Sir Guy Standing is splendid as the M-I-N-D of the gang. Frank Craven hands you laughs a-plenty as small town sherif, and you'll care considerably for Ann Sheridan as the pretty, loyal telephone operator.

A nice thing about this piece is the sense of protection it gives you. Three cheers, cheer you, for our STATE TROOPERS!

See you tomorrow.

There's something about the approach of Easter, we've discovered, that makes women think about perfumes. Many of them have asked us about fragrances lately—and some of the inquiries have come from women we'd never suspected of giving perfume a thought.

For the most part, we find women wanting right now a perfume with some zip to it, rather than something on the completely romantic order. There are several such, but we've been playing with one recently that we think exceptional.

It's not new. It has been around for years and known to a few. One reason for its neglect by a lot of women for whom it would be perfect may be its name. Whoever tacked that on apparently didn't know that names are awfully important to perfumes. Women like their scents to have exciting, provocative labels.

But what's in a name? It doesn't matter if the perfume is good—and this is. It's not the lushy, slushy sort of scent that's drippy with romance. This is a brisk blend with plenty of lilt and life to it. We think of it, somehow, as a perfume for the smart woman of vitality.

As an identifier of the basic fragrances of perfumes we're a total loss. What we think is jasmin usually turns out to be narcissus, or something equally different—so we've reached the point where we don't care particularly. We just know what we like. If we were asked to guess about this one, sniffing it from the handsome black bottle, we'd say it had a touch of sandalwood, but a very light one. For the rest it's all a mystery to us, but a delightful one.

This is one of those perfumes you must let dry for a moment before you get its real fragrance. It may seem sharp, but when it dries it has warmth and life that's most attractive. A lot of you, we know, will be glad to make its acquaintance.

SYNOPSIS.

Sarah MacNeil, young American living in London, accepts a post as companion to Miss Christine Venables, who spends most of the year at Ste. Brigitte in southern France. Miss Venables has been receiving mysterious death threats through the mail. Mrs. Mark Venables, stepmother of Miss Venables' adored nephew, Harry, dies suddenly. She had been treated by Dr. Gilcrest of Ste. Brigitte. Miss Venables tells Sarah that she and Maj. Frampton were both threatened by two oriental drug sellers they had had prosecuted. Shortly after Maj. Frampton was killed in a fall down an elevator shaft. She believes he was murdered. Miss Venables' particular friends in Ste. Brigitte, besides Dr. Gilcrest, are the Baron Henri de Bellesnaves and Bimi, his beautiful wife; Beryl Tomlins, town librarian, and a few old residents of the resort hotel. Sarah gathers that Dr. Gilcrest is in love with the baroness. Beryl Tomlins is taken suddenly ill and dies. She had taken medicine prescribed by Dr. Gilcrest. Miss Venables receives another threatening letter, telling her she has one more day to live. The fatal day passes safely. Miss Venables takes her medicine and retires. She dies during the night, after declaring that she was poisoned. Sarah tells Dr. Gilcrest that it is up to him to demand a post mortem. It is made but discloses nothing, though the doctor's reputation is damaged. Then the baron dies, apparently a suicide. Dr. Gilcrest conducts a private investigation. The baroness is taken ill and Sarah agrees to stay with her. She distrusts her and the doctor and plans to investigate. That night the baroness has a secret caller. Sarah has hidden behind curtains in the baroness' room. The caller is Harry. He and the baroness are secret lovers, and responsible for the five deaths. Sarah's presence is discovered. She is about to be the next victim when she is rescued by Dr. Gilcrest.

INSTALMENT LVI.

UNPROVABLE MURDERS.

"It's so fiendishly clever," Sarah mused. "Why, it almost looks as though . . . See here," in sudden dismay, "if we still can't prove these were murders, how can we convict them? We don't yet know what it was they used?"

"What's that?" Gilcrest had been staring at her abstractedly, and came out of his reverie with a start. "O, but we do! I found the answer days ago."

"You know? O, how cruel to keep me guessing!"

He smiled at her impatience. "Wait. I want you to hear just how I worked it out. Incidentally, it may gratify you to learn that it was the capsules—or to be exact one capsule, in each bottle. That fact's all-important. Here, if you'll bear with me, are the steps in my argument: First, take the two Venables women. Their medicine was valerian, which acts on the stomach, and is therefore encased in a gelatine, or quick dissolving covering. Well, both these victims succumbed very soon after the last dose was swallowed, and both from perforations in the stomach lining. Keep that in mind.

"Next, Miss Tomlins. Her prescription, being designed to act on the intestinal tract, was put into kerotin capsules, because kerotin is much harder than gelatine and won't melt till it has passed through the stomach and reached the duodenum. It may, in fact, take a couple of hours to dissolve. From what you told me, it was about that length of time before Miss Tomlins felt the pain, and the perforation in her case was located not in the stomach but in the duodenum. You see how neatly it all fits? And yet, since Miss Venables and Miss Tomlins died from complaints differently situated it was manifestly absurd to suppose a common cause. Naturally I was badly upset. Any doctor would have been, to have two of his patients dying off like this, one after the other, both in rapid and violent fashion. There seemed something diabolical about it, in spite of which, to judge by the evident symptoms, one couldn't call it other than coincidence. Only when I had examined the organs and seen the precise injuries involved—similar, and in each case atypical—did it seem worth while to weigh the facts just mentioned. Once I did consider them, the deduction was inevitable. In each bottle of medicine there must have been one altered capsule—a capsule containing a substance which had eliminated itself.

"It burns in water!" she gasped.

"Having got thus far, I wired the house surgeon of Charing Cross hospital for full particulars of the post mortem on Mrs. Venables—and I got back a night letter telegram giving me details not considered necessary to mention to the family. It seems there had been a slight peculiarity about the perforation. It was not indurated—that means hardened at the outer rim—though the edges were approximated and sutured, the perforation itself partially blocked with clotted blood, and the stomach contents found free in the peritoneal cavity.

"Now, then! What was this mysterious substance which tore great holes in its victims but left nothing behind? For obvious reasons I was forced to tackle the problem on purely theoretical lines—and I sat here till two in the morning, trying first one chemical equation then another, and getting failure after failure. My object was to discover what in combination with the weak hydrochloride acid of the stomach would give a non-suspicious reaction. Well, at last I got my answer—on paper—and instantly I saw I was no better off than before. The very absence of detectable residue in the system made the thing for practical purposes unprovable—which was the beauty of it, of course. It explained why the murderer had nothing to fear from post mortems."

Sarah groaned. "Then it's all no good!" she lamented. "What's the use of knowing if it can't be proved? O, if only that boat hadn't burned! Why, the stuff was there, in the cabin! Now it's lost, and——"

"O, no!" He smiled again, enjoying his triumph. "I can't say how much good it will do, but actually I looked about for something of the kind and found it—bottle and all, lying in a little pool of oil. I corked it tight to keep out the water, jammed it deep down in my trousers pocket, and got it ashore. No, I can't show it to you, because the police have got it; but I ordered some of the same on purpose for a little demonstration I now propose to make."

"Had you any before?"

"Yes, for experiments—and if it hadn't been used up the actual sight of it might have helped me to a quicker solution. The baroness must certainly have filched hers from our jar, but she would have wanted only a tiny amount, and as it's in no sense a poison it's not locked up or the exact quantities checked. The difficulty in most cases is to get hold of it. Chemists, even wholesale ones, don't stock the raw article, only its compounds, so it has to be obtained from a laboratory supply. There's even a regulation against sending it by post—and yet it's quite an ordinary thing, familiar to all students of chemistry."

He was moving towards the door, but turning he spoke again with an odd expression in his eyes.

"Keep away from water," he quoted. "You wondered what that meant? One second and you'll see."

With a strange prickle all along her skin, Sarah watched him return laden with a large glass jar and a basin of water. At the bottom of the jar, submerged in pale, slightly opalescent fluid, lay a lump of dull, gray matter which he now fished out with a pair of forceps, wiped on a towel, and held up for her inspection. It looked like lead, but seemed much softer. When, with a sharp penknife he hacked off a small portion, the cut edges shone silver bright.

"It has to be kept in oil," he explained. "Even the moisture from the atmosphere will—but look, see what happens!"

He dropped the small lump into the basin. As it touched the water it floated and instantly burst into a clear, pale flame! From it rose a tiny jet of steam, hissing like a miniature tea kettle! The girl leaned on her elbow, staring transfixed and astounded.

"It burns—in water!" she gasped. "But how positively uncanny! And yet I feel I ought to know. Is it——?"

"Just sodium—the pure element. Its symbol Na. Potassium does the same, but sodium possesses this unique advantage: In union with hydrochloric acid it ultimately forms—what do you think? NaCl—in other words, common table salt. And now you see why a bit of sodium no bigger than a pea would first of all burn a deep hole in whatever moist surface it touched, and then simply vanish, leaving nothing to show how the pseudo-ulcer had been caused. Who would notice a minute quantity of saline solution? It's normal, negligible. There's just one crab: The stuff must be kept dry till it reaches the interior of the system, otherwise it would burn the mouth and be ejected. For this reason the victim must be already taking some sort of capsules, or else induced to take a capsule. The murderer, having hidden his dose in the bottle, can go miles away if he wishes, comfortably certain his result will be achieved. In ninety-nine out of a hundred chances the death will be diagnosed as natural. If it is queried, he's still perfectly safe."

"With me, of course, it was to be a matter of brute force." Sarah touched her throat, shuddering slightly. "But what about the dogs? Would they swallow capsules?"

"O, with them I imagine it was merely wrapped in raw meat and wolfed down so quickly it had scarcely begun to sizzle. A coating of powder would be sufficient."

Wallace Beery Is Grandpop to Younger Stars

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., April 15.—[Special.]—Jean Harlow and Clark Gable call Wallace Beery "teacher" and "grandpop" on the set of "China Seas" in which all are playing. This is the first film all three have been in since "Secret Six," five years ago, which was Jean's second or third film and one of Gable's early appearances and which determined that each of the latter was to go on in films and become a star. Beery gave both of them some acting advice in those days; that's why they're such good friends.

Helen Gahagan, playing in "She" with Helen Mack and Randolph Scott, isn't so sure she likes Hollywood in the winter time as she was a week ago. The last rain leaked through the ceiling in her bedroom closet and ruined two dresses.

When Grace Moore returns "home" to Cannes, France, where she has her villa, after completing "Love Me Forever" at Columbia studio, the Tennessee songbird will take blueprints and photographs of a doorway, fireplace, and window from one of the film sets which she wants French architests and builders to duplicate for her. She had Stephen Goosson, the studio art director, go to considerable trouble making the plans so the Frenchman could be expected to give her an exact duplicate.

That scenario titled "Private Stenographer" which Isabel Jewell, actress, sold provided her with the check for her down payment for a new California home for her mother and father.

The numerous Westmores, all of them brothers and all at one time or another makeup department heads at major studios, have combined to open a three story "salon of beauty" in Hollywood boulevard. Percy Westmore remains makeup director at Warner-First National studio, Wally remains in charge at Paramount, but Ernie, for many years head makeup man at Radio-R. K. O., is moving over to the new enterprise to run it. Monty, fourth brother, continues to divide his time as special makeup expert among all the studios. Percy Westmore now is the employé with longest span of continuous service with the First National studio. He also is the highest salaried makeup artist in Hollywood.

George Murphy and Nancy Carroll are being romantically teamed for the third time for "After the Dance" at Columbia.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

Possibly you believe from my last article that I favor the type of player who goes around with a rule book in one hand and a penalty in the other. The laws of contract bridge were devised to prevent either side from gaining an advantage by an unethical play—even though this play may be made in all innocence. Naturally, penalties are waived many times. For example, in the case of a lead out of turn, the declarer may say kindly, "O, lead anything." But where he feels the other side is helped by an illegal play, he will, and should exact the penalty.

It is important that you know these laws, because if you demand a penalty to which you are not entitled, the other side can refuse to grant you any penalty at all. Or, if the wrong player claims a penalty or if dummy opens his mouth on the subject at all, the penalty lapses.

This status of dummy is particularly important. Dummy should, in all respects, live up to his name. The only thing he can properly ask the declarer is, "no spades, partner?" If the declarer questions him, he may tell him which hand has the lead, but he must not volunteer this information. If he does, the opponent on his left may choose the hand from which the lead is to be made. And if dummy carelessly touches a card, or indicates to declarer in any other way what card he should play, the opponent on dummy's left may require declarer to play or not to play that card, unless such play would constitute a revoke.

Most of you know that a card dropped face-up on the table is an exposed card and subject to a penalty. That is, declarer may require an opponent to play that card on a subsequent trick—subject to the proviso that he must follow suit every possible time. If an opponent gets the opportunity to discard that card before it is called for he may correctly do so. Declarer, during the play of the hand, is not subject to any penalty for an exposed card except in the case of revokes. He can expose his whole hand, if he wishes to do so.

However, the catalog of exposed cards covers cards dropped on the floor, so that your partner sees them; a card held so that your partner sees any portion of its face; the last two cards held by an opponent, if, before he has played to the twelfth trick, his partner kindly shows him his last card, just to make things easy for him, and any card held by a player, if he has said anything indicating he holds it. If you crow excitedly, "my goodness! I've been playing for two hours, and never held the ace of diamonds, and now the first card I pick up is the ace of diamonds," you may be simply making conversation, but the ace of diamonds should be treated as an exposed card.

The question of an exposed card also comes up during the auction. For example, under the firm belief that the bidding has been closed, you may start to lead. If you do that, or expose an honor—even without intent to lead—the opponent on your left may claim a new deal. But if you inadvertently drop a low card on the table during the auction, the declarer may treat that card as an exposed card, or prohibit your partner from making his first lead in that suit.

Also, if you hastily lead while an opponent is still meditating over what penalty he will give you for a previous illegal play, his rights about that penalty are not affected, and he may treat the card you led as an exposed card.

The question of an exposed card also comes up in connection with two other plays—the lead out of turn and the revoke. In other words, you often have the choice of two or more penalties for a certain illegal play. You cannot, however, exact a penalty under one law and then claim another penalty under a different law. A player might presumably do all these things at one and the same time: Play out of turn, revoke, tell his partner what card he is going to play, and tell his partner that the trick is theirs.

In such case, it would be best to use the forcible ejection penalty. Throw him out into the snow. I assure you that this penalty is looked upon with great favor by a number of players. It covers all the more flagrant, illegal plays, and bids.

Miss Ranney to Be Bride at Large Wedding

the young couple and their families will follow the service. Miss Helen Gene Diver is to be her sister's only attendant and Daggett Harvey will serve Mr. Goodwine as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Van Dyke Horton [Betty Histed] are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Sunday at the Evanston hospital. It is their first child and the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roland Histed of Lake Forest.

Mrs. Bruce Thorne [Marianne Stevenson] and her infant daughter are returning to the Thornes' Lake Shore drive apartment today from the Passavant hospital where the baby was born on April 6. The baby has been named Elizabeth Smith Thorne for her maternal grandmother and is the Thornes' second child. They have a son, Bruce Jr., 3 years old.

Earl Bruce Millar, the fourth to bear his name, and his mother, Mrs. Earl Bruce Millar, III., returned home on Sunday from the Presbyterian hospital where the young man was born on April 6. He is the first child of the former Nedra Needham and Mr. Millar and the first grandchild of the Maurice H. Needhams. Mr. and Mrs. Millar and the baby are living with Earl B. Millar Jr., the infant's paternal grandfather, on Dearborn parkway.

Harold F. McCormick Home from Arizona.

Harold F. McCormick has returned to his home on Rush street from several months in Arizona. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler McCormick, still are abroad and are not expected home until later in the spring.

Mrs. Chauncey McCormick arrived at home yesterday from Miami, where she and Mr. McCormick have spent the winter and early spring. Mr. McCormick remained south, but will join his wife before long in Chicago. Their sons, Deering, who goes to Yale, and Brooks and Roger, who are at Groton, spent their spring vacations in Miami.

Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick is planning to set out early in June for a round of visits with members of her family in England, Scotland, and Austria that will keep her away from Chicago until October. She will visit her son Edward and his wife and three sons at their home in England and also her nine brothers and sisters in England, where as Miss Constance Plummer Mrs. McCormick lived before her marriage to a member of the Chicago family. In Austria she will be with another son, Leander, and his wife at their home in the Tyrol.

Robert D. Forgans Return from Cruise.

Mrs. Frank B. Mulford left Saturday for Charlottesville, Va., to visit the Russell Motts. Mr. Mulford preceded his wife south by several days, and they plan to spend a fortnight at Oakenpins, the Mott estate. The Donald M. Forgans of Rye, N. Y., former Chicagoans, arrived at the Farmington Country club, just down the road from the Motts, simultaneously with Mrs. Mulford, so the Mulfords and the Forgans, who formerly were great friends here, will have a pleasant reunion.

This morning Mrs. Robert M. Jeffries of Highland Park is leaving for New York to meet her daughter, Helen, who is coming back from London for her spring vacation from the Royal academy. Joining Mrs. Jeffries and her daughter in New York will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hommeyer of Cincinnati. Lord and Lady Peacock entertained for Miss Jeffries just before she sailed for this country.

The South Shore Center of Infant Welfare has issued invitations for a spring card party, luncheon, and fashion show April 26 at the South Shore Country club. Mrs. Henry Kennedy, the general chairman, explains that all of the proceeds will go to the maintenance of the Russell Square station, which provides medical care for mothers and their small children.

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The beauty of the dogwood is caught in this dainty, appliqued block. Dogwood is a delicate white bloom and, when used as a quilt design, it may be appliqued on a soft pastel background. For a more colorful scheme, two shades of pale pink, a soft green, and a touch of yellow may be selected. A group of 28 appliques and 28 plain blocks is used for an entire coverlet. A half inch binding of the two most predominating colors makes a dainty finish for a dainty quilt.

Varying the Coiffure Aids One's Beauty and Morale

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

As one of our hairdressers says: "Women do not wear the same frock a whole season. Nor a whole week, often. Sometimes not even an entire day. So why shouldn't they aim to have more than one coiffure? The same psychology applies. The woman changes her dress to look and feel differently. Yet, the hair more than the frock can effect this end."

Well, the hairdressers may be looking for more business, but the idea is good, at that. But, of course, there comes up the question of how many can afford to trot to the hairdresser's and get a new coiffure once a week or twice or thrice. The answer, then, for the great average, as is the answer to a number of beauty problems, is to do one's own experimenting, allow one's own hands to become skillful enough to work the changes.

But you could sit down some rainy afternoon, or some dateless evening, and see what you can do with your hair. See how many styles of coiffure you could adopt with becoming effect. You could shift that part from the side to center, perhaps, or raise the part a half inch higher on the side on which you are now wearing it. You could shove the hair higher up on the neck. If it will go high enough, you could try banking it up high in curls.

You can sweep it back off the brow, or back over the ears or off the temples completely. Anyway, you get the idea. Just see how many girls you can be to your sweetheart.

The DEBUNKER

FEMALE DEER DO NOT HAVE HORNS
FUR BAY
BILL VENN

Although many people think all deer have horns, any experienced hunter knows that it is only the males that have horns. The horns on the stags are shed each year, and new ones are grown. The commonest deer are the red deer of Europe [which are celebrated in literature]; the Columbia black tail, the mule deer and the Virginia red deer in the United States; the elk found in Europe, Asia, and North America [the largest of all deer]; and the moose, found mostly in Canada and northeastern United States. The related species of reindeer and caribou differ from these in that the females, as well as the males, have horns.

Leading Suitor to Set a Date Requires Tact

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She's 22. The man is 27, and a year of steady companionship makes the girl believe she has a right to ask when marriage may be expected. But there's one subject the man will not discuss and it is marriage. He says he will get married when he feels he is in a position to do so.

Which is one way of settling the question, but not quite the satisfactory way for the girl. Nor, we think, a fair answer from the man. At 27 a man should have a fairly workable idea of when he might be expected to be in the position to marry. It is not as if he were 21 or 22, with a long future ahead for the serious adventure and decision. If said young man of 27 can only see that another birthday will roll around and another before he is willing to submit to marriage, he's either not sufficiently intrigued with the current girl, or he's going to avoid marriage and enjoy carefree bachelorhood.

We have a suspicion, however, that the callow methods of the 22 year old girl may have something to do with this particular case. She admits getting all worked up over the "date" and springing the question: "Whenever are we going to get married" at untimely moments.

We suppose it comes back to the question of technique or lack of it. A girl eager for marriage ought to be armed with quite a bit of the technique that makes a man fear that if he doesn't propose pronto, some one will beat his time.

Three Chicken Salads Enchant Menu Seekers

BY MARY MEADE.

Do you remember the pitiful plight of the poor girl in the advertisments who just couldn't possibly order chicken salad again? Dear, dear, what would her impeccably correct escort think—and all because she hadn't taken those ten easy lessons in French! It was all just too bad. We hadn't wept over her in years, until the other day, in running across some delightful new ways of making chicken salad, one of those tricks of memory brought back her tragic face. Even now it seems doubly too bad, because if she'd only known enough to order "Chicken Salad Loaf" one day, "Chicken Walnut Salad" another, and kept "Chicken and Noodle Salad" as a reserve when all else failed, she could have smoothed over the situation so easily!

Those three, you see, are the names of these interesting salads made from chicken we spoke about finding. Before we become too specific, however, let's meditate on what kind of chicken goes into them and how it's to be cooked.

Either roasting or stewing fowl behaves nicely as a salad ingredient. The flavor of the roasted meat is, in the minds of some, better in flavor than the stewed, but that choice is up to you and your market man. If you come home with a roasting chicken and hesitate to spend time roasting the bird whole, however, don't toss it into the stew pot just on general principles. Better cut it up as for frying, brown the pieces in hot fat, and then cover the skillet to cook them slowly on the top of the stove or in a moderate oven.

These three recipes illustrate nicely that quality of chicken which is best described as "elasticity." So many other things can be added to a chicken salad—diced celery, drained green peas, chopped hard cooked eggs, pineapple tidbits, rice, macaroni, asparagus—to stretch the amount of meat. Don't have too much fun with the stretching, however, for the breaking point comes when the salad ceases to look or taste like what it really is—chicken salad.

The first one, chicken salad loaf, uses rice as an extender, and asparagus tips, either canned or fresh, for a touch of something different:

Chicken Salad Loaf.

1 cup cold boiled rice
1-3 cup mayonnaise
1 cup diced cooked chicken
2 tablespoons chopped nutmeats
Salt and pepper
1 cup cooked asparagus tips

Mix all the ingredients together, thoroughly but lightly, and pack into a chilled mold. Place in the refrigerator for three hours. Unmold and garnish with salad greens and pepper rings, and serve in slices with additional mayonnaise if desired.

Chicken Walnut Salad.

1 tablespoon butter
1½ cups diced cooked chicken
¼ cup diced celery
Salt
Mayonnaise

Melt the butter in a small skillet, add the walnuts, and heat in the oven or over a low flame until crisp, stirring often to prevent scorching. Combine the nuts with the other ingredients, except the mayonnaise, and chill. Serve cold, masked with mayonnaise or a fluffy salad dressing.

Chicken and Noodle Salad.

1 cup cold diced chicken
1 cup cold cooked noodles
½ cup chopped celery
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup mayonnaise
2 hard cooked eggs, sliced

Toss together all the ingredients except the hard cooked eggs. Serve the chilled mixture in lettuce cups, garnished with the egg slices and a sprig of parsley or watercress.

Encourage Your Child to Use His Own Judgment

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"And, mother, I like the cornflower blue off-the-face one much the best, but I just seemed to hear you say, 'O, get the brown sailor,' and so I wobbled around in my mind and finally I got the brown one," wound up the young daughter, telling her shopping adventures to her mother.

"Well, are you satisfied?" asked the mother.

"No—o, not exactly, mother. I really liked the blue one the best, but I guess I got sort of confused because I kept asking myself which you would like. And you know how you are, mother—you always like things to be smart even if they're not becoming, and I like things to be becoming even if they're not quite so smart."

This clever and positive woman did some hard thinking that night after every one was tucked in.

"That," she thought to herself, "is one of the dangers in being a mother and in being also the kind of a woman I am. I'll have to start in on a regular campaign of encouraging Angela to make her decisions independently.

"It's almost entirely my fault that she doesn't. She looks up to me so and is so naturally docile in addition to being rather self-effacing that I will have to help her tactfully and indirectly in most cases—but sometimes right out and out—to think for herself.

"If I had to offer just one bit of advice to mothers, it would be this: Teach your child to think for himself, and make him understand that he alone is responsible for all he does. If this can be accomplished nearly everything else takes care of itself."

I need hardly add [but I will] that the process is a gradual one—a fact that it is important to recognize. The young child's decisions must bear a definite relation to his age and experience.

Brighten up with
ALL-BRAN!

You've had days when you've felt discouraged and low. Nothing seemed to go right. Frequently these dreary days can be traced to common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in your meals.

This ailment may cause headaches and loss of energy. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and food-iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables. It is gentle—and often more effective. Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines—often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

1,000 CONVICTS STRIKE IN OHIO; HELD IN CELLS

Protest Against Delay on Pleas for Parole.

Columbus, O., April 15.—[Special.]—Between 1,000 and 1,400 prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary went on strike today in protest against the state board of paroles' delay in acting on applications for parole. About 100 convicts were paroled or transferred to other institutions last week.

Warden James C. Woodard reported no violence had occurred and Gov. Davey, apprised of the situation at the prison, said he did not plan to send National Guardsmen to the scene. The governor said he had been assured the regular prison guards could handle the trouble.

The penitentiary, which houses 4,240 inmates in space said to have been designed for 1,500, is within four blocks of the heart of downtown Columbus. The strike is the first ever staged at the institution.

Scene of Fire in 1930.

The worst prison disaster in American history occurred at the Ohio prison in 1930 when 322 convicts died in a fire started by the inmates as a protest against overpopulation, and to obtain removal of their warden, who was then Preston E. Thomas.

Warden Woodard said he expected no outbreak in the present strike in which the prisoners have manifested their displeasure merely by pacific resistance. The warden said he would keep the men in their cells as long as they maintain their present attitude.

"Some of the men refused to work when they first went to the shops," Warden Woodard explained, "others quit later. I ordered them back to their cells and they went quietly and peacefully with no disturbance of any kind.

Tell Warden of Protest.

"I talked to the men and they said the protest was against the administration, meaning the parole board. I am going to talk to them again later. I am sure everything will be all right."

The warden declined to let newspaper men interview the striking prisoners, whom he numbered at 1,000, but whom Adjt. Gen. Emil F. Marx said he was informed totaled 1,400.

START TRIAL OF 12 IN KIDNAPING OF EDW. BREMER

One Pleads Guilty as Court Opens.

St. Paul, Minn., April 15.—[Special.]—A plea of guilty by one opened the trial today of eleven accused in connection with the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, a year ago last January. Close of the first day in the heavily guarded court of Federal Judge M. M. Joyce saw the jury still incomplete.

Pleading guilty as the trial was opened was Byron Bolton of Chicago, alleged machine gunner of the Barker-Karpis gang. He was not represented by counsel and stepped before the bench to enter a plea of guilty to an indictment of conspiracy to kidnap. He also is under indictment for the actual kidnaping, but his previous plea of not guilty to this count stands unchanged. Both charges carry maximum penalties of life imprisonment.

McLaughlin in Dock.

Others on trial are Jess Doyle, Kansas City mobster; Arthur [Doc] Barker, leader of the Barker-Karpis mob; Oliver Berg, life term convict from Illinois; Harold Alderton and Elmer Farmer of Bensenville, Ill., where Bremer was held captive; Edna [Rabbits] Murray, known as the kissing bandit; John J. [Boss] McLaughlin, Philip Delaney, William Vidler, and James Wilson of Chicago.

Bruno [Whitey] Austin was brought in with the rest, but he was not listed as a defendant by the judge. It was indicated he may be a government witness.

Barker, Farmer and Alderton, in addition to Bolton, are charged with the actual kidnaping. The others face conspiracy charges growing out of the disposition of the ransom money.

At the morning session of the court 11 jurors were temporarily chosen. Late in the afternoon this number had been increased to 18 and reduced to 13 when three challenges were exercised by the defense and two by government attorneys.

Expect Jury Today Noon.

Completion of the jury is expected to take at least until noon tomorrow.

Two women were among the 13 left in the jury box this afternoon.

Armed men guarded the three blocks from the jail to the federal building as the defendants were transferred in an armored truck. All were handcuffed except the Murray woman and McLaughlin. Once inside the courtroom the manacles were removed from all but Barker, who, according to the guards, will be kept ironed throughout the trial.

6-PASSENGER VICTORIA
120" Wheelbase—93 Horsepower

Reduces Gasoline Consumption up to 25%! Eliminates Passenger Fatigue! Increases Life of the Car!

R.P.S. means Ride, Performance, Style—and the news has spread everywhere that Nash for 1935 has introduced something altogether new . . . different . . . finer . . . in all three. Instead of its appeal being limited to a few features, Nash for 1935 is the car of many "featured features"—the car of complete appeal.

● Owners of the new 1935 Nash tell us that now they can go anywhere, 6 miles or 600—travel at top speed all day—in comfort—a new experience in their motoring lives!

Pock-marked pavements . . . railroad crossings . . . side road ruts . . . wherever you go in a 1935 Nash, it's a smooth, flowing ride. Nash engineers, by Synchronized Springing, Balanced Weight and Midsection Seating, literally put a brand new road under your wheels.

Nash shortens the distance in gasoline mileage, too. With the new Automatic Cruising Gear, a 1935 Nash will travel at an 80 mile an hour rate with its motor operating at the rate of only 56 miles an hour. Owners report 18 to 22 miles per gallon the average gasoline consumption of a big, 102 horsepower, cruising-geared Nash!

Here is Flying Power developed from Twin-Ignition, an exclusive Nash engineering feature that effects a gasoline saving and develops more power than you can get from the very same engine with only single ignition.

Ride, Performance, Style . . . Nash for 1935 gives you more of all three per dollar. See Nash for 1935, drive the 1935 Nash, or ride while someone else drives, before you buy your new car.

● The Nash Automatic Cruising Gear produces astonishing savings in gasoline, oil and motor wear. It gives you from 15% to 25% saving in gasoline, and from 40% to 50% saving in oil. Filling station stops are miles farther apart when you drive in Cruising Gear.

ROSS VACATES LIGHTWEIGHT BOXING CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—Barney Ross, world's lightweight and junior welterweight boxing champion and former welterweight title holder, relinquished his lightweight championship today in a notice to the state athletic commission.

Sam Pian, one of Ross' managers, told the commissioners that it is certain Ross could not make the lightweight limit any longer without endangering his health.

"We would rather surrender the title than do that," was Pian's conclusion in the notice he sent.

Move Up Ambers.

This means that Lou Ambers, already named first challenger, probably will be designated defending lightweight champion tomorrow by the commissioners at their meeting, at which Ross' resignation will be received and acted upon.

Ross won the lightweight crown by beating Tony Canzoneri in ten rounds at Chicago Stadium June 23, 1933, before 11,000. Receipts were $46,000. Barney won Canzoneri's junior welterweight title at the same time. Three months later he defended both titles against Canzoneri at New York. He won the 15 round decision. A crowd of more than 25,000 paid $114,000 to see the fight.

Decide 139 Best Weight.

Ross has been operating at 138 and 139 pounds for some time, and when he made 136½ pounds for Henry Wood in Seattle last week considerable doubt cropped up in the Ross camp as to continuing to risk the young man's health with this weight making process. One hundred and thirty-nine pounds finally was decided upon as Ross' natural weight.

Ross' handlers want to sidestep the fate that befell Joe Gans when he scaled down for Battling Nelson, and also can point to Sammy Fuller, who has been of little use since he made the limit for Ambers during the winter. Ross has failed to defend the lightweight title since he beat Canzoneri here.

But Ambers' probable nomination tomorrow will not be as champion—merely defending champion. If Canzoneri beats Ambers he would get back his title, and if Ambers wins he would have a clear right to it.

Plans Bout for May 10.

As soon as Jimmy Johnston, manager of boxing affairs at Madison Square Garden, heard of Ross' surrender of the title, he announced he planned to pit Ambers against Tony Canzoneri in a lightweight title bout at the Garden May 10. He calculates he will have no trouble doing this because Ambers had some kind of agreement with the Garden to fight for that organization, provided he was named the champion if Ross defaulted.

Ross to Face McLarnin.

The resignation of Ross as standard bearer of the lightweights means that his next match probably will be a return engagement with Jimmy McLarnin, the welterweight champion who recovered the crown from Barney.

NEEDS EXTRA POUNDS

Barney Ross yesterday verified reports from New York that his managers, Sam Pian and Art Winch, had relinquished his lightweight championship because of his inability to make the required 135 pounds without injuring his health.

"Although I made 136½ pounds in a successful junior welterweight title defense against Henry Woods at Seattle recently and breezed through the twelve rounds," Ross said, "I felt I could have done better if I was a pound or two heavier."

May Be Money Angle.

Those close to Ross advance a theory a little different from that of the champion as his reason for vacating the major of his two crowns.

"We don't say that Ross can't make the weight," a representative declared. "The real reason is money. There is not sufficient financial incentive for Barney to continue as lightweight champion. Ambers [Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y.] has been designated as the fellow Barney must fight before meeting the welterweight champion [Jimmy McLarnin]. We feel Ross cannot get a worthwhile purse fighting Ambers, and a match with the latter might injure the drawing possibilities of the impending McLarnin fight."

The New York boxing commission ruled that Ross must defend the lightweight title against Ambers before it would approve a third fight between Ross and McLarnin. As a result, an Ambers-Ross encounter was being arranged for May 29 at New York by the Twentieth Century Sporting club. Yesterday's move came as a surprise, but the Century club was prepared for it, and it is understood will replace this contest with the one between Ross and McLarnin on that date.

HERBIE BURNS, chief of the Cook county police, and the hottest Freddy Lindstrom fan in town, is beefing because the ball writers don't use enough adjectives in describing Freddy's accomplishments. . . . When Lindstrom hits, according to Chief Herbie, it is not sufficient to say he singled or whatever. . . . It should be written as a sizzling single, a screaming double, an enormous triple, or a magnificent homer. . . . That probably is the kind of a fan to be, at that, some of the boys who unwittingly are stingy with Lindstrom adjectives admit. . . . Joe Louis never shaves. . . . Louisiana State has a freshman, named Ben Friend, it predicts will better the world's record shot put of Jack Torrance. . . . In the WAKE of the NEWS

BASEBALL OPENING.

WORLD CHAMPION ST. LOUIS CARDINALS will open the baseball season, if the season is opened, at Wrigley field this afternoon against Chicago's Cubs, who finished third in the National league in 1934. Weather indications are fair and warmer, or rain and windy, or cold and snow.

North side fans, on the verge of hysteria over chances of Manager Grimm's young men, are expected to turn out in large numbers to watch their heroes, carriers of civic hopes this season in the league gonfalon marathon, cross bats with the Cards.

While the Cardinals, as league and world champions, might seem to have an excess of mathematical chances to garner the inaugural, the locals may be relied upon to put up a spirited defense worthy of the great city which they represent. And remember, the game is not over until the last man is out.

Chicago's White Sox, de facto city champions, will journey to Detroit, there to cross bats with the American league title holders. The boys carry the best wishes of their loyal partisans. Moreover, all citizens should be pulling for Manager Jimmy Dykes and his charges. In baseball, against other foes, there should be no north and no south. E. Pluribus Unum.

Baseball Shorts.

If the Cubs or Giants win the National league pennant it will break the existing tie of 13 championships each since the league was organized. New York has acquired five flags since 1920 against two for the Cubs. St. Louis, present title holder, has five pennants, all earned since 1925.

In 59 seasons the Cubs have been in the first division 43 times and only once [1925] in last position. In the last five years they have not finished outside the first division.

Philadelphia tops the American league in pennants won with nine, with New York second with seven, Chicago has four, but none since the Black Sox of 1919.

Despite expert opinion awarding eighth hole to the South Siders, they have been in last place only three times in 34 years. Those occasions were 1924, 1931, 1934. Boston, winner of six pennants, has been last ten times.

Just the Same as Usual.

Now that you're back from the western coast,
I'd love to know if I could,
Are you just the same as you were before
 Or have you "gone Hollywood"?

Is your dressing grown of a bizarre cut
 With a dragon across the back?
They're always like that in the movies

Did your marital bark come safely through
 Those terribly treacherous bounds,
Where reading a book in bed is cause
 For divorce on cruelty grounds?

Since you acted in "Dante's Inferno,"
 Do you put on a bit of the swell?
Be that as it may, you surely can say,
 While out there you went through "hell."

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—The portion of the American league inaugural assigned to Detroit, home of the champion Tigers, may be staged as scheduled tomorrow and then again there may be a delay. The Tigers are as ready as they ever will be to make a start and so are the White Sox, last season's tailender, who are the visiting attraction. But the elements appear to be taking no notice of the wishes of the big league schedule makers.

The wind whistled in from the west today in all its January splendor. Snow swirled around the necks of those courageous enough to venture out of doors. The weather man sees only a slim possibility for improvement by tomorrow afternoon. But if the battle is put on, weather or no weather, the respective managers will not make any alterations in their original piching plans. Lynwood Rowe, the toughest young man in the league to beat, will try to start the champions off on the right road. Old Sam Jones will endeavor to make the day a success for the Chicagoans.

Dress Rehersal Prevented.

Both Manager Mickey Cochrane of the Tigers and Jim Dykes, who leads the Sox, planned on a dress rehersal for their respective outfits today, but the weather prevented action. All the Tigers wanted to have a peek at their home lot to make sure that it looked the same to them after the dizzy spell they suffered the last time they were there on a certain afternoon in October, 1934. That was the day that a gentleman named Dizzy Dean, aided by others from St. Louis, inflicted an 11 to 0 beating which decided the world series.

Dykes had only one reason for wanting to turn his new peppery charges loose on Navin field for a couple of hours. There wasn't any need to be concerned about the fit of their new road uniforms. The Sox wore those yesterday at Chicago while enjoying a municipal baseball treat at the expense of the Cubs. But Dykes did want to have his new men get acquainted with conditions at the local yard. As a consolation event the Sox boss held skull practice at the hotel. No skull fractures were reported despite the problems discussed.

Cochrane Predicts Pennant.

Manager Cochrane already has it all figured out how the Tigers are going to produce another pennant. He rates his team the best in the league, but he can get a lot of arguments on that point. Cochrane made that same prediction a year ago, but he was only kidding himself because at that time he knew nothing of the team's ability or what he might do in a managerial rôle. Now by claiming a flag Cochrane probably is kidding the experts, most of whom hint that with a little luck the Tigers may finish as high as third.

The team with which Cochrane is going to start the race tomorrow, or whenever weather permits it to start, is just about the same as that which went through last season successfully. The lone alteration has been made in right field where Gerald [Sleepy Time] Walker will supplant Pete Fox, who is neither a fielder of skill nor a hitter of parts. This change, however, may be only temporary. Walker probably will wander off base a few times and wind up on the bench, where he suffered most of last year.

Lack Infield Replacements.

The Tigers still lack good replacements for the infield, and that's the thing that may cause concern later

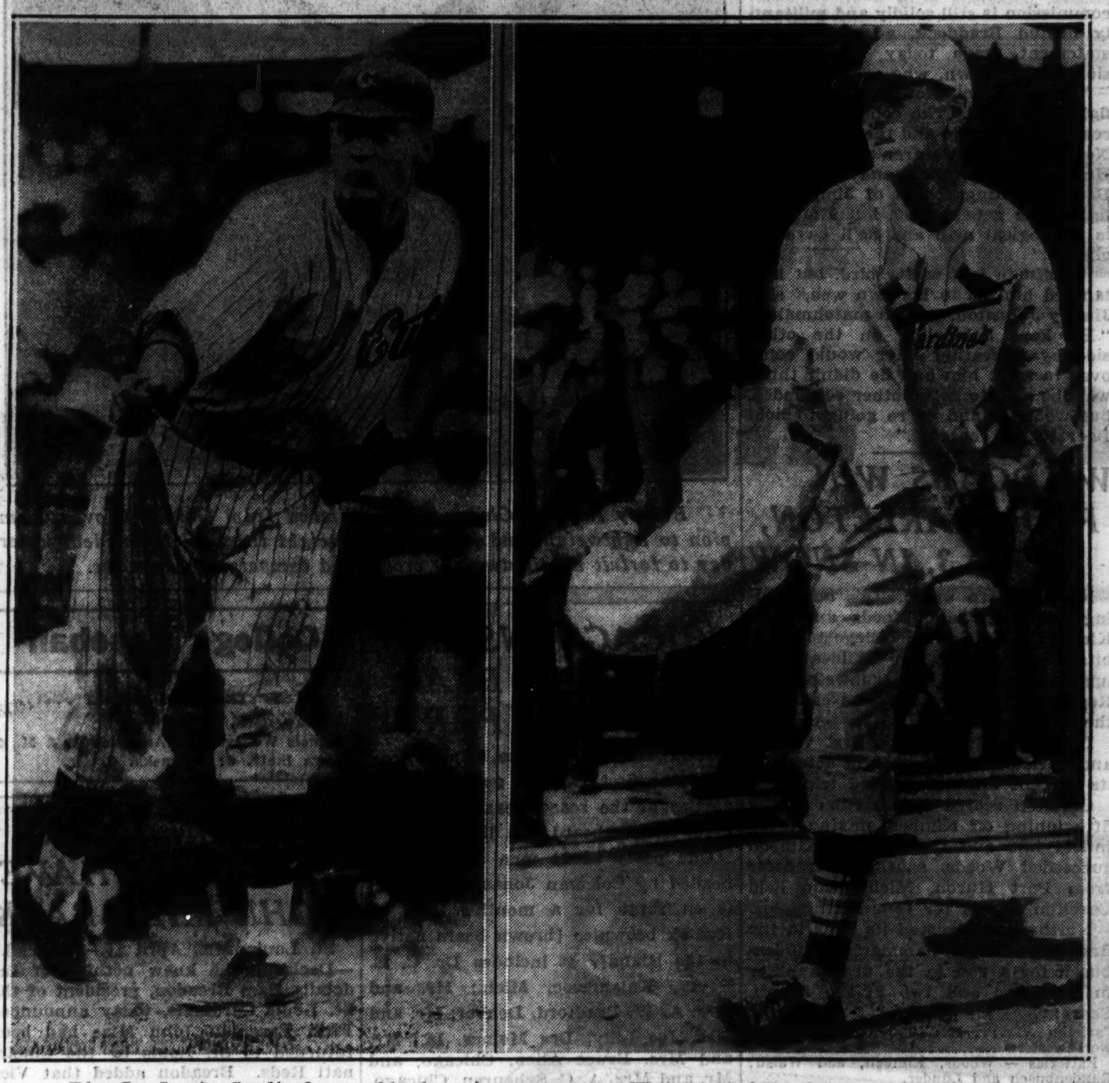
NOTE TO BATTERS: JUST SWING AND HOPE



The St. Louis Cardinals, world champions, come to Wrigley field today to meet the Cubs in the opening game of the National league race. Lon Warneke (left) has been named to pitch for the Cubs. He will be opposed by Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, who figures that after today he'll have only 29 more victories to shoot for to get his annual quota.

Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs.

International Golden Gloves

Mail orders are now being accepted for the amateur boxing bouts between the champions of Italy and Chicago's Golden Gloves winners at Chicago Stadium, May 22. Address applications to Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

There will be no increase in prices. The ringside and center sections of the mezzanine are priced at $3.30. Thousands of other choice seats are available at $2.20, $1.65, $1.10 and 55 cents. All are reserved.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—His right arm in fine pitching shape, after a southern fishing expedition, President Roosevelt tonight looked only for a break from the weather man tomorrow to start both literally and figuratively the annual baseball scramble.

As the nation's chief executive he will open the whole big league pennant chase by tossing the first ball in the Washington Senators-Philadelphia Athletics opener here. Literally he will start a scramble among the local players after that prized first ball.

He'll Throw at Whitehill.

The presidential strategy—his coaches reveal—will be to aim his fast ball toward the center of the diamond in the general direction of the veteran Senator left hander, Earl Whitehill, but the players will string out in a line from home plate to first base, all eager to snag the ball.

Accompanied by cabinet members and others of his official party, Mr. Roosevelt will be driven onto the field and up to the presidential box, while the army band blares away with the customary "Hail to the Chief."

Congress to Adjourn.

Then two silver-haired "fans," Vice President Jack Garner and Owner Clark Griffith of the Nationals, followed by the players, will march to the centerfield flag pole to raise the Stars and Stripes.

This will clear the way for Mr. Roosevelt's toss and the game itself.

Congress probably will adjourn ostensibly "to give the committees time to catch up with their work." Actually, most of the committee members will be found at 3 o'clock at Griffith stadium.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals, a revamped troupe of Cubs, Dizzy Dean, most spectacular sports figure in 1934, and Lon Warneke, one of the best pitchers that ever represented Chicago—these are the outstanding items of a baseball bill of goods to be placed on sale at Wrigley field this afternoon as the 1935 National league pennant campaign gets under way.

Other items: Mayor Edward Kelly will come out from under his blankets long enough to toss the first ball. Jack Bramhall will wield the baton at a band concert before the game, the 43d Cub opening in which Maestro Bramhall has officiated. If the wind pieces in the Bramhall ensemble freeze the Cub and Cardinal players who suffered large salary cuts will sing some more. They can sing as loud and pretty as Mr. Bramhall's band can play.

It is doubtful if Chicago ever was offered an opener with the dramatic possibilities of this afternoon's affair, what with Diz and Lon and the world champs on the bill. With a day like Sunday a sellout would be a certainty. Rarely have the Cubs enjoyed such an advance ticket demand for an opener.

Predicts 40 Temperature.

But the weather man is a detailed and accurate gent, not to be stampeded by sporting hopes. He says it will be clear, all right. And much warmer than it was yesterday. But that doesn't mean it will be warm. Around 40, the boys at the weather bureau say, although it was only 26 at 1 a. m. In the Cub counting room the lads were firm in the belief that the weather bureau will be proved right on the clear weather prophecy and dead wrong on the temperature forecast. Optimists to the marrow, they are fixing to receive a gathering of 40,000.

It was clear and forty at the Chicago opener last year. Despite the fact that the tailend Cincinnati Reds were the attraction and the season had been on a week, 25,000 paid to see the game. There was the stimulus of the major part of the seven game winning streak with which the Cubs opened the season, and folks were churned up about Warneke's two one-hit games. But even so, there was no such lure as today's attraction presents, if the weather will just be halfway decent.

Grimm to Play First.

The Cubs had a clubhouse meeting at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, but did not don uniforms. At the meeting Vice President Charley John Grimm made it known that he will play first base today. Charley might have scolded the boys about such things as the fact that two infield hits by Cuyler in Saturday's game were the only hits made by the Cub outfield in the two week-end games against the White Sox. But his style was cramped. Charley hasn't made a hit himself in 35 times at bat and 40 odd trips to the plate.

It would have been just as well, perhaps, to have forgotten all about the Sox games at yesterday's clubhouse meeting. Freddy Lindstrom was the only regular who will start this afternoon who hit in both Sox games. The gents who had the best averages in the two Sox games, English, Hack and O'Dea, will not start. Ballplayers subscribe to the theory that there's always a feast after a famine, and on this basis a lot of Cubs are due to slay Dean this afternoon, Galan, Herman, Klein and Grimm not having hit the size of their hats for days and days.

Warneke Ready to Win.

Warneke, while promising no one hit game such as he pitched against the Reds and the Cardinals in the first week of last season, is ready to do a lot of pitching this afternoon. Lon hasn't pitched nine full innings this spring, but he would have gone the distance had he not been hooked up in a 4 to 4 tie at Santa Monica against the Los Angeles Angels in the last game the Cubs played in California on April 2. Adverse weather since that time has made it inadvisable for Lon to go through an entire game.

ITALIANS TAKE NEW INTEREST IN ALL SPORTS

Golden Gloves Trials Spur Boxing.

BY ED STORER.

EDOARDO MAZZIA.

ROME, Italy, April 15.—With Italy's amateur boxing champions settled down to a two weeks' siege of hard training prior to departure for Chicago and their international bouts with the Chicago Golden Gloves team, May 22, all Italy has exhibited a marked increase of interest in boxing. In fact, all sports now are receiving widespread public support, until athletics now come under the heading of state business.

Both professional and amateur sports in Italy are accountable to the Comitato Olimpico Nationale Italiano —C. O. N. I.—or, to phrase it in English, the Italian National Olympic committee. This central sports body supervises the various organizations, to one of which every athlete must belong.

C. O. N. I. is the supreme sports authority in Italy and is dependent upon the Fascist party. Achille Starace, Fascist secretary, is president of C. O. N. I. Thus, sport is linked directly with the Fascist state.

Bureau for Every Sport.

Headquarters of Italy's sports-governing body is located in National Stadium—the Via Flaminia—here in Rome. Twenty-seven sports federations are housed on the ground floor. Deputy Raffaello Riccardi, president, and Edoardo Mazzia, secretary, maintain offices in the National Stadium.

Among the branches of athletics in National Stadium are cycling, football, swimming, golf, winter sports, rowing, sailing, fencing, equestrian activities, tennis, rugby, football, ice hocky, basketball, automobile racing, and roller skating.

A visit to the bureau of the Federazione Pugilistica Italiana—Italian Boxing federation—gives one the impression of entering the offices of some thriving commercial enterprise. Many stenographers pound their typewriters with enthusiasm, while all around are busy employés. Arrangements are being made for boxing contests in the provinces and winter sports in the Abruzzi mountains near Rome. Even chess matches are being formulated. Chess, too, is one of the sports at Via Flaminia.

Mazzia Is Busy.

The man who knows most of boxing in all Italy, Mazzia, is busy attending to details having to do with Italy's team which should give Chicago's Golden Glove champions a busy evening May 22.

A telephone rings, and Mazzia is wanted. Some boxer in Civitavecchi wants to know if he can box on the following Saturday and Sunday evenings.

"Certainly not!" Mr. Mazzia replies. "You might be injured Saturday—then what of Sunday's bout?"

Mazzia, who has refereed scores of battles throughout Italy, finds time to explain to THE TRIBUNE correspondent about boxing headquarters. The secretary of C. O. N. I. looks after both professionals and amateur boxers, who are listed under three classifications. All university students who box are grouped under the banner of Gruppo Universitario Fascista, or G. U. F. Another group includes Fasci Giovanili—Fascists between 18 and 21 years of age. The third takes in youths and men in the Dopolavoro—Workmen's Spare Time Movement.

Italy's various regions, such as Lombardy, Tuscany, Sicily, and Venetia, have sports dictators—fiducari [trustees for sport]—responsible to C. O. N. I. These sports dictators also are located outside Italy, and Italian boxers and other athletes are watched over by a fiducario when meeting foreign opponents on foreign fields.

Must Be Insured.

Boxers and others engaged in competitive athletic activities, are insured against injury, both permanent and temporary disability, and death by accident. It is obligatory insurance. The premium is small—about one dollar and a half a year in most cases —but the total sum obtained in premiums makes it possible to compensate injured athletes.

Should a boxer, for instance, suffer an injury serious enough to incapacitate him from work, the insurance fund pays him at the rate of 8 lire a day for a month. A lira is equivalent of about 8.31 cents. Permanent disability may result in the payment of 20,000 lire, and 10,000 lire may be paid to his family in the event of death during a sports contest. No athlete, however, may compete unless his insurance premiums are paid.

Local offices of the C. O. N. I. serve as matchmakers for all competition.

Another view of the link between the state and sports in Italy is seen in the fact that Secretary Starace also is commander of the Fasci Giovanili, which is a semi-military organization; commander of the G. U. F., and president of the Dopolavoro. These organization represent the best of young Italian athletic material.

Braddock to Claim Title if Baer Ducks

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—James J. Braddock means to be heavyweight champion of the world even if he has to fight for it, but today he was discussing a much more pleasant if less profitable method. If Max Baer refuses to meet him in June, Braddock will claim the title.

Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, revealed today that the champion has been offered a contract which may take him into English music halls and rings for five weeks at $45,000. The contract calls for two-a-day vaudeville at $5,000 a week and five four round boxing exhibitions at $4,000 each.

Hoffman declared Baer would make the tour soon if the garden persists in insisting Braddock as a challenger without a $100,000 guarantee. The commission is still solidly and militantly behind Braddock, according to a statement made today by Commissioner Bill Brown, who asked:

"Who is Ancil Hoffman but a prize fight manager? The commission represents the people and the governor of New York, and we aren't going to let Hoffman come in here and run things. Baer is getting scared of Jim as the fight time gets nearer, but Braddock is the logical man and he'll have his chance."

"Hoffman is a crafty bird, but he's tangled himself in his own web," said Jimmy Johnston, garden matchmaker. "He kept Schmeling on the other side by indicating Baer would come over to meet him and he didn't think we'd be able to get another contender, but we have and we're going to hold Baer to the contract."

WILDCATS WIN FROM CARLETON, 4 TO 3, IN SNOW

Northwestern university's outstanding pitchers, Tom Woods and Ray Kimbel, held Carleton college to three hits yesterday as the Wildcats triumphed, 4 to 3, in a snowstorm at Royce field. The game was called in the seventh inning.

It was Northwestern's first victory and Carleton's third straight defeat on its current nine game road trip.

Carleton scored all its runs in the fifth inning off Kimbell, mixing three infield hits and two walks. Kimbell succeeded Woods, southpaw transfer from Port Huron, Mich., who held Carelton hitless for four innings.

Northwestern scored its runs in the first four innings, hammering Raudenbusch for a run in the first, another in the third and two in the fourth. Score:

Batteries — Woods, Kimbell, and Walsh; Raudenbusch and Lunder.

WOMEN NAMED FOR NATIONAL BOWLING FINALS

The names of nine of the ten women who will compete in the national match game bowling elimination finals at the Lake View alleys, 3239 North Clark street, next Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, were announced yesterday by the Greater Chicago Bowling Alley association.

Four of the ten will be Chicagoans—Cecelia Grob, Chicago champion; Betty Kleine, Bess Fender, and Fritzi Trettin. Ann Johnson and Lucille Wilson will represent St. Louis; Detroit will have three—Peggy Lindberg, Gertrude Schuster and Ruth Johnson. Cleveland's representative will be decided today.

The winner of the women's finals will be matched with Mrs. Marie Warmbier of Chicago, present title holder, for the world's championship.

Sugden, Cardinal Scout, Injured by Pitched Ball

Asheville, N. C., April 15.—(AP)—Joe Sugden, Philadelphia, veteran scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, received a broken nose when struck by a baseball in the training camp of the Asheville Tourists today. Sugden stepped into the path of a ball tossed by Pitcher Edward Kovis.

Too Cold for Preps; All Games Postponed

All Chicago Public High School Baseball league games scheduled yesterday were postponed because of inclement weather.

TOSSES AWAY CROWN

CHICAGOANS IN ALASKA BEAR HUNTING PARTY

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, April 15.—(AP)—The first two big game hunting parties of the season passed through here today aboard the liner Alaska.

One party of 11 men and women, headed by Coleman Jonas of Denver, is en route for a month's hunt of Kodiak brownies [brown bears native to the island]. It includes Dr. C. E. Boyes, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bradford, Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lilly, Des Moines, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Allen, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Scheufen, Chicago.

The other party scheduled to board a plane at Juneau to fly to Barrow, via Fairbanks, consists of T. B. Wilson, Seattle; R. Towner, New York; E. L. McConnell, New York, and A. L. Tager, Boston.

St. Louis, Mo., April 15.—[Special.] —Declaring he knew nothing of the details, Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, today announced First Baseman John Mize had been returned to St. Louis by the Cincinnati Reds. Breadon added that Vice President Branch Rickey is in charge of the transaction.

BY BOB BECKER.

The casting tournament which is being sponsored by the sports department of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and is scheduled to be held at the National Boat and Sports show on Navy pier, May 5 to 12, is off to a flying start with 43 entries already in from the Lincoln Park Casting club.

This tournament is open to men, women, boys and girls. There will be a special fisherman's bait casting event open only to anglers who use a regular casting rod to get bass, pike, muskies and other game fish. Tournament casters cannot compete in this contest. Fishermen who wish to enter this event should file entries at once.

Costs Nothing to Enter.

Simply write your name and address on a postcard and mail it to this department. The boys and girls will be divided into two different classes, so that young novices will not compete against more experienced casters. There is no entry fee for any event.

WOMEN—Mrs. D. W. Hartzell, Mrs. J. J. McVicker, Mrs. Clarence Sigwalt, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. A. G. Wicklund, Mrs. Clare Bryan, Mrs. L. G. Maison, and Mrs. Harold Knapp.

Winners to Get Silver Cups.

Also coöperating in the casting tournament are the Chicago Fly Casting club and the Illinois Casting club, which are expected to send in their entry lists this week.

The tournament, which is open to novices and experienced casters, will continue throughout the National Boat and Sports show. Handsome silver cups will be awarded by THE TRIBUNE to winners in the various events.

Red Sox Substitutes Win from Boston College, 9-0

Boston, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox, with none of the regulars in the lineup, walloped the Boston College Eagles, 9 to 0, today at Fenway park in their final exhibition game. Joe Mulligan, former Holy Cross pitcher, held the Eagles to two hits and had 14 strikeouts. Pitcher Henry Johnson, who played in the outfield, and Coach Bing Miller, who held down third base, each had homers.

Alix's Broken Leg Caused by Violent Cramp

Berkeley, Cal., April 15.—A violent cramp in his right leg was held responsible today by Neree Alix, university of Michigan runner, for the accident in which his leg was broken during the track meet with California here last Saturday.

Alix told Coach Brutus Hamilton, California, his leg bone snapped suddenly as he started to speed up for the last lap of the two mile run, which he was leading at the time.

"I felt like somebody had cracked my right leg with a baseball bat," he said. "Just before the start of the last lap my leg was gripped by a violent cramp. Before I could take another stride the contracting of the muscles was so great that the bones snapped."

X-ray pictures revealed his leg had been fractured in three places just above the ankle. The Michigan distance star said his leg had been bothering him, but he had not told his coach, Charley Hoyt, for fear of being left at home.

HARVARD-YALE TENNIS PLAYERS TO VISIT ENGLAND

New York, April 15. — [Special.] — Tennis stars of Yale and Harvard will combine to meet an Oxford-Cambridge team in the tenth biennial international intercollegiate match at Eastbourne, England, in July, officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association announced today.

Harvard-Yale will be led by Frank W. Jones Jr., Harvard, in the battle for the Prentice trophy, now in possession of the English institutions. The trophy was donated by Bernon S. Prentice, once captain of the Harvard tennis team and now chairman of the U. S. L. T. A. international intercollegiate committee.

The American players will not be chosen until next month or later, while the British will include C. R. Bawcus, Cambridge leader, and Clayton Burwell, Oxford, who once attended the University of the South in Tennessee.

STELLA PLANS TO ENTER COLLEGE, BECOME CITIZEN

Rochester, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)— Stella Walsh, 24 year old Polish girl acclaimed by many the world's greatest feminine athlete, is going to college. Here to play in a basketball game which her team of Cleveland girls won, she said she was tired of barnstorming.

"I don't know just what college it will be," she said, "but I intend to learn how to teach athletics."

At present Stella is a student in Notre Dame academy, a private girls' school in Cleveland. She said she hoped to take out United States citizenship papers.

Pros Strive for Member Co-operation

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Committee chairman and members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association teed off on their 1935 campaign yesterday and before the meeting in the association offices was over, several well directed drives had been smacked down the official fairways.

Horton Smith, the tall young Oak Park professional who is serving his first term as president of the Illinois group, was in charge of the gathering, and said later it was one of the best the association had ever enjoyed from the standpoint of enthusiasm and constructive contributions.

Smith, who since his rise to fame in the winter tournament season of 1929, has been a champion of the thought that those pros to whom golf has been good owe it to themselves to be good to the game, brought out that principle strongly several times during yesterday's meeting, urging the need of more attention by pros to the complete golfing well being of their members, notably that of junior players.

Stress Coöperation.

Too many golfers, both Horton and Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, secretary of the association, pointed out, are of the impression that their professionals are only so many more business men whose sole interest in the game is their own personal profit. On that account, Smith and the other officers of the association yesterday agreed to concentrate on the idea of mutual coöperation between themselves and their members.

The meeting was largely concerned with the duties and powers of the various committees, although one other important announcement was made. It concerned the golf night which the association will hold at the Edgewater Beach hotel on May 22. The program, a dinner-dance, will include several golf demonstrations, with all of the leading professionals in attendance.

Japanese to Play Here.

Part of the proceeds of the golf night will go toward paying the expenses of the team of six Japanese professionals who will meet a team of six Chicago district pros here on May 26. The course for the match has not been chosen, nor the method of competition decided, but will be taken up at an early association meeting. Next meeting of the association will be held Monday at the Morrison hotel at 2:15 p. m.

One of the most interesting discussions of the meeting was opened by Elmer Biggs of the Country club of Peoria, chairman of the junior golf promotion committee. Biggs has spent considerable time investigating the possibility of encouraging golf among younger people through instruction in the public schools and suggested that it might be handled as a regular study course, with the coöperation of school boards.

Other speakers included Al Lesperance, chairman of the educational committee; Matt Matteson of the membership committee; Jim Wilson and Jim Carberry of the advisory committee; Harry Kinnell and Jack Patterson of the business relations committee; George Smith of the public relations committee; Frank Walsh of the tournament group, and Herb Graffis, editor of Golfing and Golfdom.

Scott Stops Nebraska; Iowa State Wins, 6-0

Ames, Ia., April 15.—(AP)—The Iowa State college baseball team won the first of a two game series with the University of Nebraska here today, 6 to 0. The Iowa State pitcher, Scott, held the Cornhuskers to four hits.

DUBLINSKY OPENS DRILL FOR BOUT AT NEW ORLEANS

Tests Elbows After a Double Operation.

Jack Elle, Dublinsky's manager, said Harry will make his first start as a benedict in a ten round bout against Eddie [Kid] Wolfe of Memphis, Tenn., at New Orleans, La., May 6. Dublinsky has not boxed since Jan. 11, when he lost a ten round decision to Lou Ambers at New York. An old elbow ailment hampered Harry during the fight and when it failed to respond to treatment he underwent an operation for the removal of several chips from each elbow.

Everett [Young] Rightmire, Sioux City, Ia., and Varias Milling of the Philippine Islands were matched yesterday to meet in the ten round main event at the Midway arena Monday. The match has been set for ten rounds at 128 pounds. Johnny Fitzpatrick and Bill Reardon, lightweight boxers, will meet in the eight round semi-final.

Gov. Horner has appointed John A. [Roger] Whalen, brother of Sanitary District Trustee James Whalen, to replace John J. Duffy as chief inspector for the Illinois Athletic commission. The position was left open after Duffy was elected alderman of the Nineteenth ward in a runoff election April 2.

Old Bill O'Connell, Tommy White, and Harry Gilmore, connected with boxing for more than a quarter century, today will start instructing a dozen preliminary boxers who have been cited as in need of additional schooling. The men are acting under the direction of the state boxing commission, to which they were appointed March 25. O'Connell and White will hold their classes at the Madison Square gym and Gilmore will give his lessons at C. Y. O. center.

Johnny Buckley of Boston, Mass., manager of Lou Brouillard, former welterweight and middleweight title holder, yesterday filed a challenge for a title match with the current middleweight champion, Teddy Yarosz, at the state athletic commission. . . . Fred Chynoweth, Manitowoc, Wis.; Adolph Wiater, Green Bay, and Mickey Patrick, East Chicago, Ind., trained yesterday at Trafton's gymnasium. . . . Bob La Monte, former Catholic Youth organization welterweight king, is seeking to break his management contract with Bob Cooper, born Robert Capuci. . . . A hearing will be held next Monday.

Al Diamond, Paterson, N. J., middleweight, has received offers to box Johnny Rossi at Boston and Young Terry at Trenton, N. J., late this month. . . . Roy Lazer, Diamond's heavyweight stablemate, left last night for Detroit, Mich., to visit relatives there. . . . Jackie Reed, Willard Weaver, John McVey, and Joe Kacmarek are included among the amateur boxers who will appear in the show tomorrow at the 124th Field Artillery armory.

THEY'RE OFF, IN SNOWSTORMS, ON PENNANT CHASES

After Today, Guesswork Is Out—Figures Talk.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Threat of cold, wintry weather did not shake major league baseball tonight in its plans to embark in mass formation tomorrow on a 154 game fight calculated to develop extraordinary competitive excitement and designed to recapture old time prosperity.

A flirtatious spring sun today buoyed hopes for a balmy setting at opening ceremonies, but this proved quickly to be just another false start. The forecast is for much colder weather overnight along the eastern seaboard, with a parting salute from winter in the middle west.

Cincinnati reported snow flurries but a sell-out, nevertheless, for the opening game at Crosley field between the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates. Chicago's forecast alone was "generally fair and warmer" for the opening which will pit Dizzy Dean of the world champion Cardinals against Lon Warneke of the Cubs.

Wear Your Flannels.

Skies promise to clear but overcoats necessary for those who turn out to join President Roosevelt in the send-off at Washington or to witness the debut of Babe Ruth as a National leaguer in Boston against Carl Hubbell and the New York Giants.

Latest reports indicate an aggregate of at least 200,000 for the eight opening games tomorrow. National league estimates were for a total of 125,000 at contests scheduled in Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Chicago. The American league's openers in New York, Detroit, St. Louis and Washington figured to attract less than 100,000.

The Braves hoped to draw 35,000 despite the frigid weather. The Yankees expected another 35,000 to see the first Ruthless New York club in 15 years, with the Boston Red Sox furnishing the opposition. Predictions were for 30,000 at Detroit, a similar turnout at Cincinnati and a crowd of 25,000 at Washington.

On Your Own, Boys!

No matter how chilly the opening may be, from now on the standing of clubs and the individual statistics will replace the dope sheets and guesswork. Fans will find out for themselves whether Babe Ruth can come back as a National leaguer, whether the famous Dean brothers can duplicate their incredible feat of winning 49 games for the Cardinals; whether the New York Giants can fight their way back to the top, after their 1934 stretch debacle; or whether the Detroit Tigers can prove their conquest of the American league last year was not a fluke.

Ruth will be the main focus of interest for at least the first few weeks. The 40 year old slugger, slow in the field, nevertheless packs his old power and all will be forgiven if he can find the old range again. He helped the Braves break attendance records throughout the training season and he will likely pack 'em in for at least one swing around the National league, where he will have new and inviting right field targets. If he can play in as many as 100 games Ruth's power may be sufficient to keep the Braves in a contending position.

The Deans offer another intriguing National league angle. Dizzy, elder of the pair and victor in thirty games last year, will be the target of all rival jockies as well as batsmen this season. He is not likely to do so well under this pressure, but only an accident can keep him from winning twenty games. Meanwhile Paul Dean may prove much more effective as a sophomore than he was as a freshman and keep the family's record on an extraordinary level.

Watch Those Giants.

It will take all the Deans and the rambunctious Cardinals can produce, however, to stop the Giants' comeback. Bill Terry has four pitchers to match Frankie Frisch's pair, who are not likely to repeat their trick of beating New York in twelve out of fourteen starts. The Cardinals have more speed, but no greater punch than the Giants with Dick Bartell and Hank Leiber in the lineup. It should be a bitter fight between these two, with Chicago or Pittsburgh ready to jump in if either slows down.

In the American league the prospect is for a much closer race among more clubs. Cleveland's Indians, fortified with great right handed pitching, are the choice of a majority of authorities, but the team is handicaped now by an inexperienced infield and doubtful catching. The Yankees, developing fast under Joe McCarthy, figure to make it a three cornered scrap and maybe the pace setter. This New York outfit is no longer the wrecking crew of old but it has speed, power, and perhaps the best all around pitching staf in the league.

Babe Ruth will start his twenty-second season in active play and nearly a score of rookies make their debut. Bucky Harris resumes his old job as pilot of the Washington Senators, while his place with the Boston Red Sox is taken by Joe Cronin. The aces of both leagues will be on the firing line with Carl Hubbell, Van Mungo, Curt Davis, Dizzy Dean, Lon Warneke, Wes Ferrell, Lefty Gomez, Schoolboy Rowe, Mel Harder, and Earl Whitehill, all scheduled to start.

Lake Forest Nine Faces Maroons This Afternoon

on. Last season there was no need for secondary help because the regular inner defense—Greenberg, Gehringer, Rogell, and Owen—went through the entire race without suffering an injury. That's why it is easy to believe Cochrane's team was lucky. It is luck of the most amazing kind when you remember, as an example, that the White Sox of 1934 never had their complete regular team on the field at one time. It was breaks of that kind that did much to shove them into eighth place.

The Sox have fooled so many people so many times in the past that it is hazardous to make any rosy predictions on the basis of their spring work. The fashion in which they handled the Pirates and Cubs augurs for better days just ahead, but there are a lot of ifs involved.

If Vernon George Washington and Rip Radcliff hit and field, a big portion of the team's weaknesses of recent years will be eliminated. If the young pitchers come through as indicated, Dykes will have more solid timber for a foundation. And if nobody is seriously injured it will mean a lot. However, there is no if attached to the present mental state of the boys. Dykes has them pepped up to where they believe they are as good as the next guy, and if that spirit continues they'll at least have some fun during the summer.

6 OF 9 ILLINOIS SWIM AWARDS GO TO CHICAGO

Champaign, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—Six of the nine varsity letters awarded to University of Illinois swimmers tonight went to Adolph Bulaw, James D. Hickey, Eric M. Larson, Warren C. Overman, John Van Tuin, and Frank C. Vokac, all of Chicago. Capt. Charles R. Flachmann, national champion in the 50 and 100 yard dashes, and Earl Jansen of St. Louis and Harry Hansen of Oak Park also were honored.

Water polo letters were awarded to: Foster C. Bennett, Chicago; Frank H. Crosby, Lockport, N. Y.; James W. Starrett, Elgin, Ill.; Frank K. Dalrymple, Chicago, and Henry S. Morton, Joliet, Ill.

PACHO BATTLES TO 8 ROUND DRAW WITH DEL GENIO

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Bobby Pacho, Cleveland lightweight, fought eight rounds to a draw with Leonard Del Genio, New York, before a capacity crowd of 5,000 in St. Nicholas palace tonight.

Pacho took the first four rounds by a wide margin and had Del Genio hanging on in the second and third. The New Yorker rallied, however, in the latter half of the battle to gain a draw. Pacho weighed 138¾ pounds; Del Genio, 135½.

Heydler Sees Real Fun This Year at Opener

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Minus any real official cares for the first time in 40 years of service with the National league, John Arnold Heydler will attend tomorrow's opening game between the Dodgers and the Phillies at Philadelphia as a fan. The 65 year old former league president will be a guest of honor at Baker bowl, as chairman of the league's board of directors, but he said he looks forward to "sitting back and enjoying" himself.

Cubs to Meet Cardinals in Opener Today

and his scheduled last pre-season start against the White Sox last Friday was rained out entirely. There's no need to worry about Lon's condition, however. He's in shape the day he arrives at the training camp each February.

Because the Cardinals trained in Florida they rarely have been afflicted by ornery weather such as pursued the Cubs. All the Cards, including the great Diz, have had plenty of work this spring.

The only new Cub in the opening is Lindstrom, and there are few Chicagoans who do not know what Freddy looks like.

The Cards will play here tomorrow and Thursday, also. Larry French is scheduled to pitch tomorrow and Bill Lee Thursday. The Cubs expect to see Paul Dean and Bill Hallahan before the champions leave town.

BRAVES RALLY IN NINTH TO BEAT HOLY CROSS, 5-2

Worcester, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—A belated three run rally in the ninth enabled the Boston Braves to gain a 5 to 2 victory over Holy Cross college in their annual exhibition game today.

A crowd of more than 10,000—most of them attracted by Babe Ruth—watched the big fellow play first base for five innings, roll weakly to the infield once and walk on his other two trips to the plate.

A home run by Doc Couillard in the fourth and a long triple by Nick Morris in the sixth gave Holy Cross its two runs.

The Braves came up into a tie in the eighth on Thompson's double and Coscaret's single. They won in the ninth when Roy Bruninghaus, sophomore pitcher, lost control and passed four men.

These passes, mixed with two hits, produced three runs. Score:

Lovelock Agrees to Race Cunningham and Bonthron

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, April 15.—Jack Lovelock, the British empire's greatest miler, has decided to accept the challenge to meet Bill Bonthron and Glenn Cunningham at Princeton June 15. All three may turn in a world record for either the mile or 1,500 meter distances.

Official Says Perry Hasn't Turned Pro

Hollywood, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Fred Perry, world tennis champion, has not turned professional despite rumors to that effect, an acquaintance said here tonight, shortly after the star left for New York en route to his native England, where he will compete in tennis tournaments.

He departed after being informed his British actress fiancée, Mary Lawson, said in London today that she had broken their engagement because he intended to follow a movie career and live in Hollywood.

Won't Jeopardize Standing.

Before leaving, Perry talked with Perry T. Jones, secretary of the California Tennis association, and told him he had no thought of jeopardizing his standing as an amateur player.

"I speak with responsibility and full knowledge of the facts when I say Mr. Perry has not turned professional, despite many rumors and reports to that effect," Jones said.

"On the contrary, he left tonight for England for the purpose of competing in tennis tournaments which the English Lawn Tennis association arranged for him, and to place himself at the disposal of his country and his tennis association in defense of the Davis cup championship."

Miss Lawson Is Another Matter.

Jones said he was not authorized to speak for Perry on Miss Lawson's statement that the tennis champion would accept a film contract. He said Perry had turned down proposals made by film companies. Some contracts offered, Jones said, would have disbarred him from amateur play, and others would have permitted him to remain an amateur.

Jones said Perry would arrive in England May 1, and probably would return to Los Angeles next fall to defend his Pacific coast championship and the Pacific southwest championship.

6 STARS ENTER DECATHLON AT KANSAS RELAYS

Lawrence, Kas., April 15.—[Special.]—Six entries already are in and more are in prospect for the decathlon, a special event for the Kansas relays Saturday. Of the six, only one has competed in previous decathlons. Ray Patterson, Iowa Wesleyan, who finished second last year with 7,630.6749 points, again is entered. Jay Berwanger, Chicago, who finished fourth last year, will not compete because of football injuries received last fall.

Others entered are Lee Gasida, captain of the Ottawa university track team; Loyette Burk and Elmo Hewes, both of the University of Oklahoma; Victor Pahl, St. Ambrose college, Davenport, Ia., and Dave Schroeder, Enterprise, Kas., a former student at Kansas State college, but competing unattached.

Decathlon competition will start Friday afternoon during the high school track meet, when the 100 meter run, the broad jump, the 16 pound shot put, the high jump, and the 400 meter run will be held. The remaining events—the 110 meter high hurdles, the discus, pole vault, javelin throw, and 1,500 meter run—will be held Saturday morning.

Efforts are being made to obtain particulars as to the new method of scoring decathlon competition, but thus far the athletic union authorities in New York have not sent the details. If it is not received shortly, competition at the relays will be under the old rules.

Rice institute, Houston, Tex., expects to bring a team north for the relays. Rice has a good mile relay team and a discus thrower who can do better than 163 feet.

Dick Scrivani Is Victor in C. Y. O. Juvenile Meet

Another card of 75 bouts was held last night at the C. Y. O. Center gym as the second annual Catholic Youth Organization juvenile boxing tournament approached the end of the first round. Tonight's card of 75 contests probably will conclude the first round. There will be no further boxing until April 22, 24 and 25.

Other boys who scored impressive victories included Joe Drennan, St. David's parish; Jimmy Rosner, St. Leo's; Tom Hoban, St. Agatha's; Harry Novak, Queen of Heaven; Howard Harris, St. Joseph's, and Robert Elliot, St. Catherine.

In addition to the juvenile matches tonight at the C. Y. O. gym eight all-star bouts will be held.

King Levinsky Stops Birkie in 4th Round

Denver, Colo., April 15.—(AP)—King Levinsky of Chicago scored a technical knockout over Hans Birkie of Germany tonight in the fourth round of their 10 round bout at the City auditorium. Levinsky weighed 197½; Birkie 197.

The wild swinging puncher from Chicago was awarded the bout after Birkie, lately of Oakland, Cal., had fractured two bones in his right hand. One minute of the fourth round had elapsed.

The crowd was disappointed at the sudden end to the scrap and booed as Referee Dan Darnell stepped between the boxers. Charlie Rose, second for Birkie, had asked Darnell to stop the fight.

Levinsky outclassed Birkie throughout the first three rounds.

DIXIE HOWELL LEAVES TO JOIN DETROIT TEAM

Lynchburg, Va., April 15.—(AP)—Dixie Howell left this afternoon for Detroit to join the Detroit Tigers. Last Tuesday he was struck and injured by a batted ball in a practice game.

He was dismissed from the hospital today, with Dr. John W. Devine saying, "he is all right now."

"He was so restless that I thought he might as well be lounging in a hotel lobby," Dr. Devine said. He added that Dixie's head injury could do no worse than cause an infection of the right antrum, which could be washed by a nose specialist without serious consequences.

Dizzy and Daffy DEAN will be here to greet you Tuesday night from 7 to 9 P. M.

MAYBE THERE'LL BE OATS MONEY FOR JOSEPH J. G.

Owner, Derby Candidate Get to Aurora.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Owner Peters and his steed pulled in from Hot Springs after a hard trip, made quite difficult because Joseph J. G. didn't run at Hot Springs as Owner-Trainer Peters thought he would run.

So when the curtain rolled down on the Hot Springs season there was the feed man, the boarding house keeper, and other folks around, and as Joseph J. G. had not demonstrated his earning ability, things indeed looked serious. The trip back north had to be delayed.

Some of the admirers of Joseph J. G. came to the rescue. Joe Yack of Chicago was one of them. L. M. Severson, who maintains quite a breeding farm and a racing stable himself, was another. Finally the carfare for Joseph J. G. and his owner and trainer was arranged. So in they came, Joseph J. G. and Owner Peters, ready to finish the Derby prep Owner Peters has mapped out for his colt.

Given Cold Welcome.

Both the horse and the owner shivered when they landed in the teeth of yesterday's cold spell, but they will be on the track this morning and every morning from now until Joseph J. G. gets ready for an engagement.

Joseph J. G. possibly will sport the silks of Joe Yack, or at least, of Yack and Peters, when he does get to the post, for if Mr. Yack and his friends had not come to the rescue, Joseph J. G. might have put in a very dull summer nibbling grass in the sherif's back yard in Hot Springs.

The arrival of Joseph J. G. wasn't the only big event to take place at the Aurora track yesterday. The first nomination for the $10,000 Aurora Derby, to be run May 24, arrived. The colt named for the race was Blackbirder, right now the big romance colt of American racing.

Weds Horse's Owner.

Just the other day Jocky Hainsworth, who rides Blackbirder in all his races, was married to Mrs. H. W. Silver, the pretty young widow who owns the colt.

Blackbirder, after a winter campaign in Florida, now is at Churchill Downs trying to get into shape for the Kentucky Derby and will move to Aurora soon after the running of the famous Kentucky race.

Thompson has just visited the Churchill Downs track and selected the stalls where the Bradley Derby colorbearers are to be stabled at Derby time.

"Track conditions have been so bad at the farm training track that I haven't had a chance to set Boxthorn down for a real good speed test," he told friends. "As for Big Gawk he possibly will be running among the selling platers before the end of the season."

Bills to Curb Bookies, Race News Pending

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—[Special.]—Three bills aimed at horse racing and bookmaking in Illinois are pending before the house of representatives tonight. Two of them have been approved by the committee on license and miscellany and are on the order of second reading.

One of the bills, which has been reported out for action is by Representative John Bolton [Dem., Chicago]. It legalizes the business of bookmaking and requires persons engaging in such business to be licensed by the department of registration and education, upon payment of an annual license fee of $2,000.

Another bill by Representative Charles Coia [Dem., Chi.] provides that no horse racing license shall allow more than 15 racing days nor more than five races a day to any licensee under the act. This measure is on the order of second reading.

A bill by Representative P. J. Breen [Dem., Paris], makes it unlawful to disseminate or in any maner make known any information pertaining to a race, race horse, betting or betting odds, form charts, or other information relating thereto. The bill, offered last week is in the house committee on revenue.

JANE PACKARD WINS EASILY AT BAY MEADOWS

San Mateo, Cal., April 15.—(AP)—Galloping home with a five length lead, Jane Packard won today's feature race at Bay Meadows track in the time of 1:16 1-5 for the six furlongs.

The race was delayed 21 minutes when Lynnewood and Morale unseated their riders and bolted. R. Colpitts, aboard Lynnewood, and H. Simmons, on Morale, were not injured.

The winner went to the post as co-favorite with Lynnewood. Owned by Mrs. C. B. Irwin, Cheyenne, Jane Packard ran in second place until the stretch where Jocky R. Neves sent the six year old mare into a commanding lead. Altena was second and Ikard third.

Red Sox Send Catcher Hinkle to Syracuse Club

Boston, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—Gordon Hinkle, a catcher purchased from the St. Louis Browns, today was sent to the Syracuse club of the International league on option by the Boston Red Sox. Hinkle, brother of Clark Hinkle, Green Bay professional football star, played with Rochester and Toronto last season.

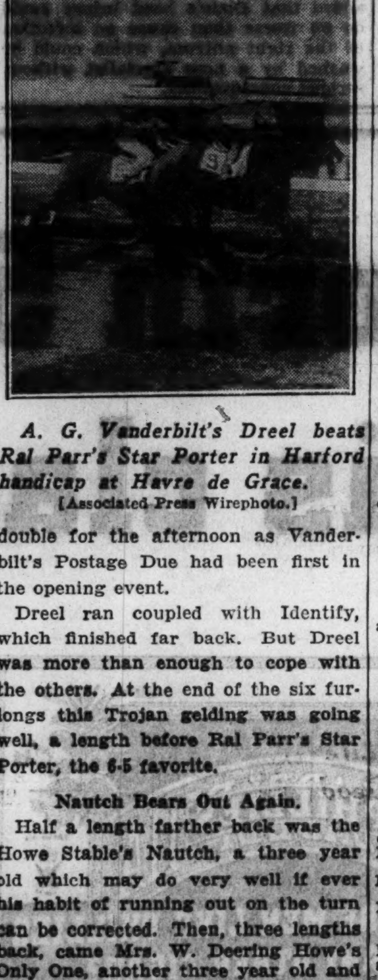
Dreel Defeats Star Porter at Havre de Grace

Havre de Grace, Md., April 15.—[Special.]—The long string of victories which the Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt horses scored at Bowie was continued here today as the Havre de Grace meeting got under way amid rain flurries and an occasional ray of sunshine. Dreel captured the $2,500 added Harford handicap and added $1,850 to the Vanderbilt winnings. This made a double for the afternoon as Vanderbilt's Postage Due had been first in the opening event.



A. G. Vanderbilt's Dreel beats Ral Parr's Star Porter in Harford handicap at Havre de Grace.
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Dreel ran coupled with Identify, which finished far back. But Dreel was more than enough to cope with the others. At the end of the six furlongs this Trojan gelding was going well, a length before Ral Parr's Star Porter, the 6-5 favorite.

Nautch Bears Out Again.

Half a length farther back was the Howe Stable's Nautch, a three year old which may do very well if ever his habit of running out on the turn can be corrected. Then, three lengths back, came Mrs. W. Deering Howe's Only One, another three year old and a colt which had all the worst of the running. He was coupled with Nautch.

Dreel ran around the field to win in a hard drive under the handling of Leo [Skinny] Fallon. The time of 1:13 1-5 was the fastest so far during the eastern season and was scored over a good track. So far this year there has not been a fast track here. The mutuel return on Dreel was $15.10, due to heavy backing for the favorite, the Howe entry, and others of the eleven starters.

Postage Due Easy Winner.

Nautch was a notorious run-out horse last year as a juvenile, and he has not gotten over his habit. The effort today was his first as a three year old.

Postage Due, considered the main Vanderbilt eligible for the Aberdeen stakes, made an impressive debut to racing when he won the first race. Even though he never had started before he was made a pronounced favorite on the strength of the Vanderbilt name.

VAN DER HAYDEN, CHIVAS CAPTURE WINDUP BATTLES

Sammy Chivas, Detroit, Mich., 144¾, and George Van Der Hayden, South Bend, Ind., 135, won feature bouts at Marigold Gardens and Midway arena last night. Chivas defeated Eddie Carroll, Ottawa, Ont., 146, at Marigold, and Van Der Hayden whipped Bill Reardon, Chicago, 134½, at the Midway. Both matches went the limit of eight rounds.

Chivas scored three knockdowns. Johnny Liston beat Young Jack Blackburn in the middleweight semi-final at six rounds. He paved the way to victory by registering two knockdowns. Preliminary results:

GIANTS DEFEAT ARMY, 9 TO 0, IN SEVEN INNINGS

West Point, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)—With Dick Bartell leading the 14 hit attack off three Army hurlers, the New York Giants turned back the Cadets, 9 to 0, today in their annual visit to West Point.

Bartell cracked out three singles and a double as the Giants scored four times in the first, three in the sixth and two more in the seventh, before rain forced the calling off of the remainder of the contest. Frank Gabler and Leon Chagnon combined to hold the Cadets to three hits scattered over as many innings. Score:

Army ..............000 000 0—0  3 4

Boston Racing Service Agrees to Quit State

Boston, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—John P. Feeney, personal counsel to Gov. James M. Curley, announced tonight he had obtained an agreement with the Boston branch of Nationwide News Bureau, Inc., racing news service servicing sixty-one clients in New England, to cease operations immediately.

Feeney described the action of the service as being "the end of big race gambling in poolrooms in New England."

Feeney said he had been accompanied to the offices of the service by officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company who, he said, had agreed to cut wires and remove seven telephones from the establishment immediately.

Service to Get Out.

Phil J. Elwell, manager of the branch, was quoted by Feeney as saying he was "going to fold up and get out at once."

Feeney's action, which he asserted had the approval of the governor, came after a gang shooting early this year which disclosed the existence of a huge betting establishment in Boston.

Feeney, who has been aiding the governor in a number of investigations, said he acted after he learned that large sums were being telegraphed daily by the Boston branch to Chicago and New York offices.

The telephone company officials, Feeney said, had agreed to discontinue service after he had suggested that "perhaps they had some responsibility."

Numbers Sent to Chicago.

Feeney visited the news bureau offices Saturday, he said, and at that time was told by Elwell that the service "didn't know the names of its customers," but had assigned them numbers instead.

When he returned today, Feeney said, he was told that the "little black book" with the customers' numbers had been sent to Chicago on the orders of the service's headquarters.

WORCESTER BOOKIES CLOSE.

Worcester, Mass., April 15.—(AP)—Every bookie shop in Worcester will be forced to cease operations with the closing today in Boston of the Nationwide News Bureau, Inc., customers of horse race betting places were told by proprietors tonight.

CHILDREN'S CUE TOURNEY.

A pocket billiard tournament for children will be played by the juniors and seniors of the Recreational Boys and Girls club April 28 in the playroom of the Stevens hotel.

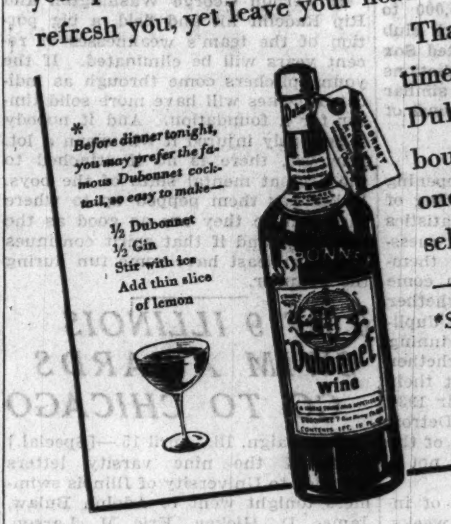
"PERMIT ME, MESSIEURS—

THAT LUNCH WILL TASTE BETTER AFTER A DUBONNET"

Yes, take it from the French . . . your lunch today will taste better after a Dubonnet, the great French tonic wine and apéritif. It will stir your appetite, sharpen your palate, heighten fine flavors. More, it will cheer and refresh you, yet leave your head clear for afternoon.

That is why, before mealtime, they consume more Dubonnet on the Paris boulevards than any other one drink. Try it yourself before lunch today—and you will see why.*

*Straight, chilled but not iced.



Before dinner tonight, you may prefer the famous Dubonnet cocktail, so easy to make—½ Dubonnet
½ Gin
Stir with ice

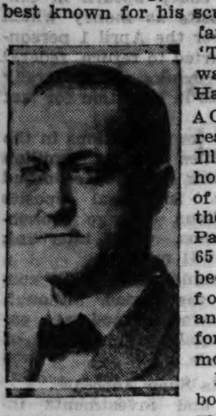
PAULDING, NOTED SCULPTOR, DIES; ILL SIX MONTHS

Famed as Creator of New Medium in Art.



JOHN PAULDING.

John Paulding, Park Ridge sculptor, best known for his sculpticolor of the famous painting "The Doctor," that was hung in the Hall of Science at A Century of Progress, died at the Illinois Masonic hospital yesterday of inflammation of the brain. Mr. Paulding, who was 65 years old, had been in ill health for six months and critically ill for more than two months.

Paulding was born in Ohio and gained his art education at the Art Institute of Chicago and in Europe. His bronze equestrian statue of Gen. James B. McPherson, Union commander in the civil war, unveiled at McPherson, Kas., in 1917, created such interest that Paulding later was commissioned to sculpture world war memorials for many American cities. Among these latter are works in South Bend, Gary, and Hammond.

The fountain at Northwest highway and Cedar street, in the business district of Park Ridge, also was designed by Paulding.

The most famous work of the sculptor, the reproduction of Luke Fields' painting "The Doctor," was the creation of a new type of art expression. With the aid of Rudolph F. Ingerle, an artist, Paulding created in that work a third dimension and made the combined sculpture-painting appear to represent a living scene. He named this new medium "sculpticolor." One other work of the same kind by Mr. Paulding was a portrait of Washington, exhibited in Chicago during the Washington bi-centennial.

Mr. Paulding is survived by his widow, Jane, and a brother living in Detroit.

FORMER HUSBAND OF SHIRLEY KUB, DETECTIVE, DIES

Ned Ragland, colored, 43 years old, 1816 Maypole avenue, former husband of Mrs. Shirley Kub, died in the county hospital yesterday from an internal disorder. Ragland filed in 1933 in the Circuit court a suit charging that Mrs. Kub, a white woman and an investigator for the police department and the Secret Six, obtained by fraud in 1931 an annulment of their marriage in 1924. Ragland sought to set aside the annulment proceedings. Mrs. Kub obtained notoriety several years ago when she was sentenced to the county jail for contempt of court for refusing to testify before the grand jury during an investigation of the police department.

Policeman Edward Lyons Dies; Funeral Tomorrow

Policeman Edward Lyons, 63 years old, 6118 North Lincoln street, died yesterday at the Swedish Covenant hospital after a long illness. He had been on the force for more than a quarter century, the last 14 years as wagon man at the Summerdale station. He was a trustee of the Policemen's Benefit association. Surviving are his widow, two sons, and a daughter. Funeral services will be held at St. Henry's church, Devon and Hoyne avenues, at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

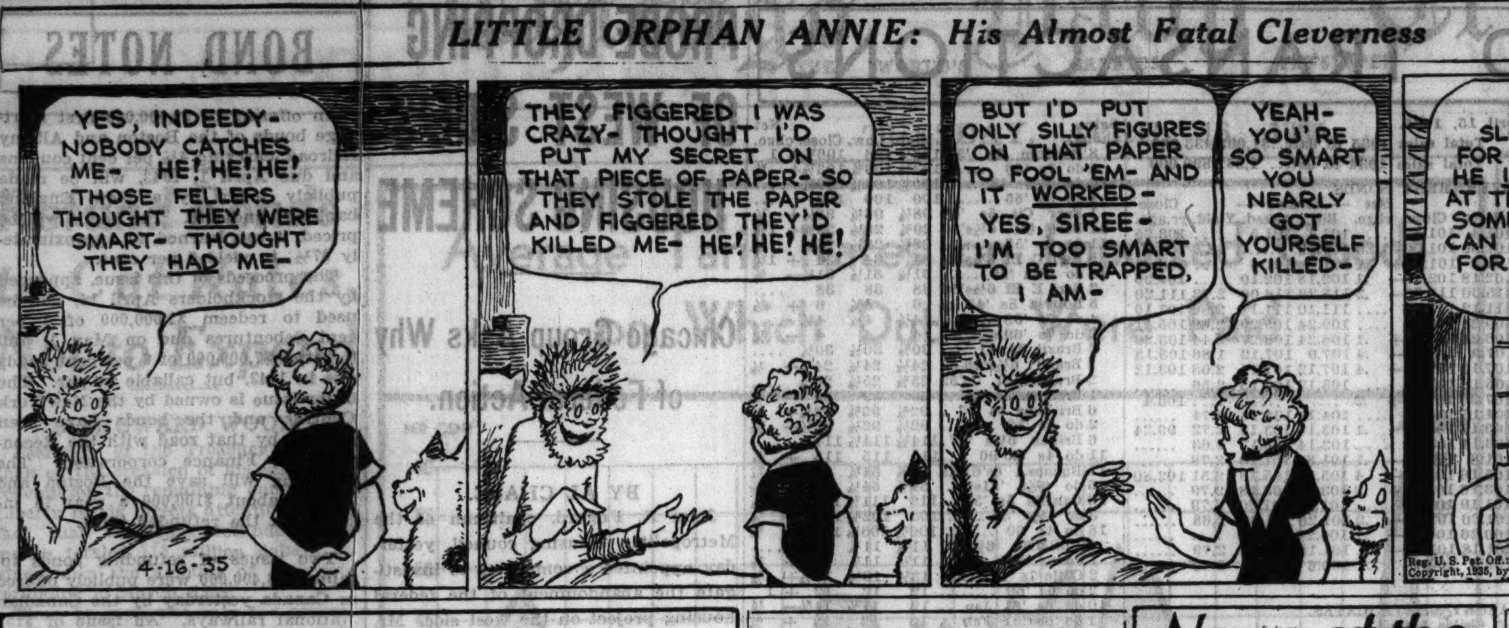
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: His Almost Fatal Cleverness



YES, INDEEDY—NOBODY CATCHES ME—HE! HE! HE! THOSE FELLERS THOUGHT THEY WERE SMART—THOUGHT THEY HAD ME—
THEY FIGGERED I WAS CRAZY—THOUGHT I'D PUT MY SECRET ON THAT PIECE OF PAPER—SO THEY STOLE THE PAPER AND FIGGERED THEY'D KILLED ME—HE! HE! HE!
BUT I'D PUT ONLY SILLY FIGURES ON THAT PAPER TO FOOL 'EM—AND IT WORKED—YES, SIREE—I'M TOO SMART TO BE TRAPPED, I AM—
YEAH—YOU'RE SO SMART YOU NEARLY GOT YOURSELF KILLED—
HAH! THAT SLOWED HIM UP FOR A SPELL—GUESS HE IS SORTA SMART, AT THAT, MAYBE—BUT SOMETIMES A PERSON CAN BE TOO SMART FOR THEIR OWN GOOD, BETCHA—

RITES TOMORROW FOR HIGHWOOD'S EX-MAYOR GIBBS

Funeral services for Michael J. Gibbs, 68 years old, Lake county politican and the first mayor of Highwood after its incorporation as a city in 1907, will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. James church, Highwood. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery, Lake Forest.

Gibbs died Sunday in his home at 255 High street, Highwood, after an illness of several days. He is survived by his widow, Katherine, four sons, Earl, Ernest, J. Howard, and Walter H., and two daughters, Betty, and Mrs. Gilbert Voelker.

Gibbs served two terms as mayor. During the forty-five years he lived in the suburb he held every elective office. He was a candidate for alderman in the election today. He was also a member of the Lake county Democratic central committee. Four former mayors of Highwood and all city officials and employés will attend the funeral.

Mrs. Minnie Pitzele Braun, 73 years old, 3800 Lake Shore drive, died last night in the Norwegian-American hospital. She fell in her home last Thursday breaking her left arm; later pneumonia set in and this caused her death.

Mrs. Braun, who was born in Austria, has lived here for forty-two years. She was the mother of Joseph H. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club, Sara G. Braun, Attorney Max H. Braun, and Isadore H. Braun, an architect. She is also survived by her husband, Abraham L. Braun, retired.

Funeral will be held tomorrow morning with burial in Rosemont Park cemetery.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Ed Wynn's fidelity to his horse really registers with many a fan. Ever since radio's "fire chief" resolved to stick to his nag, regardless of Graham McNamee's gasoline plugs, Wynn's mail has been freighted with letters from jockys, railbirds, mounted police, milkmen, and backwoods men who still rely on the hoss. Recently Wynn was involved in a motor accident. As a result, his secretarial staf is still busy opening an avalanche of communiques, all reading, "Why didn't you stick to your horse?"

Wynn sports one of those low number license plates. It reads "YY-2." To a fan who wrote that he was disillusioned to see Ed riding in a fancy car Wynn replied that he used it only to get from his home to the stable.

Dozens of persons have written to Wynn enclosing newspaper clippings of the story of the funeral of a Grundy Center, Ia., man who insisted on being taken to the cemetery in a horse drawn herse. Wynn, obviously, is not the only person loyal to dobbin. His gasoline sponsor, however, is unworried by any possible trend from the automobile.

Dr. Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has been engaged to conduct the final concert of the NBC Sunday evening Symphonic hour on Easter Sunday, at which Kirsten Flagstad, Metropolitan opera star, will be soloist. The 400 voice mixed chorus of the General Motors company will sing Easter selections. The Chicago Symphony is concluding a W-G-N and Mutual system series this week.

Rudy Vallee's favorites are: Paul Whiteman, Fred Waring, Joe Penner, Hal Kemp, NBC Radio Theater and March of Time. . . . When Arthur Tracy [Street Singer] concludes his current engagement over W-G-N-MBS he will make a European tour which will take him to London, Paris, and Cannes. He plans also to visit Russia to study music of the soviets. . . . Bob Hawk's "Red Hot and Lowdown" program is moving from 2 to 1 p. m. on WCFL.

M. Sayle Taylor, radio's "Voice of Experience," was engaged to address an assembly of Episcopalian clergymen the other day. Arriving at the hotel, he asked a boy: "Where are the preachers meeting?" Soon Taylor found himself on the seventeenth floor addressing a group of ministers. He had been talking for fifteen minutes when some one handed him a note. It read: "This is the Congregational convention; you belong on the fifteenth floor with the Episcopalians. You are in the right church but the wrong pew."

The Kentucky Derby will be heard over the entire CBS net of ninety-two, including outlets in Hawaii and Porto Rico. . . . Virginia Rea, one of radio's premier sopranos, will be back on the air within a month. . . . Guy Lombardo, on his way back east from the Pacific coast, will present his Pleasure Island broadcast from Chicago NBC studios tomorrow evening.

Pastor Killed by Fumes; Death Is Called Suicide

New Britain, Conn., April 15.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. Abel A. Ahlquist, 52, pastor of the First Lutheran church, was found overcome by illuminating gas tonight in a closed room of the church and died at a hospital. A medical examiner said it was suicide. Dr. Ahlquist was a native of Michigan and a graduate of Augustana college, in Rock Island, Ill., in the class of 1900.

Richard E. Elliott, Broker and Yachtsman, Is Dead

Richard E. Elliott, 38 years old, 1412 East Marquette road, broker and yachtsman, died in the county hospital yesterday after a brief illness. Born in Indianapolis, Mr. Elliott came to Chicago 20 years ago. His yacht, the Audax, placed second in the Chicago to Mackinac race in 1928. Surviving are his mother, Mary, with whom he lived, and three sisters.

Body of Former Chicagoan Found in Lake at Milwaukee

The body of Eugene G. Henry, 50 years old, a former Chicagoan, was recovered from the lake at Milwaukee yesterday. Henry had been a patient in a Milwaukee sanitarium for two months and left the institution late Saturday. Papers found in the pockets indicated he was the owner of a building at 935 Harrison street.

Don't let a little thing like a cold cut in on cigarette pleasure. You can smoke as much as usual . . . and enjoy it as much . . . if you smoke menthol-cooled Spuds. They're actually 16% cooler. What a difference that makes! Try a pack and see.

JOHN M. SISK, 86, HAYMARKET VET, DIES; ONLY 3 LEFT

The death yesterday of John M. Sisk, 86 years old, 3516 South Damen avenue, who retired from the police department thirty years ago, leaves only three veterans of the Haymarket riot of May 4, 1886. Their number has thinned steadily from the original 176 officers and men whose ranks were bombed by anarchists, killing nine men.

On the night of the riot he was on signal service in the first patrol wagon that responded to the riot alarm. After his retirement he worked, until 12 years ago, as a private guard in the Daily News building. He leaves a widow and a son, John Jr.

The three surviving Haymarket veterans are Capt. Frank B. Tyrrell, Andy O'Day, and George Raycroft. Usually the veterans association meets every year on May 4—or the nearest Sunday to that date—in the Desplaines street station, where they were stationed the night of the riot 49 years ago.

"I don't know if we will have the regular meeting this year," said Capt. Tyrrell. "O'Day fell and broke his hip, and is still laid up, and Raycroft is 89 years old."

E. F. PRICE DIES; UNION CARBIDE'S FORMER CHIEF

Port Chester, N. Y., April 15.—(AP)—Edgar F. Price, retired president of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, died at his home here today after a year's illness. He was 63.

An outstanding chemical engineer in this country, Mr. Price during the world war set up a complete village in Sweden, using all material and apparatus imported from the United States, at a cost of a million dollars for freightage. He retired as president of the Union Carbide several years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida Owen Price; two sons, Edgar Kenan Price of Niagara Falls and James Owen Price of this village, and a daughter, Mary Lyle Price, also of this village.

Services will be tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Arthmus Frenier, Life Resident of Aurora, Is Dead

Mrs. Arthmus Frenier, 84 years old, 381 Spruce Street, Aurora, lifelong resident of that city, died at home yesterday after a brief illness. Mrs. Frenier was born in Aurora, the daughter of the late Octave Landry, who many years ago was a captain on a Fox river steamer. Four daughters survive. They are Adelaine and Hortense Frenier of Aurora, Mrs. Russell Tirkins of Leland, and Mrs. Hugh Sanders of Boise, Ida. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Holy Angels church in Aurora.

Funeral Services Today for Dr. James J. Monahan

Funeral services for Dr. James J. Monahan, well known Chicago surgeon, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapel at 929 Belmont avenue. Dr. Monahan died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday as he was preparing to operate on a patient in St. Elizabeth's hospital. The active pallbearers will be Charles J. Monahan, Charles Lee Bryson, Judge Eugene J. Holland, and Drs. Frederick Tice, H. W. Gentles, and Ira C. Harmon.

B. T. Alexander, 84, Dies; Stockman in Bloomington

Bloomington, Ill., April 15. — [Special.]—B. T. Alexander, 84, prominent stockman and farmer, credited with laying out Bloomington's first rural mail route, died here today of pneumonia. Mr. Alexander's parents, William C. and Eliza Jane Ayres Alexander, were pioneer settlers in central Illinois.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Domestic corporate bonds received good support in moderate trading today on the New York exchange in response to the reduced money rates. High grade liens were the most active, but those selling around 50 or above made the best gains.

Railroads in early trading were firm to slightly higher, but later eased from their best for the day when the Supreme court's pension law decision did not materialize. Public utilities and industrials showed a considerable number of gains, reflecting the belief that the reduction of the call money rate to a record low of one-half to one per cent and a further paring of time money rates would send more money into business.

Power Groups Strong.

Quiet accumulations of leading power and light bonds gave this group strong appearance, with advances of a point or so in such issues as Abitibi Paper and Power 5s, Laclede Gas 5½s, Montana Power 5s, and North American 5½s. International Paper 5s continued a favorite, advancing 3½ points to 70.

The treasury's announcement that the remaining $1,250,000 Fourth Liberty 4¼s would be redeemed on Oct. 15, as expected, had little effect on the federal list. The trend was irregularly lower, with most of the activity centered on three treasury issues.

Foreign List Improves.

The foreign section was generally improved, although trading was dull. Italian government liens were the leaders, with gains of more than two points. Gains of 1 to 2 points were made by obligations of the governments of Austria and Belgium, and private obligations were almost as much higher. German government loans sagged a trifle, but South and Central American bonds were steady and Japanese government loans improved slightly.

Transfers totaled $7,095,000 par value, compared with $11,997,000 last Friday.

City Hall Square Building.

Investors' Guide: I would be very happy to know about my investment in City Hall Square building bonds. I have not heard a word from any one for about three years.—R. W.

Answer: The $1,617,500 City Hall Square building [127 North Clark, Chicago] bonds are secured by a first mortgage on the leasehold estate. The bonds are not secured by the land on which the building is constructed but by the building, subject to the terms of the lease, and the lease.

The borrower defaulted under the terms of the lease and, for a time, forfeiture of the lease was threatened. The result of such action would be to wipe out the security for bondholders. An agreement was effected with the owners of the land, however, and terms of the lease were modified.

All of 1932 and 1933 taxes are unpaid, and portions of 1929, 1930 and 1931 taxes are still unpaid. Total billed but unpaid taxes amount to $110,313. In addition 1934 taxes and a portion of 1935 taxes have accrued.

Gross receipts from the property during 1934 dropped to $144,751 compared with $159,225 for 1933 and $177,536 for 1932. Net operating income for 1934 was $73,066, against $87,090 for 1933 and $88,289 for 1932. Other expenses in 1934, including $68,646 turned over for taxes and ground rent, were $70,864. Other expenses in 1933, including $73,000 on back taxes, $31,377 set aside for taxes and ground rent and $9,750 fees, were $122,966. In 1932 other expenses totaled $75,701 and included the regular $40,000 a year ground rental and $33,931 on taxes.

Occupancy in 1934 was 72 per cent, against 62 per cent in 1933.

The owners of the land have agreed not to forfeit the lease prior to May 31, 1938. If on that date unpaid ground rent and taxes do not exceed $100,000 they will agree not to forfeit the lease before 1940, at which time all defaults must be remedied. In the meantime all available revenues are being applied to taxes and ground rent.

It is apparent that the position of the bonds is quite weak.

Fifteen Cents on the Dollar.

Investors' Guide: I would like to know what settlement was made for nondepositing bondholders of Belmont hotel issue 6½ per cent real estate bonds underwritten by S. W. Straus. Thank you.—Mrs. G. I.

Answer: Nondepositing holders of Belmont hotel first mortgage bonds received $156.42 for each $1,000 bond as their pro rata share of the foreclosure sale price of the property.

PROBE DROPPING OF WEST SIDE'S HOUSING SCHEME

Chicago Group Asks Why of Federal Action.

BY AL CHASE.

John R. Fugard, chairman of the Metropolitan Housing council, yesterday appointed a committee to investigate the abandonment of the federal housing project on the west side. Mr. Fugard, who a few months ago was named by Public Works Administrator Ickes as a member of the staf of Horatio B. Hackett, head of the PWA housing division, as a "housing consultant," named J. L. Jacobs, former Cook county tax assessor, as chairman of his committee to investigate the activities of Ickes' department.

The other members of the group to check on federal activities or lack of activities are Hugh McLennan, real estate man; Mrs. Mitchell Dawson, an officer of the Cook County League of Women Voters; Patrick Sullivan, head of the Chicago Building Trades Council, and Father Belanger, a parish priest of Notre Dame parish.

Will Push Other Projects.

"The Metropolitan Housing council is intensely interested in the announcement of Secretary Ickes that the government is being forced to abandon work in the west side district owing to organized opposition," said Mr. Fugard. "We are determined that regardless of what happens on the west side the other two sites on the north and south sides shall not also be abandoned for these reasons."

The Metropolitan Housing council, composed of representatives of a number of civic, social and business groups, is "a corporation not for profit, to coordinate housing activities of existing organizations." As it has been active in sponsoring federal housing for Chicago, the present situation means that an Ickes appointee has named a committee to investigate what the Ickes housing group has done or not done to cause the abandonment of the west side project.

Others Appointed by Ickes.

In addition to naming Fugard as housing consultant, Ickes some time ago appointed Arthur Bohnen, active in the Metropolitan Housing council, and Miss Elizabeth Wood, its executive director, as members of the liaison committee for the construction work on all federal housing projects in Chicago.

The proposed $12,500,000 west side housing development, which was to have covered thirty-seven city blocks, was partially abandoned last week by orders from Ickes, who charged property owners had boosted prices too high to permit low rental apartments. All architectural work was stopped. Ickes said the project might be carried out on a much reduced scale if land could be secured at a reasonable price.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—Raw sugar was firm today. Refiners continued to show interest at last paid prices of 3.15c per lb for spots, but there was nothing available below 3.20, or 3.25. Futures were steady. The market reached the best levels in the late trading on some positions. The close was 1 to 3 points net higher in the No. 3 contract and 2 to 3 higher in the No. 1. Sales were 30,450 tons in the former and 6,950 tons in the latter.

In refined prices were unchanged at 4.90c per lb for fine granulated with a good withdrawal demand reported.

BOND NOTES

An offering of $9,000,000 first mortgage bonds of the Boston and Albany railroad, carrying 4½ per cent coupons and due April 1, 1943, will be made publicly today by a New England banking syndicate. The bonds will be priced, it was learned, at approximately 97½, to yield 5 per cent.

The proceeds of this issue, approved by the stockholders April 14, will be used to redeem $2,000,000 of 4 per cent debentures due on May 1, and to retire $7,000,000 of 6 per cent bonds due in 1943, but callable at par. The latter issue is owned by the New York Central, and the bonds have been pledged by that road with the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The financing will save the Boston and Albany about $100,000 a year in interest on the refunded issue.

Two issues of refunding bonds totaling $48,400,000 were publicly offered in Canada yesterday by the Canadian National railways. An issue of $13,400,000 in 3 year 2 per cent bonds was offered at 98.28, to yield 2.25 per cent, and the balance—$35,500,000 of 9 year 3 per cent bonds—was offered at 98½, to yield 3.2 per cent. The offering was entirely domestic, as the bonds have not been qualified in this country under the securities act. Repayment will be in Canadian funds only.

C. N. Manning, president of the Kentucky Joint Stock Land bank of Lexington, Ky., announced yesterday a call for redemption May 1, 1935, of certain of its 5 per cent bonds, due May 1, 1945; May 1, 1952; Nov. 1, 1952; May 1, 1953, and Nov. 1, 1953. The retirement is pursuant of the emergency farm mortgage act of 1933, which provides for the liquidation of the joint stock land bank system.

The executive committee of the Colombian bondhonders' committee is notifying holders of the 20 year 6½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due April 1, 1947, of Bogota, Colombia, power and light consolidation loan of 1927, that the Central Hanover Bank and Trust company is making a partial payment on April 1, 1932, interest. The payment amounts to $10.50 on each interest coupon with face value of $32.50.

Offering of a new issue of $1,500,000 state of Texas 2½ and 2¼ per cent relief bonds, due April 1, 1936 to 1934, will be placed on the market today at prices to yield .75 to 2.15 per cent.

Award of a new issue of $1,390,000 city of Seattle water revenue refunding bonds, dated May 1, 1935, and due from 1936 to 1934, has been made to a banking group. The price paid was 99.63 for the bonds as 2s.

DEPOSITS FLOW BACK TO CHICAGO AFTER TAX DATE

Otherwise Member Banks Show Little Change.

Except for a sharp upturn in Chicago bank deposits as money which fled the state over the April 1 personalty tax date started to return, federal reserve member banks reported only moderate changes in condition for last week.

Outstanding commercial credit contracted during the period, although investments showed a moderate expansion, due largely to purchases of government bonds.

Investments Show Increase.

Total loans and investments increased 26 millions, security loans sagged 5 millions, and holdings of government obligations moved 57 millions higher. Brokers' loans expanded 7 millions but this was more than offset by a decline of 12 millions in other types of collateralized advances. Business and real estate loans were unchanged, while commercial acceptances dropped 11 millions.

Excluding New York and Chicago, banks in the 89 cities reported gains of 9 millions in total loans and investments, 15 millions in security loans, 10 millions in brokers' loans, a million in acceptances on commercial paper, 18 millions in fully guaranteed government obligations and 6 millions in other than federal securities.

Loans on Securities Decline.

Declines of 4 millions in security loans, excluding advances to brokers; six millions in business loans and 16 millions in direct federal obligations were also shown.

"77B" Does Not Worry Our Policyholders

As one policyholder puts it: "It is satisfying, in these times when the threat of '77B' hangs over the business of the country, to have your insurance on our Accounts Receivable."

Credit Insurance is the only sure method of safeguarding the creditors' interest under "77B." We are bound, by the terms of our policies, to protect you absolutely on your coverage.

American Credit Indemnity Co.

settles promptly, courteously, satisfactorily. A recent large payment brought this comment from a policyholder (name on request):

"We wish to commend those members of your staff whom we contacted, for the very prompt, courteous, and efficient manner in which they disposed of our claim."

Another policyholder (name on request) writes: "We are pleased at this settlement which was made to our entire satisfaction, and we wish to thank you for your promptness in disposing of it."

Many new American policies are now available — more simply written — broader protection — more liberal Collection Service than ever in our history—and the efficiency is even greater.

AM. TELEPHONE EARNINGS DIP IN 1ST QUARTER

Profit Is Reduced by Rise in Costs.

Net earnings of American Telephone and Telegraph company for the three months ended March 31 were $30,097,288, or $1.61 a share, Walter S. Gifford, president, reported yesterday. This represented a decline of 9 per cent from profits of $32,992,340, or $1.77 a share in the first three months of 1934. As a result, the payment of $41,990,118, or $2.25 a share, in dividends, necessitated a charge of $11,892,830 against surplus, compared with $8,997,778 a year ago.

The decline in earnings occasioned little or no surprise in La Salle street, and was generally regarded as temporary. Sharp gains in telephone installations have added to operating expenses. However, Gifford stated that increased operating expenses were due mainly to increased wages and partly to increased business.

Operating Revenues Lower.

A. T. & T. operating revenues the first three months were $22,964,857, compared with $23,453,467 in the same period of last year, while expenses and taxes rose to $19,169,254, compared with $18,913,483. Dividend revenues were $28,253,953, against $30,307,726. Net was $35,983,511 before interest deductions of $5,886,223, compared with $39,006,178 before deduction of $6,013,838 the first quarter of last year.

Consolidated net earnings of the Bell system, including A. T. & T. and 24 associated companies, were $20,845,508 for the first two months of 1935, almost identical with the $20,854,767 in the same period last year. Of these amounts, $2,228,781 and $2,301,825, respectively, were applicable to stocks of associated companies. Remaining was $18,616,727, or $1 a share, applicable to A. T. & T. stock, compared with $18,552,942, or 99 cents a share the first two months of 1934.

Figures for System.

Operating revenues of the system increased to $149,912,811 from $147,078,983 in the same period last year, but this was far more than offset by a jump in operating expenses from $101,497,292 to $105,319,939, and in taxes from $15,190,076 to $16,017,742. This resulted in a drop of operating earnings from $30,391,615 to $28,575,130. Other earnings, however, of Western Electric and controled companies not consolidated amounted to $1,050,000, compared with a deficit of $750,000 in the first two months last year.

Mr. Gifford reported a net gain of 112,000 telephones in the Bell system in the first three months this year, compared with 109,000 in the same period of 1934. The toll and long distance calls remained about stationary.

FEAR FOR CHINA'S SILVER STANDARD GROWS GREATER

New York, April 15.—[Special.]—While the world price of silver suffered another setback at London and Montreal today, the bogy of involuntary devaluation for China's currency assumed serious proportions as dollar quotations at both Shanghai and Hongkong soared. Gold bloc currencies eased against the dollar and pound sterling improved.

Bar silver prices in London declined 1-16 penny to 31¼ pence a fine ounce, equivalent to 68½ cents, and the price in New York dropped ⅛ cent to the same level.

Chinese bankers went into a huddle and came out with an agreement not to take any steps to jeopardize the silver standard, menaced by increased official prices for the metal in the United States.

Shanghai dollars gained a full cent over Saturday to close at 40 cents, and Hongkong dollars rose 30 points to 53¼ cents. Japanese yen gained 2 points at 28.55 cents.

French francs lost ¼ cent in trading here, with the close at 6.60⅛ cents, making the dollar worth $1.0049 against francs, compared with $1.0045 on Saturday. Based on the old parity of the franc, the dollar was worth 59.35 cents, against 59.33.

The price of bar gold in London declined 3½ pence to 143 shillings 11 pence a fince ounce equal to $34.89.

The engagement of an additional $1,000,000 in gold for shipment to New York brings the total of European engagements since the present movement was begun on April 5 to $124,000,000.

Treasury Bills Are Sold at Average 0.176% Rate

The average price bid for $50,000,000 of 273 day treasury bills, on which tenders were opened yesterday, was 99.866 and the average rate about 0.176 per cent on a bank discount basis, Sec. Morgenthau announced last night. Accepted bids ranged from 99,884, or a rate of 0.153 per cent, to 99.86 or 0.185 per cent. The total amount applied for was $124,413,000, of which $50,020,000 was accepted.

Refund Bonds to Cut Rates, Not to Expand

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau on the occasion of his calling for redemption the remaining outstanding Liberty bonds directs attention to the fact that corporate refunding last month totaled 112 million dollars, or nine times the amount of corporate refunding in March, 1934.

Thus, he says, not only the government, but private corporations as well, as a result of the treasury's program of squeezing down money rates, have been able to reduce the amount of their interest charges.

"The financial log jam has been broken," he is quoted as saying. "There is no longer any reason why capital should not flow normally into the arteries of business."

A study of the various refunding bond issues that corporations have been announcing during the last few weeks, however, tells a different story.

All the corporations that have floated new bond issues recently have done so for the purpose of retiring outstanding bond issues that bear a higher interest rate. These refunding operations have had nothing to do with the flow of new capital into business, but have merely represented steps by the corporations to reduce their fixed charges. These concerns haven't been asking for new money to expand their operations, build more plant facilities, buy additional raw materials, and hire more men. They have merely been borrowing at 3½ to 4½ per cent interest to pay off bonds which require interest payments of 4½ to 5½ per cent or more.

Encouraging is the fact that some corporation officials regard the provisions of the securities act of 1933 as now being sufficiently lenient to warant taking the personal risk involved in registering new bonds with the securities and exchange commission and offering them to the public. The SEC recently modified some of the more stringent requirements for offering bonds.

The increase in the volume of refunding bond issues, however, is nowhere in financial circles regarded as a sign that the "financial log jam has been broken." Only the revival of corporate borrowing to finance new enterprises, plant enlargements, or business expansion would be accepted as such a sign.

Every one in the investment business is watching and hoping for that sign, but it hasn't yet appeared. President Ralph Crane of the Investment Bankers' association in a recent address before the Bond Men's club of Chicago went so far as to observe that in the past the expansion of the volume of refunding issues usually broadened out later into a revival of new financing, but even he—the head of an association to which new bond issues mean bread, butter, and possibly cake—wouldn't go so far as to predict early revival of normal borrowing by corporations.

The increase in refunding bond offerings during the last few weeks has been due partly to the Supreme court decision in the "gold clause" case, which made it possible for corporations to call in their outstanding "gold clause" bonds. More particularly, however, it has been the natural consequence of the treasury's program of forcing money rates down to artificially low levels.

Strange as it may seem, each borrowing by the treasury from the banks makes it easier for the treasury to morrow more from the banks. The very expansion of the federal debt creates a corresponding expansion of bank deposits which, in turn, pile up in the banks additional idle funds crying for investment.

If, as stated by Secretary Morgenthau, the financial log jam were broken and funds were about to begin flowing normally into business, this very flow would divert to business the bank money now going into government bonds and would tend to raise interest rates.

Interest rates on government bonds have been going down because the banks cannot get business men to borrow and, desperate for a means of getting some income on their funds, scramble to compete with each other in bidding for more government bonds. And, as the interest rates on government bonds go down, investors, also desperate, are willing to buy the corporate refunding bonds because, even though they pay less interest than corporate bonds formerly outstanding, they still pay more than the 2½ to 2¾ per cent that can be had on government bonds.

It's a striving by investors for income in the face of declining interest rates that has caused the big demand for corporate refunding issues.

In reply to Secretary Morgenthau's statement that "there is no longer any reason why capital should not flow normally into the arteries of business" the business man, the revival of whose borrowing alone could cause such a flow, calls attention to the certainty of ultimately increased taxes, the Wagner bill, the Rayburn-Wheeler bill, legislation to increase the overhead of railroads already far in the red, and other measures calculated to take the profit out of business and discourage expenditures for anything but the barest necessities.

Texile Mills Vote to Fight Process Tax

Boston, Mass., April 15.—[Special.]—Textile manufacturers of New England plan to fight the government through the courts for relief of the industry, it was decided today. Indicative of feeling among mill owners was one Fall River producer's threat to refuse payment of the cotton processing tax even if it meant going to jail.

At a meeting of the Northern Cotton Mills Policy association four resolutions were adopted. One, indicating open defiance of President Roosevelt's policy in refusing to take any immediate steps for relief of New England's stricken mills, provides for appointment of a committee "to determine immediately what legal action shall be taken including injunction," to relieve the textile industry of the "oppressive cotton processing tax."

One Assails Secretary Wallace.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace was accused in another resolution of "inciting the farmers of the south and southwest to combine against an industry." His action was described as "un-American, unwarranted, and unfit action for a cabinet member."

Equalization of wages for northern and southern mills was urged in a third resolution which empowered Dexter Stevens, vice president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, who presided over the special policy committee meeting, to appoint a committee of five cotton manufacturers to determine what steps should be taken to bring this about.

While the first open defiance of governmental methods was expressed today, the textile men were not agreed that they should immediately refuse to pay the tax. Nothing was made public about this phase of the matter.

Suggests Refusing to Pay.

Nevertheless, James Sinclair, president of the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers association and treasurer of the Charlton mills, told newspaper men that he would propose to his association and to the other manufacturers' groups at first opportunity that there be a nation-wide refusal to pay the cotton processing tax if the administration, as it has indicated at Washington conferences and by word of Secretary Wallace in a southern address, "continues to deny consideration to the industry."

"I'm in a Boston tea party mood," Sinclair declared. "I am willing to go to jail for refusal to pay this tax myself. I can enjoy a rest in jail as well as anybody else." Sinclair emphasized his views were personal and that the Fall River association had not yet subscribed to them.

N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE CUTS CALL MONEY TO ½ OF 1%, LOW RECORD

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange today cut its official call money rate to ½ of 1 per cent, a new record low. These funds have held at 1 per cent since Dec. 8, 1933. The previous record low was ¾ of 1 per cent.

The reduction followed a cut in the "outside" call rate to ½ of 1 per cent by leading New York banks. At the same time money brokers today cut the time money rate to ½ of 1 per cent for funds maturing up to six months. The previous rate for 60-180 day money was ¾ of 1 per cent.

"Outside" or unofficial rates have been as low as ½ of 1 per cent occasionally in the past.

In contrast the rate on call money reached 30 per cent in November, 1919, and 20 per cent in March, 1929. However, a rate of 125 per cent was quoted in October during the panic of 1907.

The decline in the official and "outside" rates for call money was seen in banking circles as a response to an increase of between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 in excess reserves which accompanied the redemption of liberty bonds by the treasury.

The lowering of the rate on call funds is not expected to stimulate any marked increase in borrowings for the purchase of securities on margin, bankers said. It is estimated in banking quarters that brokers already have ample accomodations to take care of the current rate of stock activity.

INSURANCE CODE CLASH EXPECTED IN LEGISLATURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—Further consideration of the proposed new Illinois insurance code is scheduled in the legislature this week.

Tomorrow, when it has finished routine work, probably late in the afternoon, the house will listen to what is expected to be an acrimonious debate between Director of Insurance Ernest Palmer and J. H. Doyle of New York, general counsel for the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

These men have had several clashes both in print and on the house rostrum. Doyle is fighting the code in behalf of most of the fire insurance companies of the country. He is expected to present a series of amendments tomorrow which Palmer will have an opportunity to criticize.

On Wednesday the code will be discussed in the senate in the afternoon and in the house again at night. Attempts may be made to advance it on the calendars of both chambers when the discussion is ended.

Pump Priming Policy Wrong, Ayres Asserts

Governmental attempts to prime the business pump by pouring out billions of dollars so far have failed to produce recovery because the funds have been used to buy consumer goods and eventually find their way into bank accounts where they swell the total of idle money, Col. Leonard P. Ayres, economist of the Cleveland Trust company, said yesterday.

As long as the money "passes through the business mechanism and comes to rest in bank accounts, business men will not do much borrowing from banks, and there will be little credit expansion," said Ayres. "If the expenditure of public funds is to produce recovery, those funds must be used on a large scale by business men to purchase business goods, largely durable goods, as well as by individuals to buy consumer goods. That takes place when business men have confidence in the future and believe they see good prospects for profits through expansion and modernization."

Check Volume Gains Little.

Demand deposits of member banks in the federal reserve system have increased rapidly since early 1934, until they amount to 17 per cent more than the 1929 boom day average, Col. Ayres pointed out, but the volume of checks, which shows the activity or velocity of business, is little above the bottom touched in the depression and is rising only slowly.

The most significant business development in the first three months of 1935 has been the sharp increase in financing through new bond issues, Col. Ayres asserted, but called particular attention to the fact that almost all are for refunding debts at lower interest.

Business Not Tempted.

"Even the lowest interest rates ever recorded have not so far tempted many business men to sell bonds for the purpose of launching new enterprises or expanding old ones, or even to improve the equipment of existing ones," the analyst said.

"Always before courageous business men have taken advantage of the opportunities to finance improvements or innovations, in the confidence that they could earn profits. But in the main business continues to deal fairly efficiently with the routine opportunities that present themselves, and for the rest await with philosophical calm the further unfolding of our managed recovery.

"The present refinancing is not credit expansion, nor does it imply any awakening of business enterprises."

STOCK TRADING INCREASES AND PRICES MOVE UP

Oils and Chemicals Lead Late Rise.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 15.—Except for the rails, which reflected disappointed selling when the Supreme court recessed without handling down a decision in the pension act, the stock market gave a good account of itself today, with a turnover that exceeded a million shares for the second time this month. The market ran into profit-taking shortly after the noon hour that brought irregularity and curtailed activity, but at the close the tone was strong.

The speculative fraternity came to the financial district with a good holdover of the optimism engendered by the inflationary inferences of the administration's silver program. It regards time as working on the side of inflation, especially, it is pointed out, as nearly all commodities have traveled a long way on the higher price road since the bottom was reached.

Business News Favorable.

Business news accumulating over the week-end was generally satisfactory to traders, especially reports from automobile centers and the steel industry, estimates of operations in the latter showing a gain. Although it did not have much direct response, a helpful factor was the drop in call money to ½ of 1 per cent.

Considerable activity devoleped at the opening as a result of the piling up of buying orders over the week-end. The carrier section of the list led the morning rise with gains up to a point, but were quickly replaced by losses when the high court failed to rule on the pension case. The rest of the market dipped in sympathy with the rails but looked up again toward the close of the session under the leadership of the oils, chemicals, and a few miscellaneous issues.

Mine Group Reacts.

Another group to suffer was the mining section. U. S. Smelting lost more than 2 points, while smaller declines ruled in American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Dome Mines and McIntyre. Profit taking induced by the recent advance in these shares was advanced as the cause.

Oil shares came in for a lot of attention on reports of a better outlook for the industry. Ohio Oil was active as it advanced into new high ground for the year. The Standards improved fractionally. Sun Oil gained a point.

Settlement of the labor difficulty in the tire industry helped the rubber shares. The preference shares of Goodyear and Goodrich gained more than two points.

Steel shares sold down with the rails after being strong in the forenoon, but came back strong to better their previous closing. There was little of interest in the foods, liquor, and aviation sections. Ligget and Myers B rose more than a point in the tobaccos. The chemicals were strong.

ESTIMATE STEEL OUTPUT UP TO 44% THIS WEEK

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Operating activity in the steel industry shows a slight gain, according to the weekly estimate of the American Iron & Steel institute, issued today.

The institute places the operating rate at 44 per cent of capacity, against 43.8 per cent in the previous week. A month ago mills were producing at an average rate of 46.8 per cent, while a year ago the schedule was 50.3 per cent.

Split Bank Bill Plan Opposed by Roosevelt

Washington, D. C., April 16.—[Special.]—Prospects for passage of the administration banking bill appeared brighter today as President Roosevelt sent word to the senate banking committee that he favored having the bill considered as drafted by federal reserve officials, and not in two sections. Senator Glass, chairman of the subcommittee which will study the bill first, favors splitting the measure.

The President's views were reported by Chairman Fletcher of the full committee, after talking to Roosevelt at the White House. He expressed the view that it would be reported favorably by the full committee and adopted by the senate.

Glass Expects Split Bill.

Glass, however, felt sure the subcommittee would vote to separate the draft bill into two measures, one dealing with the relatively uncontroversial titles I, and III., covering federal deposit insurance and clarification of the Glass-Steagall act. Glass would have congress consider separately title II., treating reorganization of the makeup and powers of the federal reserve board, but Fletcher said that "if we do that, we will get no banking legislation at all."

The subcommittee is expected to start hearings within a few days and Glass indicated that many persons had asked for a chance to testify.

Through the power to control the discount rate, reserve requirements of member banks, and open market operations, said Fletcher, the federal reserve board would be in official and open charge of the monetary policy of the country. Title II. of the bill would confer these powers on the board and would alter methods of selection of officials tending to place more effective control in the hands of the government.

Clips Banks' Power.

"We don't leave monetary policy to the bankers any more," Fletcher said. "Look what they did in 1929. With $8,000,000,000 of brokers' loans, on which they were getting 20 per cent, they obviously did not want to stop the speculation."

Representative Steagall, chairman of the house banking committee, predicted that his committee would report the bill as a unit. This action is expected by Thursday, but the bill will not be taken to the floor for some time. Should the security bill, now occupying the attention of the house, be completed this week, Speaker Byrns said today that the navy department appropriation bill would probably be the next legislation tackled.

INSULL INVESTOR SUES BANKS HERE ON COLLATERAL

Separate suits against the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the First National bank were filed in federal court yesterday, seeking recovery of more than $4,000,000 in collateral held for loans to Corporation Securities company. Sam Howard, trustee in bankruptcy for the former Insull concern, is made a nominal defendant in each suit.

The actions were filed by Albert W. Froehde, Chicago attorney, on behalf of Dr. William W. Gregory of Stevens Point, Wis., holder of $8,000 of the company's notes. They also asked injunctions restraining the banks from selling any of the collateral, pending court settlement of its lawful owner.

The Continental is charged with wrongfully holding collateral valued at $2,197,907 against a loan of $5,624,823, when receivership action was filed against Corporation Securities on April 16, 1932. The First National is named as holder of $2,024,821 against a loan of $4,880,093.

The loans were made and collateral taken in violation of provisions and pledges made by Corporation Securities at the time it sold $40,000,000 in gold notes to the public. The banks are charged with knowledge of these pledges, being allegedly connected with the sale of the notes.

ECCLES ADMITS PUTTING BANKS IN KIN'S HANDS

Same Act Charged Against Mellon.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Marriner S. Eccles, the New Deal's governor of the federal reserve board, today admitted to a senate subcommittee that he is guilty of the same financial practices of which the New Dealers are now trying to convict Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury.

Eccles disclosed that to "divest" himself of bank stock and to qualify for reserve board governor he had merely turned over his stock in a 50 million dollar chain of banks to a holding company which is controled by his family. The New Dealers are now attacking Mr. Mellon because he simply turned his bank stock over to his brother when he went into the treasury.

May Sacrifice Present Post.

Members of the subcommittee of the senate banking committee before whom Eccles testified today said privately they believed his handling of his bank stock would bar him from the governorship of the reserve board. His confirmation as governor is now before the subcommittee preparatory to being submitted to the senate for approval or rejection.

If the senate concurs in the view of the subcommittee members, headed by Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.], and refuses to confirm Eccles because of his bank stock holdings, the New Deal will receive a severe blow. Eccles personifies the "managed currency" and "government control" policies which the New Deal is seeking to impose on the banking system.

Eccles, who built up a 50 million dollar chain of 25 banks in Utah and Idaho under a holding company known as the First Security corporation, told the senate subcommittee that he had turned his bank stock over to the Eccles Investment corporation. This latter corporation is a superholding company, formed by Eccles to manage his family's fortune, and is controled entirely by his family.

Retains Nominal Position.

The reserve board governor admitted further that he has retained a "nominal" position in the Eccles Investment corporation, even after turning over his bank stock to it. He offered, however, to resign from this post if the subcommittee objected to his keeping it.

Eccles was thus revealed as having merely sold his bank stock to a family controled corporation and to have retained a voice in that corporation. This led members of the subcommittee to insist privately that he cannot be confirmed in the post to which he was appointed last November by President Roosevelt.

The handling of Eccles' bank stock parallels closely Mellon's handling of his bank stock. Mr. Mellon, when he became secretary of the treasury in March, 1921, sold stock in 24 banks to his brother, R. B. Mellon, under a contract specifying that his brother owed him $10,520,495 at 5 1-3 per cent interest.

At Issue in Tax Suit.

In the current New Deal tax case against Mellon, Robert Jackson, general counsel of the bureau of internal revenue, has argued that this was not a real sale and that Andrew Mellon continued to be the actual owner of bank stocks while he was secretary of the treasury.

Eccles' testimony today puts the New Deal in the embarrassing position of having a New Deal federal reserve board governor who is guilty of the same practices which the New Deal is seeking to show were improper in the case of Mr. Mellon.

Earnings Insurance

Have you insured your most important asset? Weigh these facts:

1. Earnings bought what you have, pay your current expenses, including life insurance premiums, and give substance to your plans for the future.
2. Property lost or destroyed may be replaced. Only earning power, impaired permanently or for a long period, is an irreplaceable loss.
3. Earning power, indispensable to your welfare, has only one dependable substitute—Accident and Health insurance—protection of vital importance to every man and woman.

Buy earnings insurance during National Accident and Health Week . . . set aside in the interests of your physical and financial welfare. Call your agent or broker today and ask him to insure you in the Continental.

GRAINS FINISH SLIGHTLY LOWER IN BROAD TRADE

Erratic Fluctuations in Prices Mark Day.

Grains closed slightly lower on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday after fluctuating erratically most of the session. Wheat, oats, and rye sustained fractional losses, while May corn moved an eighth cent higher, but other deliveries declined more than a cent. Trade continued on a broad scale, although the market was extremely nervous and changes were abrupt and wide at times.

Early dealings carried wheat nearly 2 cents under Saturday's finish, but this failed to hold for long in view of bullish weather news and the market rallied rapidly. Tops of $1.01¼, $1.00⅞ and $1.01⅛ were established by May, July, and September wheat before a later reaction erased some of the improvement.

More Duststorms; No Rain.

Crop comments from the southwest assumed a grave tone as duststorms and an absence of rain continued. No moisture was received over the weekend in either Kansas or Oklahoma, where duststorms and high winds have been the heaviest.

Buying was given an excellent background by a report from Salina, Kas., by R. O. Cromwell, crop statistican of Lamson Bros., which said that 90 per cent of the wheat acreage seeded west of the 100th meridian would be taken out of production this year because of wind and dust. This would mean 11,000,000 of the 12,000,000 acres seeded to wheat last fall have been wiped out.

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$ .99⅞	$1.00¼	$ .92⅞
Corn	.82¼	.83⅜	.80⅝
Oats	.43⅛	.43½	.40½
Rye	.62	.62¼	.57⅝

Foreign Markets Lower.

Wheat in Liverpool closed ⅞ to 1⅛ pence lower, equal to a drop of 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents. Winnipeg futures eased ½ to ⅝ cent, Buenos Aires declined more than a cent, and Rotterdam was ¼ to ¾ cent lower.

Visible supplies of wheat were again reduced sharply, total domestic stocks declining 2,280,000 bushels for last week to 44,069,000. Last year at this time the total stood at 87,690,000 bushels.

Wheat proved the dominating influence in the corn pit, where fluctuations more or less mirrored the market leader. Argentine corn was reported being offered at relatively low prices at both Atlantic and gulf ports. Some strength was derived by a slash in visible supplies which dropped 2,092,000 bushels to 16,109,000, less than half the lowest total in 1934.

The bureau of agricultural economics reported that if animal feeding continues at the same rate as last year there is sufficient corn, oats, and barley to last until the end of the crop year. However, market stocks were included in the total supply calculated.

DICTATORSHIP IS AIM OF UTILITY BILL—MOULTON

Economist Flails Federal Control of Industry.

Denunciation of the Rayburn-Wheeler utility bill which, he charged, is aimed at dictatorship of the utility industry, and criticism of "the unparalleled flood of administration propaganda which has prepared the way for it," were voiced yesterday by Dr. F. R. Moulton, economist and former member of the University of Chicago faculty.

"If this bill becomes law," he told the public affairs round table of the Union League club, "the federal power and the securities and exchange commissions can completely control and dominate every electric utility in the United States."

Charges Schools Are Corrupted.

Dr. Moulton read excerpts from federal power commission press releases which he described as insidious propaganda, and told of pamphlets and books used to influence school teachers and pupils. "Even our schools are being corrupted," he said.

"The current that is carrying us toward federal control of business is becoming increasingly broad," he continued. "The spirit of dictatorship is abroad in the world and we all know from history that power once seized, even in the name of emergency, is never voluntarily relinquished. The administration is not impressed with written protests of hundreds of thousands of investors who are being despoiled by their government, although losses these investors already have suffered under attacks of the federal government would pay the light bills of 20,000,000 domestic customers in this country for five years. The steam roller rolls on."

Constitutionality "no Protection."

He said the question of constitutionality of the Rayburn-Wheeler bill is not important, as it can be kept from the Supreme court for two years and then if dangerously attacked congress can keep it in force another two years by amending it.

"By that time the electric and gas utilities would be so deeply enmeshed in the federal net that the act would have to be declared constitutional under the general welfare clause of the preamble of the constitution," he said.

Moulton declared it is idle to say the bill is designed only to correct abuses and alleged abuses of holding companies.

"If words mean anything," he charged, "its purpose is to place electric and gas utilities under government control and as largely as possible under government operation."

BALABAN & KATZ PROFIT FOR YEAR RISES TO $425,447

Balaban & Katz corporation yesterday reported consolidated net profit of $425,447 for the fiscal year ended Dec. 29, an unusually sharp rise from the $95,191 reported for the year ended Dec. 30, 1933. The major part of the difference was accounted for by items other than theater operating profits.

Operating net was $297,866, compared with $288,559 in 1933. However, net increment in investments in subsidiary and affiliated companies, less provision for accrued preferred dividends, brought in another $127,580. By contrast, the 1933 report showed deductions amounting to $193,368 for preferred dividend accruals and provision for impairment of subsidiary investments.

Current assets last Dec. 29 included $763,082 cash in the total of $815,779, compared with $592,473 and $1,007,598 on Dec. 30, 1933. Current liabilities stood at $1,310,164, compared with $1,311,647 a year previously and included provision of $137,161 for preferred dividend payments, an item not included among current liabilities at the close of 1933.

MOFFETT TO QUIT AS FHA CHIEF IN ABOUT 2 WEEKS

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Following a conference with President Roosevelt, James A. Moffett announced today that the President had accepted his resignation as federal housing administrator, but that he would remain at his post for about two weeks.

His successor has not yet been selected, Moffett said. He will confer again with the President before recommending "a business man" to take his place as director of the privately financed home building and renovation campaign being carried on with the aid of the government, he said.

UTILITY CONTROL BILL GOES TO SENATE HEARING

Washington, D. C., April 15.—(AP)—A senate committee will take up the public utilities control legislation tomorrow where a house committee left off today, setting out on a two weeks' hearing schedule.

The time, Chairman Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] of the senate interstate commerce committee, allotted is only a fraction of the two months of hearings held by the corresponding house committee.

STOCK OWNERS OF DAWES' BANK DENY LIABILITY

Ask Court to Dismiss RFC Collection Suit.

Motions to dismiss the Reconstruction Finance corporation's suit pending in federal court to collect $14,000,000 in stock liability from the 4,300 shareholders in the old Central Republic Bank and Trust company were filed yesterday by a number of law firms representing various defendants. It was the final day for filing of such motions, and hearings will begin April 30 before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

In all, it is estimated at least 100 Chicago law firms are taking part in the defense. About 20 of the principal ones filed practically identical motions yesterday. The list included Winston, Strawn, and Shaw, who represent Dawes Brothers, Inc., and the two firms representing large defense commitees, Sims and Stransky, and Seyfarth and Leonard.

Grounds For Dismissing Suit.

Approximately 1,200 stockholders, two-thirds of them owners of less than 30 shares, are members of the committee represented by Sims and Stransky. Attorney T. I. McKnight, in presenting the motion for dismissing the case against this group, made four principal points which carry through most of the bills.

Holders of less than 30 shares of $100 par stock are not within the jurisdiction of the federal courts, it is argued, because the alleged individual liability is less than $3,000. It also is contended that the few who owned shares on July 11, 1933, one of the dates mentioned in the RFC bill of complaint, but who were not stockholders at the time of the 90 million dollar loan, should not be parties to the suit. The third argument, made in behalf of all other stockholders, challenges the jurisdiction of the federal court as a court of equity.

Object to Joint Suit.

This argument asserts action against 4,300 stockholders cannot be joined in a single suit, that each is a separate case, and that if any suit can be brought it should be in a court of law.

And even if the federal court of equity might conceivably have jurisdiction, the motions add, it is the duty of that court to relinquish the case to state courts where there is complete machinery for handling the matter there. Reference to the United States Supreme court is made in defense of this contention.

The RFC has filed two suits in Circuit court, identical with the federal court action, and members of the legal fraternity are of the general opinion that the case eventually will be tried under one of these.

ALL LIVE STOCK POINTS LOWER ON LARGER RUN

Heavier receipts and the influence of Holy week drove practically all live stock prices to lower levels yesterday, notwithstanding the much colder weather which was a help to wholesale meat markets.

This week is always a poor one for the sale of live stock and meats, but the sudden cold spell injected life into meat markets at steady to higher prices at most of the distributing points. Beef at the leading markets sold steady to 50 cents higher than at the close of last week, and some of the cheaper cuts were up $1.50 to $2 over the previous Monday's quotations. Pork brought steady to $1 higher prices. Lamb and mutton sold steady to 50 cents higher.

Hog prices slumped 10 to 25 cents to the lowest levels in two weeks. The average price for the session at $11.15, tax included, showed a loss of 10 cents. This figure equaled the lowest average in almost four weeks.

Trade in live cattle of almost all kinds was dull, with prices steady to 25 cents lower than at the close of last week. There were instances of $1 decline in the light steers and yearling stock compared with the high levels established in these kinds early last week. Highly finished beef steers were scarce, and none here was comparable to the $15 kinds of last week. The best available averaged 1,237 pounds and sold at $14.50, with the bulk at $8.50 to $13.

The heaviest Monday run of lambs since March forced a break of 25 to 50 cents in prices, with the close lowest in ten days. Packers obtained the bulk at $8 to $8.25.

BUTTER FUTURES DECLINE; EGGS UNCHANGED TO LOWER

Liberal profit taking developed in the April butter delivery on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday and the close was ¾ cent lower at 29¾ cents per pound. November butter was off ¼ cent. A decline of 2 to 2½ cents in the spot market in New York had some effect, although there was no change in prices locally.

Trade in eggs was less active than of late with futures closing unchanged to ¼ cent per dozen lower. The into storage movement at the four leading points of accumulation was 17,000 cases less than a year ago.

Potato futures were unsettled, the Idaho contract being 1 cent lower and round whites 1 cent per 100 pounds higher. Buyers were reported as refusing to pay the prices asked for Idaho potatoes on team track. Sales of butter futures aggregated 33 cars; eggs, 38 cars, and potatoes, 18 cars. Prices follow:

NARROW RANGE IN COTTON PRICES; CLOSE IRREGULAR

The cotton market fluctuated in an erratic manner yesterday with a somewhat weakened technical position disclosed when commission house longs started to sell. Prices, however, held within relatively narrow limits with the close in Chicago 4 points higher to 5 points lower, while other markets were 6 points lower to 3 points higher.

Cotton acreage for this year's crop, according to a private report, was estimated at 32,287,000 acres, compared with 28,412,000 acres last year. Spot cotton closed 5 points lower to 5 points higher, with New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 12.10 cents and New York 12 cents per pound. Prices follow:

LARD DROPS ON EASINESS IN HOG AND CORN PRICES

Decline in hogs and easiness in corn brought in scattered commission house selling of lard futures yesterday, and the latter closed 12½ to 20 cents lower. Aggregate trade was not large. Bellies were nominally unchanged. Local lard stocks decreased 1,300,000 pounds during the first half of the current month and are 55,000,000 pounds, compared with 116,800,000 pounds a year ago. Stocks of all bellies aggregate 6,400,000 pounds, an increase of 125,000 pounds during the last two weeks and compare with 16,800,000 pounds last year. Cash lard closed at $12.87; loose, $12.95; leaf, $13 and bellies at $16.50 per 100 pounds. Prices follow:

Note—Above prices include processing tax of 2.47c per pound on lard and 2.62c per pound on bellies processed since March, 1934. This tax is rebated on products exported, but varies according to the amount due to the fact that the tax was gradually advanced.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—Unfinished cottons were active today and print cloths advanced ⅛ of a cent to a basis of 6¼ cents per yd for 38½ inch 64x60s. Bag sheetings were in better demand. Finished goods markets were firmer and more active. Men's wear for fall in fancy weaves continued to sell moderately. Rayon yarns were quiet with the exception of a moderate demand for 75s and 125s in acetate yarns for taffetas.

HIDE FUTURES.

Reports were current in the hide trade yesterday that Europe was attempting to buy hides in South America and found offerings light. Tanners in this country were said to be after additional supplies, while packers were trying to secure higher prices. Profit taking developed in futures in New York and the close was 7@9 points lower with sales of 118 lots or 4,720,000 lbs. Closing bids in cents per pound: June, 10c; September, 10.30c; December, 10.65c; March, 10.93c.

DUN-BRADSTREET RETRACTS 'ROSY' VIEW OF FUTURE

Decides Evidence Doesn't Presage Big Boom.

New York, April 15.—(AP)—Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., in a statement issued today over the signature of A. D. Whiteside, president, characterized as "inadvertent and unauthorized" the highly optimistic business forecast which appeared in its weekly trade review last Friday. While Whiteside's statement did not specifically name the subject matter which the firm wished to retract, it was assumed that he was referring to the following paragraph in the review:

"During the week there was a complete transformation of sentiment, as the hopes for a rather far removed improvement were replaced by a realization that the immediate future is to bring the sharpest rise that has been witnessed in business in the last quarter of a century."

In his correction Whitehead said: "No significant information justified the inadvertent and unauthorized departure from our policy of not making predictions as to the future business trend which was evidenced in our 'weekly review of business' released under date of April 12, 1935."

INDUSTRY MORE ACTIVE.

Industrial activity during the first quarter of 1935 assumed the quickest pace for many divisions in any comparative period since 1930, although the upward trend slackened during a part of March because of the retarding influence of political uncertainties, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., announced yesterday.

"It is significant that in the opening quarter of 1935, definite progress was maintained, whereas in recent years this period was marked by irregularity or uninterrupted recession," the report states. "For the abruptness of the rise and the extent of the gain a new high was set for some divisions."

DEPOSITORS OF OUTLYING BANKS LOSE ON APPEAL

The Appellate court upheld yesterday the dismissal by demurrer of suits in the Superior court against several loop banks. Depositors of two closed outlying banks had brought the suits on the ground that the defendant banks' officials and misrepresented the condition of the outlying banks before they closed.

The Appellate court ruled that the defendant bankers were "victims of circumstances," and were justified in their efforts to maintain the credit of ailing banks.

One of the suits was against the Central Republic Trust company, the National Bank of the Republic, and the National Republic Bancorporation. Depositors of the Madison Square bank, which closed on June 14, 1932, charged that officers of the defendant banks should be held liable for misrepresentations as to the closed bank's stability.

The other suit was brought by depositors in the Reliance Bank and Trust company, which closed on June 18, 1932, against the First National bank. It alleged literature issued by the defendant bank was used to induce depositors to pay money into the weak institution.

Du Pont Quarter Income Put at 85 Cents a Share

Wilmington, Del., April 15.—(AP)—E. I. Dupont de Nemours and company today reported preliminary calculations show earnings of 85 cents a share on the common stock for the quarter ending March 31, 1935.

THE TRUTH ABOUT Ruinous False Money Practices!

THIS NEW BOOK HAS STIRRED UP MORE ARGUMENT . . . MORE THINKING . . . AND MORE ACTION THAN ANY OTHER BOOK PUBLISHED SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE DEPRESSION

Business and financial leaders . . the THINKING men, the INFORMED men, who have read other books about money with varying degrees of hope and of disappointment . . . have acclaimed "Money Creators" with unbounded enthusiasm, and are urging that it be read by EVERY thinking man and woman.

Its Facts Are Dynamite!

"Money Creators" calls a financial spade a financial spade. It tells the whole truth about money in clear, understandable language that doesn't leave a single fact unnamed. Ripping away the deliberate curtains of "mystery" by which significant and appalling truths have been obscured, "Money Creators" shows the CAUSE . . . the EFFECT . . . the CURE, of our national, community, and personal difficulties!

There are facts in "Money Creators" that you THOUGHT you'd had the truth about from your history books. But you'll find out differently. You will learn what REALLY caused the disastrous shrinkage in land and securities values . . . and you won't like it! Most important of all, you will learn what YOU can do to prevent further miscarriage of personal rights . . . and to restore those already taken from you.

DIAMOND MATCH PRESIDENT PAID $100,000 YEARLY

SEC Discloses Salaries and Stock Holdings.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—[Special.]—Compensation of $100,000 was paid last year by the Diamond Match company to its president, W. A. Fairburn, under a 10 year contract ending Jan. 1, 1940, the company's registration report to the SEC revealed today. A contract with H. F. Holman, vice president and treasurer, provided a $20,000 salary in 1934. T. J. Reynolds, vice president, was listed as receiving $30,000 compensation.

Another large oil concern declined to make public the compensation or share holdings of officers and directors. In behalf of the Standard Oil Company of California W. H. Berg, vice president, stated that this information was being forwarded separately to Chairman Kennedy of the SEC.

Withheld Salary Figures.

Two subsidiaries, the Pacific Public Service company and the Coast Counties Gas and Electric company, took similar action, but the more important share holdings were revealed under the section requiring names of persons owning more than 10 per cent of any class of stock.

The number of statements filed today, though larger than for the last several days, was still far under the volume expected.

Share holdings of officers and directors were given as follows: A. D. Bevan, 5,000 preferred, 4,500 common; B. Chandler Snead, 500 preferred, 1,200 common; W. A. Fairburn, 1,500 common; T. J. Reynolds, 1,000 preferred, 3,100 common; H. F. Holman, 500 preferred, 2,000 common; C. K. Light, vice president, 705 preferred, 564 common; H. G. Lucas, secretary, 600 preferred, 100 common; W. W. Howe, auditor, 900 common; R. Schumacher, assistant secretary, 200 preferred.

Pacific Public Service.

The Pacific Public Service report disclosed that Standard Oil of California as of March 15 owned 270,000 second preferred, 180,000 voting common, and 39,056 nonvoting common. The Bush Street Investment company of San Francisco held 102,024 first preferred and 2,655 nonvoting common.

The Great Western Sugar company paid its chairman, W. L. Petrikin, $55,000 and its president, W. D. Lippitt, $53,363. Frank A. Kemp, vice president, received $14,304. Share holdings included: Charles Boettcher, vice president, 100 preferred, 1,092 common; M. W. Gano, 230 preferred and 6,000 common; Horace Havemeyer, 652 preferred, 71,645 common; Gerald Hughes, 5,000 common; Frank A. Kemp, 10 preferred, 100 common; W. D. Lippitt, 1 preferred, 6,660 common; R. K. Marsh, 3,800 common; John W. Morey, 4,500 common; W. L. Petrickin, 4,980 common; Fred H. Roberts, 849 preferred, 3,000 common. The estate of H. O. Havemeyer was the holder of 349,091 common shares.

Other Reports Revealed.

Other reports included:

Lerner Stores corporation—Salaries: Joseph J. Lerner, president, $45,000; Michael Lerner, vice president, $45,000; Harold M. Lane, vice president, $31,500. Shareholdings: Samuel A. Lerner, chairman, 30,505 shares; Michael Lerner, 30,795; Joseph J. Lerner, 40,000; Harold M. Lane, 20,350.

Uhlen & Co.—Salaries: Thomas S. Shepperd, president, $25,000. Shareholdings: American International corporation, 11,200 shares preferred and 62,600 common; Stone & Webster Engineering corporation, 4,480 preferred and 38,249 common; George E. Baumeister, vice president, 49 preferred; Mark A. Cassidy, assistant secretary, 13 preferred; Thomas F. Devaney, secretary, 115 preferred; Angus McDonnell, 3,500 common; Thomas S. Shepperd, 126 preferred.

Miscellaneous.

There's an old story—

that many a man who could make $3,500 a year or more never gets into that class because he has an inferiority complex. In other words, he's scared out.

There's a good moral to that story. And here's a case in point. I have an opening right now for two good men in electrical unit business with unlimited opportunity. But I can't afford to offer these places to any fellow who would be scared to death if he found he was making a percentage rate of $3,500 a year.

The money is here to be made. Others are making it. If you feel that your ability is below average or that you'll always be in the rut of low-bracket earnings, save your time.

If, on the other hand, you wouldn't mind stepping into the real money class, I'll be glad to give you an interview. 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

MEN

I could never begin to put in writing the real meaning of this opportunity. It is difficult to write an ad that will attract the attention of good men, due to the fact that so many advertisements appear in the paper.

Our business is wonderful and is getting better every day. We are very optimistic and enthusiastic about the outcome of 1935. Our men are happy in their work—MAKING FROM $35 to $200 PER WEEK. I could list 50 names, but it woud only take up a lot of space.

It doesn't matter what line of work you have been following. If you are out of a job here is a lifetime opportunity that I will prove to you pays more money than any other proposition in the country.

We are merchandising an electrical unit and pay dealer commission and bonus.

MARINELLO
—THE WORLD'S LARGEST—INTERNATIONALLY ESTABLISHED
SYSTEM OF BEAUTY CULTURE.
108 N State-st. State 5057.

SINCE 1893

Women have been learning Beauty Culture at Moler's—

Because—
It is the original—the first institution of its kind in the world.

Because—
Its schooling duplicates shop work serving the public rather than student practice work on each other

Because—
All Moler Teachers are specially trained—no inexperienced operators pressed into service.

Because—
Their 3 kinds of teaching qualify for 3 kinds of positions.

Because—
Students from out of city can earn their living if desired.

Because—
Moler's class A schooling at half rate saves $100.00.

Open day and evening. Call, write or phone.

BURNHAM

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher. 64 years' knowing how to teach gives you a flying start.

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL AT BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.

Wonderful opportunity for those who enroll now. Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduating. You can take advantage of many money-saving offers. Our advice to every girl who wants to take up beauty culture is to visit Burnham's NOW. Call, phone, or write for Free Beauty Book T. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings.

USED AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

EXPERIENCED BUYERS KNOW

DODGE SEDAN. 1933 DE LUXE. Extras galore. The finish has not a mar on it. Expensive broadcloth upholstery. The tires are excellent. Go over the motor with a fine tooth comb and you'll agree that it's the last word. See this Dodge—drive it—and then compare it with anything else in Chicago. Our price today is cut to only $495.

OLDSMOBILE COUPE. NEWEST 1934. One of the handsomest cars you ever saw! Many extras. Has low slung lines and a world of power and pep. Was owned by a wealthy North Shore family who gave it the best of care. Specially priced today at $685.

BUICK SPORT COUPE. 1933. YOU WILL have to look far and wide to find a car anywhere in town to equal this one. It's the last word for smart appearance and sparkling performance. Rumble seat. $675.

GRAHAM SPT. COUPE. '33. IN STORAGE for almost 6 months. We checked it over carefully in our shop; now recommend it as an outstanding automobile. It's top notch throughout. Rumble seat. Special at $585.

STUDEBAKER DE LUXE BROUGHAM. '34. Really has every modern improvement—free wheeling, safety glass, etc. Finish has not a mar on it. Expensive upholstery. Tires appear unused. Motor was driven just enough to be properly broken in. Has full Studebaker guarantee. Priced at only $595.

CHRYSLER COUPE. LATE 1934 DE LUXE. It's a real beauty. It has the appearance and performance of an auto fresh from the factory. Rum. seat. Our price is just $685.

AUBURN SEDAN. LATE DE LUXE 1930 with side mounts and every conceivable extra. Examine this Auburn from bumper to bumper and you'll agree that it still possesses all the original newness. Today, $195.

CHEVROLET SPORT COUPE. LATE '33 model. Finish is bright and shiny. The upholstery is luxurious. The motor is the last word. Rumble seat. Special today, $395.

HUDSON SEDAN. 1931. YOU'LL FIND this car a very economical purchase. In the first place—it's in dandy condition today. Second—it gives a lot of miles per gallon of gas. And thirdly—it's priced special at $295.

Mayor Kelly Inaugurated for Another Term—Discloses Action Toward Launching Work Relief Projects in City

TWELVE HUNDRED PERSONS CROWD COUNCIL CHAMBERS IN CITY HALL TO SEE MAYOR KELLY'S INAUGURAL; HE PLEDGES FIGHT FOR GOAL OF WORK AND WAGES FOR ALL, WITH CHANCE TO EARN DECENT LIVING. Scene at last night's inaugural. The mayor, in his address, revealed that federal officials have been given a list of improvements costing $700,000,000 from which to choose the projects financed in Chicago from the five billion dollar work relief fund. He made it plain that the final decision on these works ventures rests with officials in Washington, D. C., and not with the city administration. The mayor's program contemplates the building of sewers, filtration plants, a maternity hospital for poor mothers, street resurfacing, grade crossing elimination, airport improvements and other projects, he announced. None of the projects, he declared, would invade the realm of private affairs. [Burke & Koretke Photo.] (Story on page 1.)
